INTRODUCTION.

THE following précis of official correspondence relating to the establishment of a Museum at Lucknow and its conversion into a provincial institution is published as an introduction to the Minutes of the Managing Committee :—

The want of a public Museum having been much felt in Oudh, a province which had in other respects taken the lead in the civilization of North-Western India, Colonel Abbott, then Commissioner of the Lucknow Division (June, 1832), solicited the aid of Government in establishing a Museum at Lucknow, proposing to locate the institution in the Lál Baradari building under the superintendence of an efficient Curator on Rs. 500 a month, with a subordinate establishment, the cost of which was estimated at Rs. 200 a month.

The proposal was not sanctioned by the Government of India on financial grounds.

In March of the following year, 1863, Colonel Abbott again made a strong representation on the subject to the Chief Commissioner.

The Chief Commissioner, while acknowledging the benefits that would be derived by establishing a Central Museum at Lucknow and placing it under the superintendence of Dr. Bonavia, whose scientific attainments duly qualified him for the charge, did not sanction the use of the Lál Baradari building for a Museum, but added that he would make over the large Baradari, which was formerly used as a jail, provided that arrangements were made to remove the Police Hospital, which then occupied the latter building, to some other place.

The large Baradari was inspected by the Commissioner and Dr. Bonavia and was found unsuitable for a Museum. Accordingly, it was suggested that the institution could not be better located than in the Tara Kothi, which was used as an observatory during the Native Government.

The use of the Tara Kothi for the Museum was sanctioned by the Chief Commissioner (13th June, 1863).

In July, 1863, the Commissioner suggested the constitution of an organized body for the conduct of affairs of the Museum, and a committee composed of the following gentlemen was formed with the approval of the Chief Commissioner:—

E. G. Fraser, Esq.
 W. Handford, Esq.
 Dr. Skelton.
 Charles Currie, Esq.
 Colonel Barrow, C.B.
 Nawáb Mohsan-ud-daula.
 Babu Dakkhina Ranjan Mukerji Bahádur.
 Maharája Mán Sinha Bahádur, Kaim-i-Jang.
 Dr. Bonavia, M.D.

There appears a break in the correspondence at this stage of the proceedings; but it is clear that a Museum was opened in the Chatr Manzil building and the management of the institution was entrusted to Dr. Bonavia.

By some mistake the Tara Kothi was leased to the Bank of Bengal, and it was in December, 1863, that the Commissioner again took up the question of a suitable building for the Museum and insisted on its being located in the Lál Baradari.

In December, 1864, Dr. Bonavia submitted a report on the condition of the Museum as it then stood, from which it appears that the institution was maintained by a municipal grant of Rs. 100 per mensem, and that it had created much interest among the native population of the province.

Colonel Barrow forwarded Dr. Bonavia's report to Government, recommending that the monthly allowance be raised to Rs. 200.

As the three years' lease on which the Bank of Bengal held the Tara Kothi had half expired about the end of March, 1865, and the authorities of the Bank were anxious to know if a fresh lease would be granted them after the expiry of that period, the Commissioner proposed to inform them that the building was required for other public purposes, i.e., for the Museum as was arranged before.

Commissioner's proposal was approved by the Chief Commissioner, and the Secretary, Bank of Bengal, was informed accordingly.

In March, 1867, Sir John (then Mr.) Strachey, Chief Commissioner of Oudh, intimated his desire to convert the Lál Baradari (which was then used as the Municipal Engineer's Workshops) into a Museum and requested the Commissioner of Lucknow to draw up a design and an estimate for carrying out the scheme, adding that the cost of the work should fall on the Local Funds, and not on the Municipal Board of Lucknow.

The Municipal Engineer of Lucknow was requested, through the Deputy Commissioner, to prepare an estimate for the above project.

From a printed memorandum by the Chief Commissioner, dated 25th March, 1867, it appears that Dr. Bonavia, on his services as Assistant Civil Surgeon of Lucknow having been dispensed with by Government, was appointed, in 1867, Superintendent of the then newly created Department of Science in Oudh, which included among its functions the supervision of the Museum, the Observatory and the Agri-Horticultural Gardens of Lucknow, on a total monthly salary of Rs. 900, of which Rs. 300 was to be paid by the Municipality of Lucknow for his services as Health Officer of the station.

An estimate of Rs. 10,035 for adapting the Lál Baradari into a Museum was sanctioned by the Chief Commissioner, and the institution was subsequently removed to that building.

At the instance of Colonel Barrow, Commissioner, of Lucknow, a sub-committee, composed of the following gentlemen, was formed to discuss matters relating to the improvement of the Museum :—

Inspector-General Innes, C.B., President.

Major Chamberlain.

Dr. E. Bonavia.

As the funds of the institution were very limited, the sub-committee unanimously agreed to ask the Local Government to place at their disposal such sums as they considered necessary for the collection and preservation of the exhibits and suggested that the district officers in Oudh be requested to send contributions to the Museum from their respective districts.

The attention of the Deputy Commissioners was directed to the necessity of lending their support to the Museum, and they were requested to send specimens of coins which might be received in the Government treasuries, their bullion value being in all cases paid by Government.

After this (April, 1868) there is no correspondence to show to what extent funds were allotted by Government for expenditure on the Museum, or when the latter was removed from the Lal Baradari.

In September, 1877, or a few months after the amalgamation, Dr. Bonavia expressed a wish to resign his appointment, and the Local Government asked the Commissioner's opinion as to the best way of conducting the duties hitherto performed by that officer.

The Commissioner forwarded the Local Government's letter to Dr. Bonavia, who suggested that some officer of the Educational Department should be placed in charge of the Museum, and named Mr. Pirie as one qualified for the appointment.

Mr. Pirie was recommended to Government for the Curatorship.

The Local Government remarked that, although Mr. Pirie was duly qualified for the Curatorship, his connection with the Canning College was, in their opinion, likely to prevent his exercising a close supervision over the subordinate establishment, and they therefore recommended Mr. Thorpe, late Superintendent of the Oudh Secretariat, for the proposed appointment.

The appointment was accordingly offered to Mr. Thorpe, who accepted it.

On Dr. Bonavia's recommendation one clerk on Rs. 25 per month was allowed to the Museum.

Mr. Thorpe submitted his resignation on the 30th August, 1878, and recommended Mr. Joyce for his place.

Mr. Thorpe's resignation was accepted, and Mr. Joyce was appointed to the charge of the Museum (September, 1878).

In January, 1883, Mr. Benett, then Director of the Department of Agriculture and Commerce of these provinces, in consultation with Colonel Forbes, Commissioner of Lucknow, drew up a scheme for the better management of the Lucknow Museum, which was then in a declining state. The project was based on a detailed report by Colonel Pitcher on the condition of the institution, from which the following facts came to light :—

- (1) The income of the institution amounted to a little over Rs. 2,500, which was derived from the following sources :—

			Rs.	a.	p.
From the Local Rates Fund	1,500	0	0
From the Nazúl Fuud	1,900	0	0
From sale of surplus specimens	50	0	0
Total	2,550	0	0

- (2) It was located in an incommensurate building in the vicinity of the Lál Baradari, in which there was not sufficient room for the exhibits in the different sections.
- (3) It included nearly all the departments which it now represents.
- (4) A lump sum of Rs. 1,000 was provided in the budget of the Agricultural Department for expenditure on the Museum.

Mr. Benett proposed—

- (1) That an administrative body be formed to conduct its affairs.
- (2) That half the number of members should be Europeans and half natives, and that they should be so selected that every class of the community might be represented on the Committee, viz., the Municipal Board, the Oudh Aristocracy and the Rifa-i-um Association, Lucknow.
- (3) That the number of members be limited to a few with a view to efficiency in the management.
- (4) That District Officers in Oudh be invited to make contributions to the funds of the Museum.

The Commissioner forwarded Mr. Benett's letter (No. 5G., dated 5th January, 1883) to the Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow for his opinion.

Colonel Hastings, then Deputy Commissioner, Lucknow, made the following suggestions:—

I. That the proposed committee should consist of—

- | | | |
|---|---|--------------------|
| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> (1) The Commissioner of Lucknow. (2) The Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow. (3) The Assistant Director, Department of Agriculture and Commerce. (4) A non-official Member of the European community. (5) A native Member of the District Local Committee. (6) A native Member of the Municipal Committee. (7) A representative of the British Indian Association, and (8) A representative of the Rifa-i-um. | } | Ex officio. |

The President having the casting vote.

II. That after the constitution of the Committee a statement should be made out, showing the requirements of the institution, and that at the same time the co-operation of the Municipal and District Boards in Oudh be invited, as on the assurance of support from the districts the Managing Committee would be in a position to address Government for such support as it should require from Provincial Funds.

III. That an appeal be also made to the native gentry of the Province for pecuniary aid.

IV. That the Managing Committee should have complete control over the funds of the institution subject only to the control of the Director of the Agricultural Department.

Extracts from Mr. Benett's letter of 5th January, 1883, were also forwarded to the other district officers in Oudh, but, with the exception of one district (Hardoi), no support in the shape of pecuniary contribution was promised by any of the districts in the province.

In a letter dated 3rd February, 1883, Colonel Forbes forwarded Colonel Hastings' proposals to the Director of Agriculture, expressing his concurrence on nearly all the points set forth by Mr. Benett, and requested that officer to address Government with a view to an early constitution of the Committee, by whom details regarding accommodation, management, &c., could be settled in due course. The only alteration which the Commissioner suggested in the Deputy Commissioner's proposals was that he proposed one of the trustees of Husainabad in place of a native Member of the Local Board.

In reply to Mr. Benett's letter (No. 333A., dated 20th February, 1883), with which the above proposals were submitted to Government, the Local Government remarked that a representative committee was not so much required as one composed of members who had practical knowledge of the subjects to be dealt with and who had experience in the work of organizing a Museum. Having this object in view, and on the recommendation of the Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow, Government nominated the following gentlemen as Members of the Managing Committee :—

Mr. A. H. Pirie of the Canning College, Botanical Section, including Agriculture and Forest produce.

Mr. H. B. Hederstedt, Chief Engineer, Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway, Science generally.

Dr. J. C. Whishaw, Civil Surgeon, Zoology.

Mr. George Reid, Railway Department, Ornithology.

Mr. A. Constable, Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway, Antiquities.

Mr. Pirie working also as Managing Secretary.

The Director of Agriculture was at the same time requested to aid the Committee, should they consent to act, in every possible way.

The Director forwarded the Local Government's letter to the Commissioner, requesting that officer to ascertain from the gentlemen named whether they would consent to act on the Committee.

All the gentlemen agreed to act on the Managing Committee, and the Director was informed accordingly.

The first work which the newly constituted Committee, had before them was to find a suitable building for the Museum. In due course they inspected all the buildings reported as available for the purpose, but found none suitable for a Museum. They therefore came to the conclusion that either some additions be made to the existing building at an estimated cost of Rs. 50,000, or a new building be erected at a probable cost of Rs. 1,50,000.

Towards the end of September, 1883, the Managing Committee solicited information as to the extent to which they could exercise control over the Museum establishment and the means to be placed at their disposal for the reorganization of the institution.

The above reference was forwarded to the Director of Agriculture, who was requested to obtain the orders of Government on the points raised by the Managing Committee.

In reply, the Director of Agriculture remarked that, from previous correspondence on the subject of reorganization, he understood that it was the Managing Committee who, when constituted, were to draw up a scheme for the management of the Museum, and he therefore suggested that they should be invited to submit definite proposals on such principles as might commend themselves to the Committee, with an estimate of the sums which, in their opinion, it was desirable that Government should allot to render such proposals efficient.

The Director further returned the budget estimates which had been forwarded to him on the 16th August, 1883, with a view to their being revised by the Managing Committee.

Accordingly the Committee were requested to submit, with the budget, a definite scheme for the future management of the Museum and an estimate of what the annual expenditure would be after the existing wants in accommodation, furniture, &c, had been supplied.

Owing to Mr. Pirie's absence in the hills and owing to the absence of some of the other Members during the cold season, action was delayed on the Commissioner's letter forwarding the Director's suggestions, and it was not till February 14th of the following year that the Committee were able to submit—

- I. A scheme for the future management of the Museum.
- II. A code of rules.
- III. An estimate of the annual grant requisite to maintain the Museum, and
- IV. Proposals to locate the Museum in the Lál Baradari.

The Commissioner forwarded to the Director the revised budget and the draft rules &c., expressing his full concurrence therein.

In April, 1884, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner, in a visit to Lucknow, met the Members of the Museum Committee, and on the 18th of the same month the Secretary to Government conveyed His Honor's approval of the Committee's proposal to locate the Museum in the Lál Baradari, with the remark that the work of selecting and rejecting specimens from the old collections be undertaken without delay.

By another Government order bearing the same date the Commissioner of Lucknow was appointed ex officio President of the Museum Committee.

From a letter dated 7th July, 1884, from the Secretary, Managing Committee, to the address of the Commissioner, it appears that the work of removing the Museum to the Lál Baradari was completed by the end of June, 1884.

On the 21st of April, 1884, Mr. Benett forwarded the Committee's scheme for the management of the Provincial Museum with the budget estimate of expenditure for 1884-85, and on 2nd July,

1884, in a letter * addressed to the Director of the Agricultural Department, the Local Government reviewed the whole proceedings in the following words :—

“ 2. * * * The original proceedings, which commenced with your No. 369G., dated 11th July, 1882, contemplated an extension of the Museum as it then existed and the transfer of its control to your Department. During the course of the enquiries which were instituted with a view of maturing and formulating this proposal, the attention of the Government of India was called to the expediency of forming permanent collections of native artware and manufactures, and its views were communicated to this Government in Resolution No. 239 of the Proceedings in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, which was entrusted to you for enquiry and report. The final scheme of the Supreme Government is embodied in Resolution No. 1 Ex. of 3rd January, 1884. It recommends the formation of a Provincial Museum for the reception of a typical collection illustrating the arts and manufactures of the province. It was decided by the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner that the Provincial Museum for the North-Western Provinces and Oudh should be located at Lucknow, and you were requested to submit detailed and complete proposals. This you have now done in consultation with the Committee, which had been appointed to reorganize the Museum already existing at Lucknow. It will thus be seen that the Provincial Museum to be maintained in accordance with the scheme approved by the Government of India absorbs and replaces the old institution, an arrangement which cannot but be mutually advantageous to both. * * * It should be clearly understood that the Museum as now reconstituted will primarily be the Provincial Museum organized and maintained, as far as may be, on the lines laid down in the Proceedings of the Art Committee held in December, 1883, and designed to accomplish the objects and supply the wants therein expressed. This need not, however, interfere with the maintenance of those other sections which do not come directly within the scope of the scheme promulgated by the

* G. O. No. $\frac{454}{1-2000}$, dated 2nd July, 1884.

Government of India. But in distributing between the different sections the funds now placed at their disposal, the Committee should bear in mind the primary object of Government in enlarging and supporting the Museum.

“3. The modifications now made in the original plan undoubtedly render it necessary to reorganize the Committee on a wider basis, and the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner accepts the present proposal to nominate additional Members and appoint Corresponding Secretaries.

* * * * *

“6. * * * The Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner recognises the necessity of appointing a competent Curator until such time at least as the Museum has been brought into thorough order and the exhibits weeded, re-arranged, and classified.”

The budget estimates of expenditure for the year 1884-85 amounted to Rs. 13,000. As a portion of the year for which they were framed had already passed (July, 1884), Government passed the estimates at Rs. 8,200 and added that the Committee were at liberty to bring to their credit and spend at their discretion any sum which they might derive from private sources.

At a meeting of the Managing Committee held on the 21st July, 1884, which was honored by his presence, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner expressed a further opinion that it would be for the best interests of the Museum to secure the permanent services of an efficient Curator. Accordingly, at a subsequent meeting held on the 26th of the same month it was resolved to suggest to Government that Colonel Pitcher, who was fully aware of the Committee's requirements, be authorized to secure during his leave to Europe the services of an experienced Curator for the Provincial Museum.

On 26th September, 1884, Government notified the appointment of the undermentioned gentlemen as Corresponding Secretaries to the Committee of Management of the Provincial Museum :—

Mr. W. Hoey, Kirwi, B'uda.

Colonel C. F. Sharpe, District Superintendent of Police, Sitapur.

Mr. J. T. Dutlie, Superintendent, Botanical Gardens, Saharanpur.

Mr. W. R. Fisher, Forest School, Dehra.

Munshi Sheo Narain, Secretary, Municipal Board, Agra.

In another communication bearing the same date the appointment of the following gentlemen as Additional Members was announced :—

Mr. G. E. Ward, Commissioner, Jhānsi Division.

Lieutenant-Colonel C. J. Garstin, Senior Assistant Commissioner, Garhwāl.

Mr. R. G. Griffiths, Director of Public Instruction, North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

Mr. F. S. Growse, Magistrate and Collector, Bulandshahr.

Rāja Shiva Parshād, C.S.I.

Raja Jagat Sinha of Tajpur (since dead).

Rāja Uday Partab Sinha of Bhinga.

Thākūr Biswanāth Bakhsh (since dead).

Rāna Shankar Bakhsh, C.I.E., Talukdār of Khajurgaon, district Rae Bareilly.

Seth Lachman Das, Muttra.

Hon'ble Syed Ahmad Khan, C.S.I., Aligarh.

Kuar Lutf Ali Khan, Rais of Talibnagar, Aligarh.

Syed Farid-ud-din, Cawnpore.

To the above list were subsequently added the names of the following gentlemen as ordinary Members, and in March, 1885, the appointments were duly notified in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh Gazette, bearing date the 5th March, 1885 :—

Kunwar Harnam Singh, C.I.E., of Kapurthala.

Kunwar Partāb Narain Singh of Mahdeoona.

General Douglas, B.A.

Mr. A. O. Hume, C.B.

Mr. J. H. Rivett-Carnac, C.S., C.I.E.

The correspondence regarding the reorganization of the Museum thus came to a close.

1. The Committee of the Lucknow Museum held their fourth meeting at 7 o'clock A.M.

PRESENT :

DR. WHISHAW, President.

MR. HEDERSTEDT.

MR. REID.

MR. PIRIE, Secretary.

2. Letter No. 4230, dated 16th October from the Commissioner, Lucknow Division, enclosing letter No. 1068G, dated 10th

October, 1883, from the Director of Agriculture and Commerce, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, was read, and in accordance with the instructions therein conveyed, the budget for the year 1884-85 was discussed with the following results:—

3. Establishment proposed—

	Rs.
1 Superintendent, @ Rs. 50 per mensem	600
1 Clerk and Supervisor, @ Rs. 50 per mensem	600
4 Taxidermists, 1 @ Rs. 15 and 3 @ Rs. 10 each per mensem...	540
3 Shikáris, @ Rs. 8 each per mensem... ..	288
1 Carpenter, @ Rs. 10 per mensem	120
8 Peons, 1 @ Rs. 6 and 7 @ Rs. 5 each per mensem	492
2 Sweepers, @ Rs. 5 each per mensem	120
Total	2,760

The additional taxidermists and shikáris are required as the Natural History and Ornithological Departments are in a very defective state.

The additional peons are required as the present establishment is not sufficient to carry on the work. The additional sweeper is necessary, as the present individual has more work than he can manage, and the Museum must be kept clean.

4. For the purchase of specimens, Rs. 5,000.

A large grant for this purpose is necessary for the first year.

5. Materials for preserving and setting up specimens, Rs. 500.

The increase will be necessary in consequence of the increased establishment of taxidermists and the addition of shikaris to the Museum.

6. Purchase of books for Museum Library, Rs. 300.

This is not a large allowance considering the expense of the class of books required to form a good scientific library.

7. New glass cases for specimens, Rs. 3,000.

The cases at present in the Museum are not at all what they should be either in style or workmanship. It is proposed to replace them gradually with entirely new cases which might be constructed in the Railway Workshops.

8. Contingencies, including freight and carriage of articles, Rs. 1,440.

As the work of reorganization will entail a number of charges that cannot be precisely specified, a large contingent allowance will be required.

9. The proposed budget summed up is as follows :—

	Rs.
1. Establishment	2,760
2. Purchase of specimens, models, &c....	5,000
3. Materials for preserving specimens ..	500
4. Purchase of books for library	300
5. New glass cases	3,000
6. Contingencies	1,440
Total	13,000

10. After a careful examination of the building the Committee were unanimously of opinion that either the present building should be improved and extended or that a new building should be constructed. To carry out the alterations requisite in the present building the amount of Rs. 50,000 would probably be required. To construct a new building suitable to the requirements of such a Museum as Lucknow will one day possess, an expenditure of about Rs. 1,50,000 would be necessary.

Secretary.

No. V.

14TH FEBRUARY, 1884.

The Committee of the Lucknow Museum held their fifth meeting on Thursday morning, the 14th February, 1884, at 7-30 A.M.

PRESENT :

DR. CAMERON, Civil Surgeon, Officiating President.

MR. GEORGE REID.

MR. A. H. PIRIE, Secretary.

1. The minutes of last meeting having been read and approved, the Committee took into consideration letter No. 4692, dated 16th November, 1883, from the Commissioner, Lucknow Division.

2. The Committee propose the following scheme for the future management and development of the Museum:—

I.—The Museum shall consist of the following departments:—

- A.* Natural History, except Birds.
- B.* Ornithology.
- C.* Physical Science generally.
- D.* Economic.
- E.* Archæology.

II.—Each department shall be managed by a member of the Committee, who will be responsible for its efficiency and development.

III.—The scope of the departments will be as follows:—

A. and B. The Natural History Departments shall aim at representing as fully as possible the fauna of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, while prominent types peculiar to other provinces will, if possible, be secured by exchange. As the present specimens under this head are by no means perfect, the services of shikaris and taxidermists are urgently required for this department.

C. The Physical Science Department will aim to supplement local experience by securing specimens of the more important modern scientific improvements and appliances. For this department instructive models will have to be purchased gradually as the funds of the Museum permit.

D. The Economic Section will aim at representing as fully as possible the useful vegetable products of India, such as grains, timbers, fibres, dyes, tans, mordants, drugs, and the like. It is believed that a full collection of these can be secured at a moderate outlay by correspondence with the Government officers in charge of districts. In this Department also will be included models illustrating improvements connected with agriculture that may be locally instructive.

E. The Archæological Section will comprise specimens illustrating the history of the past, such as coins, metal inscription plates, characteristic sculpture or pottery, ancient arms and armour and the like.

IV.—As regards the business management the following rules shall be observed:—

(i) The Superintendent of the Museum shall make all disbursements under the orders of the President of Committee who shall sign all cheques.

(ii) All new purchases over Rs. 50 must receive the previous sanction of the Committee.

(iii) Any urgent purchase under Rs. 50 may be made in any department on the recommendation or indent of the member in charge of that department.

(iv) It shall be the duty of each member to prepare a descriptive catalogue of the Department under his charge, and to submit to the Committee for consideration a list of the requirements of that Department.

V.—The Secretary shall write an annual report.

3. The following Rules were approved of by the Committee:—

I.—Rules relating to the Managing Committee.

(i) An ordinary meeting of the Committee shall be held on the last Friday of every month; but a special meeting may be called at any time by the President to decide urgent business. All meetings shall be convened by circular specifying the hour, date, and place of meeting, and signed by the Secretary.

(ii) The order of business at ordinary meetings shall be as follows:—

(a) The minutes of the preceding meeting shall be read, and, when approved, signed by the President.

(b) The accounts of the previous month shall be submitted by the Superintendent, and, when passed, signed by the President.

(c) A report for the previous month shall be submitted by the Superintendent showing: (1) the additions made to the Museum during the month, (2) the work done by the technical Museum servants (taxidermists, shikaris, and carpenter), (3) the attendance of visitors during the month, and (4) any recommendations for the consideration of the Committee.

(d) Letters and communications received by the Secretary shall be read and considered.

(e) Miscellaneous business.

(iii) The books to be kept by the Secretary shall be—

(a) A Minute Book containing the Laws and Regulations and minutes of proceedings.

(b) An official Letter Book containing copies of all official communications (to be written by the Museum clerk).

(iv) The following books shall be kept by the Museum Superintendent and shall be submitted to the Committee when called for :—

(a) Catalogues of all specimens in the Museum.

(b) Records of all additions to the collection, showing the name of donor or seller, date of the transaction, and cost of the specimen.

(c) Records of all specimens exchanged, sold, or removed with particulars as in (b).

(d) An Account Book or Ledger showing the details of each item of receipt and expenditure.

(v) The Committee shall decide generally what portion of the services of the Museum employés are to be devoted to each department ; but the Secretary shall have power to call for such particular service as may be urgently required.

(vi) No specimen shall be removed from the Museum except with the consent of either the Secretary or the member in charge of the Department.

II.—Rules relating to the Museum employés, visitors, &c.

(i) The Superintendent shall attend on week days from 6 to 10 A.M. in the hot weather, and from 11 A.M. to 3 P.M. during the remainder of the year.

The clerk shall attend daily from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M.

All other servants of the Museum shall obey the Superintendent's orders regarding their hours of attendance.

(ii) The Superintendent may grant casual leave not exceeding 4 days to any subordinate, but further leave must receive the sanction of the Committee.

(iii) The Superintendent shall have power to suspend any subordinate guilty of carelessness, neglect, or injuring the Museum property, reporting each case at the next meeting of the Committee for final orders.

(iv) The Museum shall be open free to the public from sunrise to sunset on all days of the week throughout the year.

(v) No smoking or pán-chewing can be permitted in the Museum.

Special arrangements for the admission of zenanas may be made by the Superintendent.

A record of the number of visitors each day shall be kept.

(vi) The keys of all cases containing specimens shall be kept by the Superintendent, who shall be responsible for their safe custody.

4. RESOLVED—That as regards the annual grant which will be needed to maintain the Museum after its defects have been rectified, while it is impossible to state this with perfect accuracy, the following may be accepted as an approximation to the budget for the second year, i.e., 1885-86 :—

			Rs.
I.	Establishment	...	2,760
II.	Purchase of specimens	...	1,200
III.	Materials for preserving specimens	...	300
IV.	Purchase of books	...	300
V.	New cases	...	500
VI.	Contingencies	...	240
Total			5,300

This estimate is on the supposition that the unexpended portion (if any) of the annual grant does not lapse.

5. RESOLVED—That each member prepare a general report of the present condition of his Department as early as possible.

6. The Committee after inspecting the Building known as the Lal Baradari came to the unanimous conclusion that it is admirably adapted for the purposes of a Museum, while its situation adjacent to the Courts and other Government offices is well calculated to attract visitors.

N.-W.P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

No. ^{7920.P.}_{VI-33}, dated Cawnpore, the 17th June, 1885.

From—D. M. SMEATON, Esq., C.S., *Dir., Dept. of Agriculture and Commerce,
N.-W. P. and Oudh,*

To—The Chief Secretary to Government, N.-W. P. and Oudh.

SIR,—I have much pleasure in submitting for the consideration of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner the report (in original) of progress and working of the Museum of the United Provinces during the year 1884-85.

The Museum is in Lucknow and is managed by a Committee, of which the Commissioner of Lucknow is ex-officio President. This is the first year of the independent existence of the Museum as a provincial institution, and the report now submitted is the first under the new régime.

The report was received in my office on the 19th May, but I wished to meet the Committee and go over the Museum myself before submitting the report. This I have now done.

2. The Committee of Management was first appointed in July, 1883. In June, 1884, the Museum was transferred to the Lal Baradari. The Committee was strengthened by the addition of a number of gentlemen, both European and Native, as ordinary members and of four gentlemen as corresponding Secretaries, and it was decided that the Museum should henceforth represent the United Provinces.

3. The Museum is divided into six sections as follows :—

- (i) Natural History (general).
- (ii) Ornithology (special).
- (iii) Physical Science.
- (iv) Arts.
- (v) Archæology.
- (vi) Economic Products.

The Committee divide the labour of management among themselves, each member undertaking the general control of a separate section.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

4. In para. 4 of the report a description is given of the measures taken to furnish the Museum with a typical collection of the artware of the United Provinces. I concur in thinking that the art specimens now on view in the Museum leave something to be desired. They are not of that uniformly high excellence which they ought to be. An attempt is now being made to secure, by the offer of prizes, the very best art work which the Provinces can produce for the London Exhibition, and the opportunity will be taken to select really worthy specimens for the Museum. If His Honor approves it might be well, as suggested by the Deputy Commissioner, Lucknow, to invite all the competing artists of the Provinces to send their work in November next to Lucknow, where the Judging Committee might be assembled to make the awards. At the same time a small exhibition of all the competing art-wares might be held under the auspices of the Managing Committee of the Museum, who would at the same time also make their selection.

5. The Archæological Section has been well managed. A really valuable collection has been secured. The lower chambers of the Museum have been opened out and cleared and floored and lighted from the roof: and the archæological specimens have been carefully arranged, so as to show to the best advantage—Jain, Buddhist, and Brahmanical being arranged in separate apartments. Great pains have been taken by Dr. Führer, and really the Archæological Section, instead of being, as it so often is, gloomy and unattractive, is quite an attractive and most instructive part of the Museum.

6. The Ornithological Section gives every promise of being a success: and too much importance cannot be attached to it. The people who flock in crowds to the Museum are greatly drawn to the birds. It is quite amusing to watch the interest with which the visitors of all ages and both sexes regard the stuffed birds. The new cases are now being gradually filled with really excellent specimens. Mr. Reid is devoting himself to this part of the work with his wonted zeal.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

7. The Economic Section is only as yet partly organized. The timbers of the Provinces are well represented : and with one or two other acquisitions which have been suggested will leave nothing to be desired. The implement branch has yet to be put upon a proper footing, and means are now being taken for this end. The locality for the models has been determined and such models as there are have been placed in position in the upper verandah, the originals being arranged in the central low chambers.

8. The Farhat Baksh building has not yet been given over to the Museum. The arrangement of the sections in the Lal Baradari cannot be completed until the Economic exhibits can be transferred to the Farhat Baksh, setting free a lot of accommodation which is to be placed in the Farhat Baksh there. The herbarium, which is to be placed in the Farhat Baksh, is being prepared by the Superintendent of the Saháranpur Botanical Gardens (Mr. Duthie), and will, I hope, be on view before the commencement of the cold weather.

9. It is most encouraging to learn how numerous the visitors to the Museum have been during the year ; nearly nine hundred thousand people visited it. This is quite a remarkable circumstance, and proves how important it is that no means should be left untried to make the institution an easy and pleasant means of public instruction.

10. Dr. Führer assumed the duties of Curator in February, and has laboured incessantly ever since. He has shown much energy and bids fair to make the Museum the success which it deserves to be. Mr. Pirie, the Honorary Secretary, Mr. Reid, and Mr. Constable have all taken an especial interest in the institution, and given much time and trouble to it.

11. The Committee and the Curator agree with me in thinking that the Art, Natural History and Economic Sections in particular should be gradually enlarged to admit of the exhibition of specimens from other parts of India and of the world. A beginning has already been made in the Ornithological branch, and it is proposed to extend it as soon as possible to the Economic and Art Sections. The Museum is likely to become more useful as a means of instruction by the exhibition in it of the products and industries of other countries side by side with those of the Provinces. A widening of the scope of the Museum of this kind means more funds, and I trust that His Honor will not think any claims for small additional funds, which may be made, unreasonable. None will be made unless a really good case can be made out. The Municipalities of the United Provinces have been solicited to subscribe small sums monthly, and to nominate representatives for appointment as ordinary members of the Committee. I shall again address His Honor on receipt of their replies

REPORT OF THE MANAGING COMMITTEE
OF
THE LUCKNOW PROVINCIAL MUSEUM,
FOR THE YEAR 1884-85.

No. 126.

DATED LUCKNOW, THE 18TH MAY, 1885.

From—The President, Provincial Museum Committee, Lucknow, To—The Director, Dept. of Agri. and Comce., N.-W. P. and Oudh.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the following report on the Provincial Museum, Lucknow, for the year 1884-85.

1. As this is the first report for which the present Committee of Management are directly responsible, it is considered advisable to prefix a brief record of the action of the Committee previous to the commencement of the official year.

In July, 1883, sanction was given to the formation of a Committee of Management for the Lucknow Museum, composed as follows :—

Dr. Whishaw, Civil Surgeon, President.

A. H. Pirie, Esq, Canning College, Managing Secretary.

H. B. Hederstedt, Esq., Chief Engineer, Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway.

A. Constable, Esq., Resident Engineer, Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway.

Geo. Reid, Esq., Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway.

Of the above, Dr. Whishaw and Mr. Constable were away from Lucknow on leave. Dr. Cameron acted as President during the absence of Dr. Whishaw. Mr. Constable did not return to Lucknow till the beginning of 1885. After careful enquiry into the state of the Museum, the Committee came to the conclusion that, in the first place, better accommodation was required either by altering the building in which it was then located or by securing a more suitable building, and in the second place, a more liberal grant would be necessary to place the exhibits in the Museum on a respectable scale. The Committee visited the barracks in the Machhi Bhawan, and found that they did not afford suitable accommodation. They then inspected the building known as the Lal Baradari, and recommended the removal of the Museum into this edifice as being better adapted both by position and accommodation. They also proposed a budget allotment, amounting in all to Rs. 13,000, for the purpose of re-organizing the Museum. They suggested that there should be five departments, viz., Natural History generally, Ornithology, Physical Science generally, Archæology and Economic Products, and that each member of the Committee should have charge of one of these Departments. At the same time they drew up a set of rules for the conduct of the Museum. Up to April, 1884, therefore, the work of the Committee was merely suggestive. The appointment of the Commissioner of Lucknow as ex-officio President at the commencement of the official year gave them control over the establishment, and thus enabled the practical work of re-organization to be initiated.

2. The Lal Baradari having been granted to the Museum, the work of removal began on the 28th of May. A considerable accumulation of useless exhibits was disposed of by auction sale. In accordance with the suggestion of Government, a new section to contain a typical collection of the artware of the North Western Provinces and Oudh was constituted. The designation of the Museum was changed by Government, it being no longer a local but a Provincial institution. The Commissioner of Lucknow was appointed ex-officio President of the Managing Committee, and the following ordinary members were added to the list:—

W. C. Benett, Esq., C.S., Officiating Secretary, Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces.

G. E. Ward, Esq., C.S., Officiating Commissioner, Jhānsi.

3. His Honor Sir Alfred C. Lyall, K.C.B., Lieutenant-Governor, North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh, visited the Museum on the 21st of July and intimated to the Committee of Management that an allotment, amounting in all to Rs. 8,200, had been sanctioned for the Provincial Museum for what then remained of the year 1884-85. The Government letter* notifying the sanction of this budget allotment states that "the primary object of Government in enlarging and supporting this Museum is the formation of a typical collection, illustrating the arts and manufactures of the province." At the same time His Honor intimated that steps were being taken to procure the services of a competent Curator for the Museum.

On the 13th of November His Honor again visited the Museum, and decided that the west wing of the Farhat Baksh should be granted as additional accommodation to the Museum.

4. Provincial Arts and Manufactures Department.—In accordance with the advice of Major Pitcher, advances, amounting in all to nearly Rs. 1,700, were sent to 24 District Officers, with directions as to the specimens of Native Art and Manufacture required for exhibition. A small collection of articles returned from the Calcutta Exhibition was presented to the Provincial Museum by the Local Government. The result of these is that the following classes of Native Art and Manufactures are now represented in the Museum :—

- (1) Cloths—cotton, from Meerut, Rae Bareli, Sitapur, Bara Banki, Rampur State, Jhánsi, Farukhabad, Jaffarganj (Fatehpur), Jahangirabad (Bulandshahr).
- (2) Cloths—mushin, from Azamgarh, Rae Bareli, Sikandarabad (Bulandshahr), Chanderi (Lalitpur), Tanda (Fyzabad).
- (3) Cloths—sil^k, from Azamgarh, Agra, Chanderi (Lalitpur).

* No. ⁶⁸³₁₋₂₉₉₋₅, dated 2nd July, 1884.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

- (4) Rugs and carpets, from the Central Prison, Lucknow, and Jewar (Bulandshahr).
- (5) Kamkhwabs, from Benares.
- (6) Laces, from Agra and Fyzabad.
- (7) Carved wood, from Bulandshahr, Saháranpur, and Nagina (Bijuor).
- (8) Lacquered wood work, from Bareilly and Fatehpur.
- (9) Wood inlaid with brass wire (Tarkashi), from Pilibhít and Mainpuri.
- (10) Papier maché work, from Jaunpur, Mandawar (Bijnor), and Jánsath (Muzaffarnagar).
- (11) Pottery, from Khurja (Bulandshahr), Azamgarh, Bara Banki, Utraula (Gonda), Amroha (Moradabad).
- (12) Brass ware, from Maraura (Lalitpur), Bandhua (Sultánpur), Benares, Hamírpur, Jhánsi.
- (13) Ornamental metalware from Moradabad.
- (14) Basket work, Utraula (Gonda),
- (15) Stone ware, Bánda.

There have also been paid for, but not yet received, specimens of the different classes of Lucknow work and of Benares metal ware. The Committee, while deeply indebted to the District Officers for their help in procuring these specimens, are not convinced that the best work in all cases has been procured. They will await with considerable expectancy the result of the experiment instituted by the Director of Agriculture and Commerce of offering substantial prizes for the best specimens of work in each class. The exhibits specially noteworthy in this department are the silks and satins of Azamgarh, the Kamkhwabs of Benares, the silks and gold lace of Agra, the papier maché of Mandawar and Jaunpur, the muslins of Azamgarh, Chanderi, and Tánda, the metal ware of Moradabad, and especially the beautiful specimen of inlaid and carved wood from Bulandshahr. The Committee are also indebted to the late Superintendent of the Lucknow Central Prison for a very complete collection of the carpets and durries manufactured there.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

5. Archæology.—During the year the Archæological Department of the Museum has been enriched by the addition of four important collections of relics. First, from Agra was received a large number of sculptures, chiefly Jain and Buddhistic, with four inscriptions of the 12th century, A.D. Secondly, the archæological collection in the Allahabad Public Library was placed at the disposal of the Provincial Museum, and most of the sculptures have been removed to Lucknow. Thirdly, by the munificence of the Mahārāni of Balrampur a sum of Rs 5,000 was granted for the purpose of making excavations at Sahet Mahet, the ancient Srāvasti. These excavations were superintended by W. Hoey, Esq., C.S., and the result is a valuable collection of Jain and Brahmanic sculptures, Buddhistic relics, and articles illustrating ancient civilization. Lastly, a number of very interesting relics have been collected for the Museum by Babu Purna Chandra Mukarji in Bundelkhand. A detailed list of the archæological specimens added to the Museum will be forwarded as soon as the Curator has completed the task of classification and arrangement. One silver coin was presented to the Museum by the Collector of Farukhabad, and two silver coins by the Secretary to the Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh. Six old plans of the well known public buildings in Agra were presented by the Municipal Board of that city.

6. Ornithology.—The state of this department in the Lucknow Museum was very unsatisfactory. The specimens were, as a rule, badly mounted, and most of them were crumbling to decay. The cases were of many styles, each one more contemptible than another. As this is, perhaps, the most attractive department to the general public, the Committee decided that the first allotment for new cases should be entirely devoted towards placing the collection of birds on a respectable footing. Sixteen new cases have accordingly been constructed in the Railway Workshops under the superintendence of Mr. Hederstedt, and have been set up round the four pillars on the south side of the central hall. Mr. Reid has been busy all through the year collecting new specimens and seeing them mounted in a style likely to do credit to the Provincial

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

Museum. Mr. Reid has recently presented to the Museum his own very valuable collection of birds, forming an almost complete representation of the Avifauna of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. Mr. Reid's public spirited liberality and zeal enables the Committee to promise a complete renovation of the Ornithological Department. An agreement has also been entered upon with Mr. W. Davison (formerly Curator of Mr. A. O. Hume's Museum) to supply a collection of the birds of Southern India. Mr. E. Oates, of British Burma, has expressed himself most willing to further the prosperity of the Museum, and has commenced to do so by presenting the Museum with a small collection of Burmese birds—50 specimens.

7. Economic Section.—It is proposed to locate the Economic Section of the Museum in the east wing of the Farhat Baksh. Acting upon His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor's instructions, Mr. Duthie, Superintendent of the Botanical Gardens, Sahāranpur, has twice visited the Museum, and given valuable advice regarding the organization of this section. It is intended to contain a select herbarium of the economic plants of the Province, together with collections illustrating the useful products of these plants, viz., timbers, fibres, seeds, oils, drugs, dyes and the like. An excellent set of clay models of the principal vegetables has already been received from Mr. Duthie.

8. Miscellaneous Section.—Additions have been made to the Geological Section of the Museum. From Mr. Duthie was received a valuable collection of fossils, illustrating the Palæontology of the Siwalik Range. A collection of minerals has also arrived from the same source. Owing to want of available space, these have not yet been arranged, but that work will be commenced as soon as the Farhat Baksh can be occupied.

9. Library.—Three contributions of books have been received from the Public Works Secretariat,—one from the Irrigation Branch, a second from the Buildings and Roads Branch, and the third from the Superintending Engineer; 41 books and pamphlets were received from the Government, North-Western Provinces and

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

Oudh ; 11 volumes were presented to the Museum by J. F. Duthie, Esq. Rs. 268 has been sent to England for the purchase of books not yet received.

10. Buildings.—The ground-floor of the Lal Baradari has been considerably altered and improved, thereby affording a very sensible increase to the accommodation of the Museum. The floors have been tiled and the walls whitewashed. By opening out the arches and substituting glass doors, and by cutting skylights in the floor of the upper rooms, sufficient light has been admitted to make the rooms suitable for the reception of heavy and massive exhibits. The wood flooring in the upper storey has been repaired and strengthened. All this work has been done under the superintendence of the Secretary of the Nazul Committee.

11. Curator.—The necessity of securing the services of a competent Curator for the Museum was early recognized. Dr. E. Hultsch of Vienna gave some assistance in designating the Agra Archæological specimens. In February Dr. A. Führer, of Würzburg University, was appointed Curator, and he joined his appointment towards the close of the official year. The Committee believe that in Dr. Führer's hands the work of perfecting the Museum will make rapid progress.

12. Visitors.—The Museum was closed to the public from the 28th May to the 30th June, except for one day, owing to the removal from its old location to the Lal Baradari. The total number of visitors during the year ending March 31st was 8,90,653, of whom all but 1,947 were natives. This is an increase of 2,57,047 over the numbers for the previous year, although it was only open for eleven months. On the only open day in June (the 23rd, a Hindu holiday) 42,735 persons visited the Museum, of whom 17,801 were women or girls. The Lal Baradari is evidently a more popular location than the former building.

13. Finances.—The total receipts for the year amounted to Rs. 8,246-12-0 and the expenditure to Rs. 8,236-7-6, leaving an unexpended balance of Rs. 10-4-6.

The chief items of expenditure are Rs. 2,219-2-0 for the purchase of specimens and Rs. 2,030-8-6 for the purchase of new cases. The sum of Rs. 657-1-6 was spent on the transit of sculptures from Agra, Allahabad, and Sahet Mahet.

14. Establishment.—The Superintendent (now called the Assistant Curator) had a great deal of extra work owing to the removal of the Museum. He also went to Allahabad and superintended the packing and despatch of the Archæological collection there. The head clerk has worked with much zeal and intelligence all through the year : he has been a great assistance to the Managing Secretary, who has the highest opinion of the value of his services. The peons and chaprasis require re-organization. It is to be hoped the new uniforms sanctioned in the budget will contribute some respectability to their appearance. The whole of the Museum property is safe and in good condition.

No. $\frac{1173}{1-299}$, dated Naini Tal, the 6th July, 1885.

*From—The Chief Secy. to Govt., N.-W. P. and Oudh (Rev. Dept.),
To—The Director of Agri. and Commerce, N.-W. P. and Oudh.*

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your No. $\frac{792-0 P.}{VI-33}$, dated 17th June, 1885, with which you submit the report on the progress and working of the Provincial Museum at Lucknow during 1884-85.

2. This is the first annual report which has been submitted by the Committee since the Museum was reconstituted on its present basis. Up to the commencement of the period now under consideration, it had been a local institution of limited scope and no very special attractions. Under the orders of the 2nd July, 1884, it has been re-organized as the Provincial Museum for the reception of typical collections, designed to illustrate the arts, manufactures, products, natural history, and archaeology of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. It has for this purpose been placed under the management of a representative Committee, with members and corresponding secretaries in different parts of the Provinces; and a liberal provision has been made from provincial and nazul funds to meet the expenses of the undertaking. A suitable location for the Museum has been assigned in the Lal Baradari and the Farhat Baksh buildings. The former of these is already occupied by the Committee, and steps will be taken to prevent any further delay in preparing the latter for the reception of exhibits.

3. A portion of the year under report had elapsed before the work of reorganizing and rearranging the Museum in its new form could be commenced in earnest, but the progress made must be pronounced highly satisfactory. The selection and classification of existing exhibits and the collection of new specimens have made very marked advancement, and the popularity and attractiveness of the Museum are sufficiently proved by the very large increase in the number of visitors. Notwithstanding the interruption caused by the transfer from the old building to the premises now occupied, the Museum was visited during the year by nearly 900,000 persons.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

4. You propose that the competition for prizes offered in order to secure exhibits of the first quality for the London Exhibition should be held at Lucknow under the auspices of the Museum Committee, and you suggest that the Committee might take the opportunity of selecting for the Museum good specimens of art ware, in which the present collections are deficient. The suggestion commends itself to the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner as a good and practical one, and you are requested to take steps in consultation with the Committee for carrying it into effect. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that your appeal to Municipalities for assistance will meet with a liberal response.

5. The Committee are to be congratulated on having secured so efficient a Curator as Dr. Führer, who commenced his labours towards the close of the year, and has already made much progress with the Archæological Section. But the brunt of the work throughout the year has fallen on the Managing Committee, which includes Surgeon-Major Whishaw, Mr. A. H. Pirie, Mr. H. B. Hederstedt, Mr. A. Constable and Mr. G. Reid. Mr. Pirie has acted with much zeal and assiduity as Honorary Secretary, and Mr. G. Reid, besides the personal labour he has devoted to the Ornithological Section, has enriched it by liberal donations from his own collections. The commendable assistance rendered by Mr. Duthie is also recognized in the report. Sir Alfred Lyall desires to add that he takes great interest in the progress and development of the institution, and will always be ready to afford it aid and support.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

J. R. REID,

Chief Secy. to Govt., N.-W. P. and Oudh.

4. The Officiating Secretary reported that he had made considerable progress towards organizing a regular and systematic series of forms and reports, based to some extent upon those in use at the Indian Museum, Calcutta, for the Provincial Museum and Library, and stated that he hoped to be able to submit them complete for the approval of the Committee at an early date.

CURATOR'S REPORT FOR APRIL, 1885.

1. I have the honor to report that during the past month 155 Natural History specimens have been added to the Museum. Of these the majority (106) were presented by G. Reid, Esq., of Lucknow, 48 by E. W. Oates, Esq., of Tharrawady, British Burma, and one by J. Nicholls, Esq., C.S., of Benares. (Appendix A.)

2. Thirteen specimens have been prepared and placed in the Museum and 20 are in the course of preparation. (Appendix B.)

3. The total number of visitors during the month was 59,172, of whom 34,023 were native men, 25,024 native women, 79 European men, and 46 European women. The days of the greatest attendance were the 17th (2,739) and the 20th (2,807). The daily average number of visitors was 1,972. (Appendix C.)

4. Two hundred and eleven volumes or parts of volumes have been added to the Library during the month, all having been presented by the Public Works Department, North-Western Provinces and Oudh. (Appendix D.)

5. The work done by the carpenters and taxidermists is detailed in Appendix E.

6. The Buddhist collection of the Archaeological Department has been arranged, labelled, and classified by the Curator during the past month.

7. In order to make the various collections of the different departments intelligible to the very large number of native visitors who visit monthly the Museum, I would recommend that each specimen should have its native name affixed to it in addition to its scientific and English one. The Hindi names given in Devanagari characters will be intelligible to the Hindus generally, and those given in Urdu, written in Persian characters, will meet the requirements of the Muhammadan population from all parts of India. I would also recommend to give the Sanskrit names in cases where there are no Hindi equivalents.

MINUTES OF THE MANAGING COMMITTEE
OF
THE N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM, LUCKNOW,
FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

No. 3.

THE 26TH JUNE, 1885.

PRESENT:

J. QUINN, Esq., B.C.S., Chairman.

DR. WHISHAW, Member.

DR. FÜHRER, Curator.

A. CONSTABLE, Esq., Offg. Secretary and Member.

1. The minutes of the last meeting, having been read and confirmed, were signed by the Chairman.

2. Read letter No.151Ex, dated Cawnpore, 2nd June, 1885, from the Director of Agriculture and Commerce, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, forwarding a copy of a circular (1Ex. of 5th May, 1885,) inviting the co-operation of District Officers in securing the best specimens of art-wares required for the London Exhibition of 1886, by a system of competition among art-workmen, in their respective districts, and enquiring if the Museum Committee would assist by nominating one European and one Native of their number to become members of the Committee, who will decide on the merits of the competing workmen.

The Officiating Secretary reported that the above letter and its enclosures had been circulated, that General C. Douglas, R.A., and Kunwar Harnam Singh, C.I.E, had been chosen to represent the Museum Committee, and that the Director of Agriculture and Commerce had been duly informed of the fact.

3. The Curator's report for May was then read.

4. The Officiating Secretary reported that, with reference to Resolution 6 of the meeting of 24th April last, Rāja Amir Hasan Khan had sent in the copper-plate grant to the Museum, and that it was now being deciphered by Dr. Führer, who, as a preliminary result of his investigation, stated that it is a land grant to a Brahmin, Báláditya, by one of the Kanauj Kings, Goviuda Chandra Deva, dated Samvat 1180 (A. D. 1122).

The Museum already possesses two grants of the same King, but the one now received is more valuable, as it gives the ancestry of the monarch in greater detail.

The inscription will be deciphered in full in due course and published in such manner as may hereafter be decided upon.

5. Mr. Quinn stated that the Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow was about to propose to Government that an Art Exhibition, consisting of Provincial exhibits for the London Exhibition of 1886, be held in Lucknow during the ensuing cold season.

RESOLVED that the members of the Museum Committee be invited to do all in their power to assist the Deputy Commissioner in the matter.

Mr. Constable stated that he had written, on the 25th instant, for further details, and had received in reply, a letter from the Booksellers, dated Bombay, 28th instant, from which he gathered that the set in question consisted of Volumes I to XXIV, 1832-55 ; that they were complete, in clean condition, and well bound. As the price was moderate and the Committee were anxious to possess a complete set of this work, indispensable for their Library, he strongly recommended that it be acquired.

RESOLVED that the purchase be sanctioned, and that Mr. Constable be authorized to telegraph to Messrs. Thacker and Co. at once, as they had other offers of purchase.

RESOLVED that, provided the cases be properly finished as regards varnish, putty, glass, &c., to the satisfaction of Mr. Hederstedt, the excess charge will be allowed.

Mr. Constable at the same time handed in a copy of Pandit Bhagvánlál Indrají's paper (Jour., Bombay Br. of the R. A. S., 1882) on the Sopará Buddhistic relics which, he believed, would assist in the examination, &c., of the relics now under notice. Mr. Constable further stated that he would at all times be happy to lend any of the books or papers from his private collection likely to be of use to the Museum Committee in any department, as it would probably be some time before the Anglo-Oriental Library of the Museum would be efficiently equipped in all its sections.

RESOLVED that the relics in question be handed over to Dr. Führer for report.

3. Read a letter from Roorkee, dated 20th August, 1885, from Colonel Brandreth relating to (1) a collection of ethnological casts, (2) a number of photographs of engineering works, and (3) a geological collection in 11 cases, which he offered to send to the Museum.

RESOLVED (1) that the Lucknow Municipality be asked to nominate a member of their body to serve on the Managing Committee ; (2) that the Secretaries of Municipalities which subscribe to the Museum funds shall be considered Corresponding Honorary Secretaries of the Museum, and that the Managing Committee will be always ready to receive and consider all communications made regarding the working of the Museum.

CURATOR'S REPORT FOR JULY, 1885.

1. Six Natural History specimens have been added to the collection (Appendix A), and of these two were donations and four were purchased at a total cost of seven annas. The miscellaneous specimens received during the month are a stone horse, a wing-shell, and a woollen rug. The details are given in Appendix A.

2. In Appendix B will be found a list of six specimens which have been prepared by the taxidermists and finally deposited in the Museum.

3. The total number of visitors to the Museum during the month amounted to 30,966 (Appendix C), giving a daily average of 998.

4. The number of works added to the Library is shown in Appendix D. Three are donations and six have been purchased, the latter being principally numbers of periodicals. Of the 49 volumes offered by Bábu P. C. Mukerji (see report for June), five works have been selected for the Museum Library, viz., (a) Tour through Holland, by Sir John Carr, London, 1807 ; (b) Adventures during a Journey Overland to India, by Major Skinner, 2 Vols. London, 1836 ; (c) A Journey from Alleppo to Jerusalem at Easter, A.D. 1697, by H. Maundrell, Oxford, 1703 ; (d) Princips de la stratégie par le Prince Charles, traduit de l'Allemand par le General Jomini, 2 Vols., with maps, Bruxelles, 1811 ; (e) Napoleon's Wars, by General Jomini, atlas and descriptive text, 2 folios, Paris, 1823.

5. The work performed by the taxidermists and carpenters is shown in Appendix E.

6. Chaukidár Chheda died suddenly on the morning of the 1st July whilst on duty, whether of cholera or snake-bite could not be ascertained.

7. With the approval of the Committee I would recommend the appointment of a peon for the Archæological Department in the south wing of the Museum and of a chaukidár in the Farhat

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

Bakhsh, as the present staff of the Museum servants is quite insufficient for doing all the duties required.

8. The stone horse which has been brought from the jungle close to Khairigarh is, though of rude workmanship, a very interesting acquisition on account of the historical value of its inscription. The legend, written on the right side of the neck in Gupta characters of the fourth century, runs, as far as not defaced, thus :—"ddaguttassa deyyadhamma." Most probably the two syllables sa and mu are here missing, so that the complete legend would have been : "Samuddaguttassa deyyadhamma," which stands for Sanscrit: Samudraguptasya deyyadharmah, "a meritorious gift of Samudragupta." A close comparison of the horse on some coins of Samudragupta, with the Khairigarh one shows clearly that both are very similar in type and general outline. As Samudragupta calls himself on these coins As'vamedhasya Parākramah, "the hero of the horse sacrifice," it is clear that our horse is meant to be a substitute for a real, but costly, horse sacrifice. The ornamental decorations on its back correspond exactly to the rules of the Vedic ritual given in the Vājasaneyīsamhitā, chapter XXIII., 5-7. If the defaced portion has to be restored, samuddhaguttassa-samudraguptasya, the horse would date from the end of the fourth century, as Samudragupta's reign extended from 380—395 A.D.

3. Read letter from Mr. Wood-Mason, Curator, Indian Museum, Calcutta, giving instructions regarding the labelling of specimens and containing specimens of labels in use ; also recommending that the Curator of the Lucknow Museum should visit Calcutta for the purpose of obtaining a closer insight into their ways of working than could be conveyed by letter.

4. Read letter No. $\frac{4114}{X-661}$, from the Secretary to Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, stating that the disposal of the gold and silver coins found in the Partábgarh district had not yet been decided on, but that the claims of the Lucknow Museum would be duly considered before orders were passed.

ORDERED the letter to be recorded.

5. Read correspondence between the Director of Agriculture and Commerce and F. S. Growse, Esq., C.S, regarding the Indo-Scythian Capital now in the possession of Pandit Bhagvan Lal, Bombay. Mr. Growse's opinion is that it is not worth while for the Government of the North-Western Provinces to interfere.

RESOLVED that the matter be laid on the table for the present.

6. Read letter No. $\frac{E}{316}$, dated 21st September, 1885, from the Director of Agriculture and Commerce, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, urging the completion of the cases for the end pillars of the central hall, and enquiring what progress had been made in the matter of the over-bridge to connect the Lal Baradari with the Farhat Bakhsh.

It was reported that the cases in question were nearly ready, and that the matter of the over-bridge was in the hands of the Executive Engineer, Lucknow Division.

7. Read letter No. $\frac{E}{323}$, dated 22nd September, 1885, from the Director, Department of Agriculture and Commerce, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, forwarding a list of specimens of life-size figures of Indian race types and requesting the Committee to make a selection therefrom.

RESOLVED that the Committee approve of the size and construction of the case. There is room enough in the Museum for 200 such cases, but the Committee are not prepared to pay Rs. 2,000 for this collection this year. They will, however, include the amount in the forthcoming budget.

9. The Secretary reported the receipt of the following additions to the Museum funds :—

Rs. 200 donation from Tasadduq Hosein, Taluqdar of Jahán-girabad.

Rs. 150 subscription from Gorakhpur Municipality.

10. The Secretary read the report of the Sub-Committee appointed in Resolution 13 of the meeting of August 28th, recommending (1) the printing of the monthly Minutes and Report in English and Urdu ; (2) a method of procedure for the transaction of business ; and (3) the entertainment of Mr. A. C. Johnson, Accountant, to settle a form for book-keeping.

RESOLVED that the report be adopted and filed.

11. The Secretary read a letter from the Curator, notifying the fact that the file of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh Government Gazette Supplements had been stolen from the office, and also stating that the police when called in, made no attempt whatever to trace the stolen property.

RESOLVED ALSO that new cases be made, under the superintendence of Lieutenant-Colonel Pitcher, for the Art section after Mr. Hume's pattern, and that an expenditure up to Rs. 1,000 be sanctioned for this purpose.

13. Mr. Constable reported that he had carefully examined, by invitation of Dr. Whishaw, a collection of books belonging to the estate of the late Lieutenant-Colonel J. W. Willoughby Osborne, M.S.C., some time Political Resident at Gwalior, and that he had selected 10 separate books, in 15 volumes, which were well worth purchasing at the price asked for them, viz., Rs. 93.

RESOLVED that the books in question be purchased.

14. Mr. Constable reported that the restoration of the room in the Farhat Bakhsh had been completed, and he proposed to restore the room to the south in the same style.

RESOLVED that Mr. Constable be thanked for the care and labour he has devoted to the work of restoration, and that his proposal to finish the south room in the same style be agreed to.

15. Mr. Constable brought forward a list of books which he strongly recommended should be applied for immediately, as they were all works which sooner or later the Library must possess; the difficulty of obtaining such books was increasing year by year, and those in question were, though scarce and much sought after, obtainable at present at a fair price. He stated that he had made arrangements for the regular receipt of a good selection of booksellers' catalogues, so that all books required for the Museum Reference Library might be procured, if possible, on the most advantageous terms.

The Secretary reported that the Budget allowance for books had been spent, and some Rs. 1,200 besides out of the subscriptions received had been expended on the Library.

RESOLVED that Mr. Constable's memorandum be placed on official record. The Committee are of opinion that these books should be obtained, but regret that the funds at present available cannot meet the cost.

16. Mr. Constable proposed that the following gentlemen be invited to join the Committee as ordinary members, to assist in the work of arranging the Oriental Department of the Library :—

The Syad-ul-ulamah, Syad Muhammed Ibrahim, Mujtahid-ul-Ashr.

Pandit Gangadhar Shastri.

This proposal was agreed to.

17. The Curator's report was then read.

OF
THE N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM, LUCKNOW,
FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

No. 7.

THE 30TH OCTOBER, 1885,

PRESENT:

DR. J. WHISHAW, M.D.,	} Members.	RÍJA PARTAB NARAIN SINGH, Ordinary Member.
H. B. HEDERSTEDT, ESQ.,		LT.-COL. D. G. PITCHER, B.S.C., (by invitation).
A. CONSTABLE, ESQ.,		DR. A. FÜHRER, PH. D., Curator.
GEO. REID, ESQ.,		A. H. PIRIE, Secretary and Member.

1. On motion Dr. Whishaw took the chair.
2. The minutes of the last meeting were read, approved, and signed by the Chairman.
3. The Secretary reported that Dr. Führer had been appointed Assistant Archæological Surveyor, North-Western Provinces and Oudh and Central India Agency Circle, but that he would continue to act as Curator, in addition to his survey duties, until the termination of his three years' engagement with the Provincial Museum, and that the Museum would contribute Rs. 150 per mensem towards his salary. It therefore became a matter for consideration as to who should hold charge of the Museum during Dr. Führer's absence from Lucknow on tour. After discussion, the following resolutions were passed:—

RESOLUTION (1):—That the services of Mr. Joyce, the present Assistant Curator, be dispensed with from 1st November, 1885, and that he receive one month's salary in lieu of notice.

RESOLUTION (2):—That an endeavour be made to secure the services of an efficient Assistant Curator on a salary of Rs. 150 per mensem.

4. The Secretary reported that Messrs. Sykes and Co., Calcutta, offered to supply an iron safe for Rs. 1,250. It was

RESOLVED that, provided no safe could be procured locally at a reasonable figure, the receptacle in the wall be furnished with an iron door and patent lock, the Executive Engineer being asked to do the work.

5. RESOLUTION :—The Secretary was directed to write to Mr. Ridley, asking him to become a member of the Managing Committee in charge of the Economic Section, including Botany. Lieutenant-Colonel Pitcher stated that while his frequent absences from Lucknow prevented his accepting definite charge of any department, he would be always ready to assist in the Art section.

6. The Secretary reported a donation of Rs. 300 from the Rájá of Nanpara.

7. RESOLUTION :—The following Sub-Committee was appointed to frame the Budget Estimate for next year :—Lieutenant-Colonel Pitcher, Mr. Constable, the Curator, and the Secretary.

8. The question of servants' out-houses was taken up and it was

RESOLVED, that a strong representation be made to Government, urging the construction of a block of out-offices in the vicinity of the Museum.

9. Mr. Constable stated that during a recent visit to Benares he had, with the kind permission of Dr. Thibaut, examined the Arabic, Persian and Hindustani portion of the Benares College Library, and that he had found there a number of Persian and other manuscripts bearing the Library seals, in red, of H. M. Ghazi-ud-din Haidar and some of his successors. Dr. Thibaut had informed him that the works in question were of no use to the College, and that he believed there would be no difficulty in having them returned to Lucknow for the Provincial Museum Library, on a suitable formal representation being submitted. Mr. Constable proposed that these books and manuscripts be applied for, as a step towards the ultimate formation of as complete a collection as possible of the works belonging to the once famous Royal Library of Lucknow. He also trusted that the Museum might some day be permitted to contribute towards the printing of the remaining volumes (still in manuscript) of Dr. A. Sprenger's, Catalogue of the Royal Library in Lucknow, the first volume of which, containing a bibliography of the Persian and Hindustani poetry, had been printed at Calcutta in 1854.

RESOLVED that official application be made by the Secretary to Dr. Thibaut for the transfer to the Lucknow Provincial Museum Library of the books and manuscripts referred to in Mr. Constable's memorandum.

10. Mr. Constable reported that in 1878 he had found in the premises of Mr. C. A. Martin, Sculptor, Lucknow, a partly finished marble tablet in memory of the native officers and men of the late 13th N. I. (Garud-ka-Paltan) who had fallen during the siege, in defence of their post at the Baillie Guard Gate. The tablet had been ordered, some years previous, by Colonel R. H. M. Aitken, V.C., B.S.C., on behalf of himself and a few other surviving European officers of the regiment, but had not been completed when that officer left India, in 1873. Mr. Martin now placed the tablet in question, free of past cost, at the disposal of the Museum Committee, merely expressing a hope that the Memorial might be erected in the Baillie Guard Post of the Residency, in accordance with Colonel Aitken's original design. Mr. Constable proposed that, seeing this was the first memorial of the kind intended to mark the appreciation felt by British officers of the gallant conduct of their Indian fellow-soldiers during the ever-memorable siege, the tablet be finished at the expense of the Museum, and that application be made to Government for permission to erect, it in the place originally selected for it by Colonel Aitken.

RESOLVED that Mr. Constable's suggestion be approved of, and that Rs. 150 be sanctioned for the purpose of completing and erecting the memorial.

11. Mr. Constable proposed that application be made in the proper quarter for permission to call the north room and the small ante-room, on the first floor of the Farhat Bakhsh "The King's Library," in memory of Ghazi-ud-din Haidar, first King of Oudh, who had done so much for the encouragement of learning in India, and who was wont to entertain distinguished foreign guests in these very rooms. The work of restoring the rooms was now nearly finished, and it was intended for the reception of a choice collection of Oriental and other books, manuscripts, and such like records, of historical interest.

RESOLVED, after discussion, that permission be asked to name the two rooms and collection "King Ghazi-ud-din Haidar's Library."

12. The Committee considered a proposal of Mr. Constable to fill in the Tykhanas of the Farhat Bakhsh with earth, as the beams were in an unsound condition.

RESOLVED that Mr. Constable's proposal be agreed to, provided (1) an examination prove the work to be necessary, and (2) the sale of old material defray the cost.

13. Mr. Constable reported that the Guide to the Residency Model was out of print, and he proposed that as it was constantly being asked for, the Museum should bring out a new edition.

RESOLVED that 2,000 copies of the guide be printed out of Museum Funds and that they be sold at a proportionate cost, Mr. Constable agreeing to superintend the printing.

14. Mr. Reid and other members having reported that the servants were in the habit of accepting money gratuities from visitors, it was resolved as follows :—

RESOLUTION :—That any servant found accepting a gratuity be summarily dismissed by the Curator. The Secretary was directed to see that this resolution was duly notified to both visitors and servants.

15. The Secretary reported that Major-General Dillon, C.B., C.S.I., had been appointed an Ordinary Member of Committee.

16. On the proposal of Lieutenant-Colonel Pitcher, it was agreed to ask that Mr. Joseph Schuhmacher be appointed a Member of Committee, to have charge of the Geological section.

17. The Curator then read a report of his visit to the Indian Museum at Calcutta, and also his report for the month.

A. H. PIRIE,
Secretary.

J. QUINN,
President.

CURATOR'S REPORT FOR SEPTEMBER, 1885.

1. I HAVE the honor to report that during the past month 182 Natural History specimens have been added to the Museum. Of these 176 are birds of Southern India, purchased from Mr. W. Davidson of Ootacamund. (Appendix A.)

2. Seven specimens have been prepared and placed in the Museum. (Appendix B.)

3. The total number of visitors during the month was 18,376, of whom 10,841 were native men, 7,175 native women, 254 European men, and 106 European women; the daily average of visitors being 616. (Appendix C.)

4. Eighty additions have been made to the Library, of which 17 were presentations. (Appendix D.)

5. The work done by the taxidermists and carpenters is shown in Appendix E.

6. An interesting accession to the Ethnological Department of the Museum are 25 casts of different race types, presented by the Principal of the Thomason Civil Engineering College, Roorkee. Mr. A. Constable, tracing the history of these casts, reports as follows:—"The casts are part of a collection of 275 facial casts, and "38 casts of hands and feet, all from life, made by the Brothers "Schlagintweit and published in copper, in 1859, by J. A. Barth "of Leipzig, at Thalers 2,348, or £350-4-0, for the set, which was "dedicated by permission to Queen Victoria. The casts received "from Roorkee are, therefore, quite incomplete, and I observe that "several of them are more or less damaged."

7. In order to clear the ground-floor of the Museum, I would recommend the erecting of a thatched or tiled shed in the garden opposite the south-west of the Museum for sheltering the taxidermists, carpenters, and stores of the Museum

LT.-COL. D. G. PITCHER, B.S.C., Asst. Dir. of Agri. and Com. (by invitation).
G. D. GANGULI, Assistant Curator and Acting Secretary.

1. READ letter No. 14 Ex., dated 8th March, 1886, from the Director of Agriculture and Commerce, forwarding copy of G. O. No. 733—X-90, dated 15th February, 1886, passing the Museum Budget for 1886-87 for Rs. 18,000, and stating that an additional grant would be made during the year if the finances permit.

RESOLVED that the original estimates, amounting to Rs. 22,032, be re-cast accordingly, so as to bring the totals within the limit sanctioned by Government, the following alterations being made in the original estimates :—

- (a) Rs. 3,400, estimated for servants' quarters and macerating house, be now reduced to Rs. 1,000, with which sum only urgent works to be executed for the present.
- (b) Rs. 2,100, estimated under "Library," be reduced to Rs. 468, on the understanding that the amount (Rs. 900) estimated for "repairs to buildings" be hereafter made available for the Library, the work of repairs being arranged for with the Nazúl Committee.

2. Read again objection memo. from the Accountant-General, dated 21st December, 1886, enquiring why Rs. 1,200, which was estimated as receipts for the current year, had not been paid into the Treasury.

Reported that the sum of Rs. 1,200, contributed by the Municipality of Lucknow, and similar contributions by other municipalities of smaller amounts have been spent towards defraying the contingent expenses of the Museum, of which there is an account in the office.

RESOLVED that the payment of receipts required by the Accountant-General be made from the balance of the Provincial grant now available (Rs. 919-13-10) and by drawing the difference (Rs. 280-2-2) from the Donation Fund placed to the credit of the Museum in the Bank of the Bengal, which latter being recouped by the draught of an equal sum from the budget of the ensuing year.

3. Reported that there is a saving of Rs. 326-1-0 in the budget of the current year under the head of "Establishment," and that a further saving of Rs. 300 could be effected by causing portion of Dr. Führer's salary for October, November and December, 1886, to be debited to the Archaeological Survey Department under the arrangement made by the Government of India.

RESOLVED that an application be at once made to Government for re-appropriation of the savings from establishment, for expenditure before the year expires, and that in the event of Government sanctioning the re-appropriation, the contributions by other municipalities be paid into the Treasury from the Donation Fund.

4. RESOLVED also that another application be made to Government, asking for re-allotment of the miscellaneous receipts of the Museum, composed of the following items:—

				Rs. a. p.
(a) By sale of building materials, found in the Farhat
Bahksh building	261 8 9
(b) By sale of old and rejected exhibits	195 15 3
(c) Stuffing charges, &c.	13 15 0
Total	471 7 0

5. The Assistant Curator then laid before the Committee a rough account of the liabilities of the Museum, aggregating Rs. 2,509-4-7.

RESOLVED that the settlement of the outstanding accounts be deferred till April next, when a fresh allotment will be available to meet the liabilities ; and as certain items in the above account appeared too heavy, and for which no estimates had been previously furnished to the Committee, it was further resolved that, in future, no expenditure be incurred by any member of the Managing Committee without previously laying before the Committee an estimate of it, and also that no re-appropriation of funds from one budget head to another be made without the sanction of the Committee.

6. Read a letter from the Locomotive and Carriage Superintendent Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway, asking for a deposit of Rs. 2,800 for four sets of pillar cases ordered for the Museum.

No. 11.

THE 26TH MARCH, 1886.

PRESENT:

H. S. BOYS, Esq., B.C.S.,

H. B. HEDERSTEDT, Esq.,

A. CONSTABLE, Esq.,

G. REID, Esq.,

} Members.

G. D. GANGULI, Asst. Curator and Acting Secretary.

1. The proceedings of previous meetings from 18th December to 13th March were read and approved.

2. With reference to Resolution 6 of Meeting No. 11 of 1885-86, regarding the construction of a second line of pillar cases for the Art section, the Committee remarked that the glass used in the cases already supplied by the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway Company was of an inferior kind, which did not admit of a proper display of the birds placed in them.

RESOLVED that a further communication be made to the Locomotive and Carriage Superintendent of the Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway, stating the above fact and requesting him to use plate-glass in the cases which have been ordered, according to estimates furnished.

3. Read again Resolution No. 10 of Meeting No. 7 of 1885-86, relating to the 13th Native Infantry Memorial Tablet in the Baillie Guard Post of the Residency.

Mr. Constable reported that at a meeting held at the Residency on the 19th November last, Sir Alfred Lyall, General Dillon, and others being present, the erection of the tablet in the position originally intended for it by Colonel Aitken was agreed upon, and that the necessary work had been duly carried out.

On the 6th December following the tablet was duly unveiled by the late General T. F. Wilson, C.B., C.I.E., B.S.C., Military and Marine Member of Council, in the presence of Lady Dufferin and party, and it appeared from several private letters subsequently received from General Wilson, that he had been much gratified by the erection of the tablet, as the 13th Native Infantry was his old regiment, and he himself, as was well known to all, had borne no inconsiderable part of the defence of the Residency.

A photograph of the Memorial Tablet and two general views of the Baillie Guard Post, showing the tablet, had been taken, copies of which have been, or would be, presented to certain of those who were interested in the Memorial, and a set deposited in the Provincial Museum, and it was suggested that the future custody of the tablet be made over to the Officer in charge of the Residency generally.

RESOLVED that the cost of the above photographs, amounting to Rs. 96-8-0, be charged to the Museum Library, and that any spare copies of the photographs, available after presentation to interested parties, be sold for the benefit of the Museum. Also that the cost of certain petty work in connection with the removal of temporary pillars in the Baillie Guard Post verandah, amounting to Rs. 27-10-8, be paid.

4. Read again Resolution No. 11 of Meeting No. 7 of 1885-86.

Mr. Constable reported that Mr. Quinn, late President of this Committee, duly brought the matter of King Ghazi-ud-din Haidar's Library to the notice of Sir Alfred Lyall, who was pleased to sanction the two rooms referred to being called by the name proposed.

The work of restoring the two rooms was quite finished, and Mr. Constable begged to apply for sanction to the construction of a suitable case for the reception of coins, medals, &c., relating more especially to King Ghazi-ud-din Haidar, the making of a copper medallion, of Lucknow work, of the King's coat-of-arms, to be placed on the screen in the larger room, and to the payment of Rs. 56 for a table already made.

RESOLVED that Rs. 56, the cost of the table, be passed, and that Mr. Constable be asked to furnish estimates for the other items of expenditure.

5. Read again Resolution No. 14 of Meeting No. 6 of 1885-86, sanctioning the restoration of the coloured plaster work in the two south rooms of the Farhat Bakhsh.

Mr. Constable reported that a sum of Rs. 214-15-6 had been already spent in restoring these rooms, and asked for sanction to the continuance of the work in the large south room.

RESOLVED that the expenditure already incurred, aggregating Rs. 214-15-6, be met from the budget of the ensuing year (1886-87), and that Mr. Constable be asked to furnish estimates for the work remaining to be done before incurring any further liabilities on this account.

6. With reference to Resolution No. 12 of meeting No. 8 of 18th December, regarding the taking of photographs of certain exhibits of the Loan Collection Department of the late Exhibition, Mr. Constable reported that upwards of 40 plates had been taken and that a selection therefrom would be made for the Museum. The cost of the photographs would be about Rs. 400 for 10 copies of each, or a rupee per copy, which is the same rate as was paid for other photographs taken at the Exhibition by the Department of Agriculture and Commerce for the Colonial and Indian Exhibition of 1886.

RESOLVED that half of the cost of the photographs be charged to the Library and half to the allotment for "Purchase of specimens."

7. Mr. Constable then read a letter from Ismael Khan, portrait-painter of Delhi, dated 9th January last, offering for sale some paintings of distinguished persons and placed them before the meeting. The Committee selected two of the paintings (Nawabs Asafad-ud-dowlah and Shuja-ud-dowlah) for the Museum, the cost of which, according to Mr. Constable's estimate, was Bs. 150.

RESOLVED that Mr. Constable be asked to ascertain from the portrait-painter, whether he would accept the price proposed.

8. RESOLVED that the Secretary ascertain from each member of the Managing Committee, as soon after the 1st of April as possible, the amount of liabilities debitable to the budget grant of 1886-87, and that a statement of such liabilities be circulated at the next ordinary meeting.

9. The Assistant Curator's reports for January and February were read.

G. D. GANGULI,
Asst. Curator and Acting Secretary.

REPORT OF THE
MANAGING COMMITTEE OF THE LUCKNOW PROVINCIAL MUSEUM
FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

No. 265G, dated Cawnpore, the 10th June, 1886.

From—LIEUT.-COLONEL D. G. PITCHER, Offg. Director, Dept. of Agri. and Commerce, N.-W. Provinces and Oudh,

To—Chief Secretary to Government, N.-W. Provinces and Oudh.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit, for the information of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner, the report of the Lucknow Provincial Museum Committee for the year ending 31st March, 1886.

2. Management.—Incidental to the transfer of officers, the Committee has undergone some changes during the year, and has, through an unfortunate accident, been deprived for some months of the valuable services of Mr. Pirie as Honorary Secretary. Dr. Führer, the Curator, has kindly undertaken the duties for the present. It has been found, however, in view of the large funds now to be administered, advisable to appoint an Assistant Curator capable of conducting the accounts and of discharging the current duties of the Curator or of the Honorary Secretary when those gentlemen are perforce absent. The Committee has, with great regret, to record the loss of a valuable colleague in the late General Douglas, R.A., whose place has not yet been filled.

3. Collections.—As detailed in the report, it is submitted that in every section except Ethnology most satisfactory progress has been made, in additions, in classification, in cataloguing, and in general arrangement.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

The large number of additions, amounting to 6,065, chiefly by donation and exclusive of the library, is a matter for congratulation. The occasion of the Lucknow Exhibition afforded a good opportunity which was availed of for procuring fresh art-ware specimens, and the views of Government in regard to this section are being borne in mind.

Ethnology is referred to as an exception, as the hopes that were raised of receiving from Calcutta a complete duplicate set of the ethnological types prepared for the Indian and Colonial Exhibitions have not yet been realized. Six hundred and thirteen works were added to the Library, of which 402 were presented, but the Library is not yet accessible to students, as arranging and cataloguing is still in progress.

4. The large number of visitors, verging on half a million, sufficiently attest the appreciation by the native public of this popular institution and of the Committee's labours. On such a day as that described when the numbers reached upwards of 52,600, or but little less than half the numbers present on the opening day of the Indian and Colonial Exhibition, the powers of the establishment are very heavily tried, and those who saw the surging sea of people passing through in an unabating stream all day long in wondering enjoyment cannot but have felt that the renaissance of the Museum was a measure of sterling good.

5. Finance.—The total expenditure balanced receipts, or Rs. 18,097-3-0. The figures call for no remarks.

6. Appendices B, C and E contain the lists of donors, to each of whom, to the individual members of the Committee, and to Messrs. Pirie and Führer, the thanks of Government are justly due.

7. As no order has yet been received to print the Committee's annual report, it is submitted in manuscript, but its publication and distribution by this Department on the same scale and list as that of the Agricultural Department's own annual report is ventured as a suggestion.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

No. 213, dated Lucknow, the 5th June, 1886.

From—President, Provincial Museum Committee, Lucknow,

To—Director of Agri. and Commerce, N.-W. P. and Oudh.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the following report on the administration of the Provincial Museum, Lucknow, during the twelve months ending on the 31st March, 1886, for the information of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh.

1. Committee of management.—The constitution of the Managing Committee has remained the same as at the close of the previous year, with two exceptions: Major-General Dillon, C.B., and Mr. H. S. Boys, C.S., were appointed members of the Managing Committee in October, 1885, and January, 1886, respectively. On the departure of Mr. J. Quinn, C.S., for one year's leave in the beginning of March last, the ex-officio Presidentship was held by Mr. H. S. Boys, C.S., Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow, and this gentleman was succeeded by Mr. A. H. Harington, C.S., on his taking charge as Commissioner of Lucknow. The vacancy created by the departure of Dr. J. C. Whishaw, in March last, has remained unfilled at the close of the year.

Mr. A. Constable acted as Secretary during Mr. A. H. Pirie's absence at the hills in May and June, 1885. From January, 1886, till the close of the year under review, the Curator and Assistant Curator alternately were in current charge of the Secretary's duties during Mr. A. H. Pirie's illness, caused by an accident.

Meetings have been called regularly on the last Friday of every month; in February, 1886, no meeting was held, the attendance being insufficient to form a quorum. A special meeting was held on the 14th August, 1885, for the purpose of considering a proposal to hold an exhibition of arts and industries at Lucknow; another emergent meeting was called for the 13th March, 1886, for the transaction of some urgent business in connection with the accounts of the official year.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

2. Ordinary members and corresponding secretaries.—No additions have been made during the year to the list of ordinary members and corresponding secretaries. The Committee, however, desire to place on record the deep regret they feel for the loss of a valued and active member in the person of the late General Charles Douglas, R.A. His keen interest in all that related to science, and his sympathy with those who were engaged in its advancement, prompted him to take a very active part in administering the affairs of the Museum, while his scientific experience and sound knowledge and judgment were on many occasions of the highest value to his colleagues, and at all times freely and cordially at their command.

3. Curator and Assistant Curator.—Doctor A. Führer held charge of the Curatorship up to the 13th February, 1886, when he went on tour in his capacity as Assistant Archæological Surveyor, North-Western Provinces and Oudh Circle. The services of Mr. M. R. Joyce, Assistant Curator, having been dispensed with from the 1st November, 1885, Babu Gangadhar Ganguli, of the Agricultural Department, was appointed by the Committee to officiate as Assistant Curator for three months, commencing with the 1st February, 1886. Doctor Führer re-assumed his duties as Curator on the 1st April, 1886.

4. Establishment.—No changes in the office and subordinate establishment have taken place during the past year. One of the taxidermists was employed since October last as collector in the Kumaun district, and has since returned twice with a good series of specimens. The Committee found it necessary in October last to adopt stringent measures for checking the practice of the chaprasis levying fees on native visitors to the Museum. The practice is one which it is very difficult to eradicate, being fostered by the ignorance of those on whom the impost is levied, not less than by the cupidity of those who levy it. On all occasions that may come to the knowledge of the Museum officers, servants thus offending will be summarily dismissed by the Curator, with forfeiture of pay. One chaprasi, whilst on duty as chaukidar, died suddenly in the early morning of the 1st July of snake-bite.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

A nominal roll of the officers and servants in the employ of the Committee is given in Appendix A.

5. Museum.—The appendices to the Curator's monthly reports, shortly to be published, show that large additions have been made to the collections, chiefly by donation. A numerical summary of the objects presented, together with a list of donors, is given in Appendix B, and a classified summary of all additions to the Museum is given below. Among the more important donations may be mentioned a valuable series of birds, chiefly from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, received from Mr. George Reid; a fine bear-head from Mr. G. J. Nicholls, C.S.; a leopard from Rájá Jang Bahádur Khan of Nanpara; a collection of Buddhist relics, a set of stone implements, flint chips and cores, a collection of 32 specimens representing the products of poppy (papaver somniferum) as prepared in the Gházipur Opium Factory, from Mr. J. H. Rivett-Carnac, C.S., C.I.E.; a good collection of Brahminical, Buddhist, and Jain statues from Mr. A. Constable; and 30 glass cases for the Ornithological section from Mr. A. O. Hume. The following is a numerical list of the specimens received :—

Of these, 1,108 were obtained by purchase, 466 by the Museum collector, and 4,491 by donation. Appendix B is a nominal list of the donors, with an abstract of their respective donations to the Museum.

Natural history.—The collection of mammals is still very poor ; whilst the collection of birds is, according to Mr. A. O. Hume's (the well-known ornithologist) opinion "the best in India after that of the Indian Museum." The collection of reptiles and insects are fairly represented. A classified catalogue of the birds has been prepared by Mr. G. Reid, and will shortly be issued from the press. Catalogues of the mammals, reptiles and insects will be prepared during the course of this year.

Six hundred and thirty-eight specimens have been mounted and prepared for exhibition in the taxidermist's department. Lists of these are given from month to month in the appendices to the Curator's reports.

Arts and industries.—Some valuable additions to the indigenous arts collection have been obtained by purchase through the exertions of Government officers. Thus nearly all the arts and industries of the United Provinces are well represented in the Museum. A catalogue of this collection is in course of preparation by the Assistant Curator.

Ethnology.—An interesting accession to the Ethnological department of the Museum are twenty-five facial casts of the different race types, all from life, made by the Brothers Schlagintweit, and presented by the Principal, Thomason Civil Engineering College, Rurki.

Archæology.—The Brahminical, Budhhist, Jaina, and Epigraphical sections of the Archæological department have been arranged and labelled by the Curator. A detailed catalogue of these sections, together with translations of all inscriptions, will be given by the Curator in the appendix to his forthcoming archæological report on his tour in the cold season of 1886,

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

Numismatics.—The most valuable acquisition of the whole year is a collection of 1,369 coins, viz., gold 70, silver 493, copper 559, and lead 247. These, besides the old Museum collection of 434 coins, viz., silver 145, copper 289, represent nearly all classes of old and modern Indian coinage. A list of donors is given in Appendix C. A detailed and classified catalogue of this collection is in course of preparation by the Curator, and will shortly be ready for the press.

Paleontology, Mineralogy and Geology.—These sections contain many valuable specimens, chiefly from the Siwalik hills, but have not been arranged till lately, owing to the very restricted space for exhibition. Catalogues will be prepared in due course of time.

Economic, Agricultural and Forestal sections.—It will be observed that the Museum is especially indebted to the Superintendent, Botanical Gardens, Saháranpur, to Mr. J. H. Rivett-Carnac, C.S., C.I.E., to the Director of Agriculture and Commerce, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and to the Deputy Conservators of Forests, Naini Tal and Dehra Dún, as donors of valuable materials for these sections. The Committee would express a hope that, at no distant date, the Curator may have an opportunity of arranging and cataloguing these sections.

Miscellaneous.—The specimens thus classed are few in number; they consist of fresh-water shells, the bark of a tree (bhojpattra), glass cases, &c.

Visitors.—The number of visitors in each month of the year is given in Appendix D. The total number during the year was 443,122, of whom 255,337 were native men, 176,200 native women, 6,536 European men, and 5,049 European women; the daily average of visitors to the Museum being 1,214. The largest attendance, 52,644 visitors, was on the 22nd November, a Hindu holiday (Gangasana). There seems no reason to doubt that the increased popularity of the Museum, shown by the number of visitors, is in a great measure real and permanent, notwithstanding the disadvantages of restricted space under which the collections are exhibited to the public.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

6. Library.—Six hundred and thirteen works and periodicals have been added to the Library during the year, including a good number of costly standard works; of these 211 were purchased and 402 presented. A list of donors is given in Appendix E. The purchases have been made by Mr. A. Constable, in whom the special charge of the Library is vested. The Library is not yet accessible to students, as the work of arranging and cataloguing the books and periodicals has not been finished.

7. Finance.—During the year ending 31st March, 1886, the gross total expenditure for the Museum has been Rs. 18,097-8-0. To meet the expenditure of the year the Committee had at their disposal Rs. 18,097-8-0, as is shown by the statement, Appendix F. The items, as sanctioned in the budget estimates, have been exceeded in three instances. These are in the cases of books, contingent charges and materials for preserving specimens, the actual cost of which it is practically impossible to make exactly correspond with the grant. The whole total of such excess is Rs. 2,267-0-5, while, on the other hand, there has been a saving on other items of Rs. 2,704-1-10.

No. $\frac{959}{1-299}$, dated Naini Tal, the 21st June, 1886.

From—Secretary to Government, N.-W. Provinces and Oudh,

To—Director of Agri. and Commerce, N.-W. P. and Oudh.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 265G, dated 10th June, with which is submitted the annual report on the administration of the Provincial Museum, Lucknow, during 1885-86.

2. The report shows that considerable progress has been made in classifying and arranging the various collections, and in enlarging them by the addition of new specimens. Large numbers of objects have been received as donations and many more have been purchased. The attendance of visitors, though large, amounting to nearly half a million, is considerably below that recorded in the previous year (900,000), but the numbers amply testify that the Museum is very popular and much frequented.

3. It affords the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner much pleasure to acknowledge the services rendered during the year by Messrs. Pirie, Reid and Constable, the Managing Committee, the Curator, and the gentlemen named in Appendices B, C and E of the report, who have not only aided the Museum by their donations, but have also taken a general interest in promoting its welfare. The Provinces are much indebted to them for their public-spirited and valuable co-operation in the endeavours made to place the Museum upon a more satisfactory footing and gradually to develop its range of collection and research.

4. In conclusion, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner approves the suggestion in the 7th paragraph of your letter, that the annual report of the Museum should be printed in the same way as the other reports and publications issued by the Agricultural Department; but he thinks that its distribution should be restricted to a select number of persons or public bodies, and need not be on the scale adopted for the agricultural reports, which have a different scope and object, and therefore a different range of circulation. With this view I am to request that you will forward, for approval, a proposed distribution list of the Museum report.

Offg. Secretary.

Read a Memorandum, dated 8th April, 1886, by Dr. W. Hoey, C.S.

Read a Memorandum by Lt.-Col. D. G. Pitcher, dated 6th April, 1886, supporting Dr. Hoey's proposal.

1. RESOLVED that this Committee recognizes the great desirability of securing the objects aimed at in Dr. Hoey's memorandum by establishing some such Provincial Journal in connection with the Provincial Museum as he has proposed for the permanent record of notes upon matters of interest in the Departments of History, Archæology, Art, Industries and Natural History.

2. RESOLVED that this Committee recognizes the obligation of so organizing the proposed journal as in no way to interfere with the work of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, or of the Archæological Survey Department of the Government of India, but, on the contrary, to co-operate in that work.

3. RESOLVED that this obligation can best be discharged (1) by submitting from time to time to the Asiatic Society of Bengal and to the Archæological Survey Department, North-Western Provinces and Oudh Circle, copies of the Provincial Journal, with the express invitation that the Archæological Survey Department and the Asiatic Society will reproduce in their own journal or reports anything that they may consider worthy of record ; (2) by seeking their guidance and advice as to points of interest requiring local elucidation.

4. RESOLVED, with reference to that part of Dr. Hoey's memorandum which relates to dates of publication, that, for the present, a half-yearly issue is considered sufficient, and that the best dates would be 1st May and 1st November.

5. RESOLVED that the cover of the journal should contain a standing cordial invitation to district officials and private persons to contribute to it, and that the managers of the various departments of the Provincial Museum issue special invitations to contributors, who, from their personal qualifications or particular fields of observation, seem likely to aid materially in their several branches.

6. RESOLVED that, with reference to the Committee's letter to the Director, Department of Agriculture and Commerce, No. 50, dated 17th February, 1886, the Government be moved to add the cost of printing the proposed journal to the grant of printing therein applied for.

7. RESOLVED that the managing members of the various departments be sub-editors for their departments, subject to the general control of the Museum Committee, the Secretary being ex-officio compiler.

8. RESOLVED that the same form and type be adopted as those of the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal.

9. RESOLVED that printed copies of these proceedings be submitted to the Chief Secretary to Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the President, Asiatic Society of Bengal, and the Assistant Surveyor, Archæological Department, North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

A. H. HARRINGTON,
Offg. President.

MEMORANDUM.

THE proposal which I now make for the establishment of a periodical publication in connection with the Provincial Museum and Library arises from a want which I have myself felt, and which I have found others express.

The demands of official duty leave but little opportunity to district officers for that close study which is indispensable to the archæologist, but it is pre-eminently the district officer who has the opportunity for making those observations and collections which are essential as material on which the archæologist can labour. Many of us can be feeders of the archæologist, but it is only rarely that we can be archæologists. The Government of India has recognized this in creating an Archæological Department, but I am of opinion that it is an error to think that any work of solid value can be done unless the co-operation of district officials be secured. The members of the service to which I have the honor to belong have been trained to the study of history and languages; the Military Department has given us some of the most eminent archæologists India has seen; engineers and medical men have not been wanting whose aid has been a gain to the cause of Indian research. All have their legitimate occupations, and though they frequently observe and make notes, they seldom write for learned societies. There is naturally the consciousness that speculations may be crude, and they have not at hand the aids necessary for the digestion of the matter they accumulate. What I propose is the creation of a medium for the collection of notes which will serve as a pabulum for the Archæological Department, and also for the suggestion of matters by that Department for observation by district officers. It will be a repertoire of legends, traditions and local histories, and of notes on clans, castes, and tribes, and of observations on ancient sites and remains and inscriptions likely to prove of historical interest. It will contain notices of places which are to be looked for and of inquiries to be made. It will also afford scope for notes as to books and manuscripts and oriental bibliography generally.

But beyond this there is a broad field of not less importance, though possibly more utilitarian. We are seeking to trace the remnants of art manufactures where they still survive, and to encourage art, industries, and trades.

In this publication will be found a field for recording observations on these matters, and officers of the Agriculture and Commerce Department will be able to communicate through this medium to the public, information not communicable through departmental circulars, and will receive in return notices of matters of the same class which are of interest to that Department.

I am not sure that Natural History and Physical Science should not have a place, but that is beyond my personal scope.

We have a Museum in this Province and an archæologist residing in connection with it. We have a Department of Agriculture and Commerce for the conservation and promotion of arts and industries.

It is my proposal that we should have a periodical publication, which would cover the ground of all departments of the Museum and Library, and deal with oriental bibliography ; with history, traditional, legendary, and written ; with archæology and the art of the past ; with modern aims and the art of the present ; with all that tends to foster in the art industries of to-day the continuance and preservation of correct oriental style and feeling.

We must not attempt too much by endeavouring to have a frequently recurring publication. I have consulted Mr. Growse, and he is with me of opinion that at present twice a year would suffice. There are two periods in one official year and in our opportunities : the nomadic period of cold weather tours for observation, and the period of stationary life in the hot weather and rains. One publication to cover each would be ample. Thus we should have the first number appear on the 1st May, the second on the 1st November. I should name the periodical "Miscellanea Indica."

Reference having been made to the Accountant-General with regard to his pension, he remains on probation, temporarily attached, till the final settlement of this question.

3. RESOLVED—That skylights be opened in the Ornithological Section of the Museum, with gable roof and sides glazed, and that the Nazúl Board be asked to undertake the work, to furnish an estimate and meet the cost.

4. Read G. O. No. $\frac{485}{III-248}$, dated the 14th May, 1886, stating that G. O. No. $\frac{308}{III-248}$, dated the 19th March 1886, directing the transfer of the Farhat Baksh Kotbi to the Nazúl Department, was not intended to have retrospective effect, and that the cost of repairs of the Taikhanas should be met by the Public Works Department.

RESOLVED—That a copy of the Government Order be sent to the Executive Engineer, Lucknow Division, for compliance with a view to the adjustment of the outstanding accounts, amounting to Rs. 701-2-7.

FOR THE YEAR 1886-87.

No. 9.

THE 25TH NOVEMBER, 1886,

MAJOR-GENERAL M DILLON, C.B.,

J. H. RIVETT-CARNAC, Esq., C S,

COLONEL HAUGHTON, R.A.,

KUNWAR HARNAM SINGH, C.I.E.,

A CONSTABLE, Esq.,

GEO. REID, Esq.,

DR. FUHRER, Curator.

A. H. PIRIE, Esq., Member and Secretary.

} Members.

1. THE minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

2. Mr. Constable read a very full and interesting printed account (vide Appendix) of the action he had recently taken to prevent the demolition of Neill's Gateway; and concluded by proposing the following resolution:—

That the Provincial Government be addressed with a view to their constituting the Managing Committee of the Provincial Museum the local representatives of the Archæological Department, to which all such references as are contemplated in paragraphs 2 and 3 of Circular No. 4 (Public Works), Government of India, Public Works Department, General, dated Simla, the 18th September, 1886, shall be made in all cases arising within the limits of Lucknow City and Cantonments; as the Provincial Museum Committee believe that, aided by the records they already possess and those they hope still to acquire, they will have at their command unrivalled facilities for dealing with all such cases promptly and authoritatively, and also for securing a continuity of purpose and method, thereby assisting the Provincial Government and the Local Authorities to carry out the objects enumerated in, and aimed at, by the circular above cited.

This proposal was seconded by Mr. McConaghey, supported by General Dillon, and carried unanimously.

3. Read letter No. $\frac{M}{2479}$ from the Locomotive and Carriage Superintendent's Office, Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway, stating that Rs. 1,976-2-0 had been expended up to date on the pillar cases, of which only Rs. 1,400 had been received, and requesting payment of a further sum of Rs. 1,400 to complete the estimated total cost of the cases.

Mr. Reid proposed: That the cases be paid for up to the amount of work done and erected in their present state; and that the glass required to complete them be ordered from England by the Museum.

This proposition was carried.

4. The Secretary laid before the Meeting a printed form, which had been prepared by Mr. Constable (in accordance with Resolutions 13 of Meeting 5 of 28th August, 1885, and 10 of Meeting 6 of 25th September, 1885,) in which the Minutes of Committee might be published.

The form as presented was approved.

5. A report of the progress made in preparing the catalogues of the exhibits in the various departments of the Museum was called for, with following results:—

Mr. Constable reported that the Library Catalogue was nearly finished.

Dr. Führer reported that the Catalogue of Inscriptions was ready for publication, that the list of coins was nearly ready, and that the Archæological Catalogue had been commenced.

The Secretary reported that a Catalogue of the Art Exhibits was in course of preparation.

6. Certain specimens of old Lucknow artware were exhibited and the Secretary was authorized to purchase a specimen of old Bidri-ware, and two of old brassware.

7. Mr. Reid was authorized to purchase a small tent for the use of the shikari.

8. The President reported that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor had directed Dr. Führer to secure for the Museum any objects of interest he might meet with during his tour as Archæological Surveyor.

9. Dr. Führer reported that two copperplate inscriptions had been sent to the Museum by Mr. Rivett-Carnac; that the inscriptions had been translated and would appear in the Journal; and that, as the plates were priced very high, and were substantially the same as that mentioned in Resolution 4 of Meeting 3 of June, 1885, he did not think it necessary to purchase them for the Museum.

10. The Curator's Report for the past month was then read.

A. H. PIRIE,
Secretary.

M. A. McCONAGHEY,
President.

APPENDIX.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM, LUCKNOW.

Resolution No. 2 of Meeting No. 9 of 1886-87.

25th NOVEMBER, 1886.

Mr Constable desired to place on record the following narrative of the action he had recently felt it his duty to take with a view to the preservation of "NEILL'S GATEWAY," and begged to preface his remarks by declaring here, as he had already done elsewhere, that he had had absolutely no connection whatever, either directly or indirectly, with any of the various letters, notices, or articles, regarding the occurrence, that had ever appeared in any newspaper or other publication :—

1. Early in the morning of the 6th October I saw a number of workmen busily engaged in pulling down "Neill's Gateway," and on expressing my astonishment and enquiring of them the authority under which they were thus acting, was told that the work had been ordered by the Municipality. I at once asked the man in charge to stop the demolition, as a personal favour, pending a reference I would at once make to his employers, and at the same time I told him that, as it would be a pity for him to keep his coolies entirely idle, pending the result of my appeal, and thus lose the value of their wages for the day, it would be well for him to set them to work, to collect the bricks and other material already pulled down, and have all neatly stacked, clear of the public road. I also assured him that I would hold myself personally responsible for any consequences that might result from his thus stopping the actual demolition; and, in order that no time might be lost in his learning the result of my appeal, I asked him to accompany me. We then drove off, after seeing that all his coolies had come down from the building, and were harmlessly employed in collecting the bricks and other débris scattered about its base.

2. After carefully considering the matter, I resolved to address Mr. McConaghey on the subject, not in his capacity as the Chief Civil Authority of the District, but as the President of our Provincial Museum Committee, and accordingly wrote out the following letter :—

“ Lucknow, October 6th, 1886.

“ DEAR MR. MCCONAGHEY,—On my way to the Museum this morning I was somewhat astonished to see a number of workmen busily engaged in pulling down ‘Neill’s Gateway,’ and I now write to beg you to order the work of destruction to be stopped, at any rate, pending a reference to the authority or department responsible for it.

“ 2. I do not for a moment desire to make myself officious, nor am I prepared, at present, to discuss the matter in its historical aspect, but as the Member of the Managing Committee of the Provincial Museum in charge of the Section of ‘Indian History, since 1500 A.D.,’ I feel it my duty to address you on the subject.

“ 3. Such rapid progress was being made with the demolition, that I ventured to take the extreme step of asking Hanúman, the mistri in charge, to stop the work, pending this reference to you, and I feel sure that you will not misunderstand my motive.

“ 4. I cannot believe that such an interesting relic has been doomed to destruction, with a full knowledge of its history and associations.

“ Believe me, yours sincerely,

“ ARCHD. CONSTABLE,

“ To—M. A. MCCONAGHEY, Esq., B.C.S., President, Provincial Museum Committee.”

3. I then drove off to deliver my letter personally, calling, en route, on a Member of the Municipal Board, to learn further details, and satisfy myself that I had not misunderstood what the mistri had told me. I was assured by this gentleman that it was a fact; that the demolition of the Gateway had been determined upon and duly ordered by the Municipal Board; and further, that, in place of it, it had been resolved to erect a memorial pillar in honour of General Neill. I replied that I held the proposed demolition of the archway to be most unnecessary and impolitic, and that I was then on my way to the President of the Museum Committee with a letter of respectful protest.

4. I found Mr. McConaghey at home, the day being, fortunately, one of the Dasehra holidays, when all the Government, as well as the Railway Offices, are closed; and I need hardly mention that my letter, as well as other verbal communications urging the claims of the Gateway to be considered "a building of historical interest" (vide Circular No. 4, Public Works, Government of India, P. W. D., General, dated Simla, 18th September, 1886), were most patiently and kindly considered. I also reported that I had taken the great liberty of bringing the man in charge of the work of demolition with me, so that no delay should occur in his receiving any orders that might be passed on the case.

5. Further conversation ensued, which resulted in my proceeding to General Dillon's house, as I felt that my appeal would be greatly strengthened, if the General, a member of the Managing Committee of the Provincial Museum, could see his way to support it.

6. General Dillon listened to all that I had to say, and I was careful to tell him that I had been informed that the Municipality intended to erect a memorial pillar, in the vicinity of the gate, in lieu of it; but I ventured to urge, as I had already done at my interview with Mr. McConaghey, that, in my opinion, such a memorial would not, for many reasons, be a satisfactory substitute for the Gateway, and I then left, bearing the following letter:—

" Lucknow, October 6th, 1886.

" MY DEAR MCCONAGHEY,—I approach you as Chief of the Municipal Committee of Lucknow with some hesitation, but I will trust to your goodness to pardon me touching on a subject which in no manner concerns my office.

"I have just learned that Neill's Gateway is under demolition by an order emanating from the Municipality. How is this to be stopped? Is the Committee too strong to be guided by your advice?

"Has not Sir Alfred Lyall supreme authority in all matters of Local Administration, and could he not be moved to order that the Gate be preserved.

"The Gate is not handsome, and it is small, but it possesses a record of the deepest interest to those who accompanied Outram and Havelock, and to those who followed later with Lord Clyde, and to all visitors. Colonel Roddy, a V. C. officer, told me, when here last year, that he saw the shot fired which killed Neill, and was one of those who slew the two men who were on the arch; both were eunuchs, one loaded but the other fired.

"Roddy was in Olpherts' Battery.

"Yours sincerely,

M. DILLON."

7. Mr. McConaghey then very kindly promised to send up the two letters to higher authority at once, and, pending the receipt of further orders, to ask the Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow, who is also Chairman of the Municipal Board, to stop the demolition; and I was the bearer of a communication to this effect to that gentleman, on whom I at once called, and to whom, having briefly explained the state of the case, I then delivered Mr. McConaghey's letter, and he at once issued, through the Municipal Secretary, the necessary orders for stopping the work.

8. On the 17th ultimo, after I had had time to examine my collection of notes on the subject of "Neill's Gateway," I addressed a further letter to the President of the Museum Committee, as follows :—

"Lucknow, October 17th, 1886.

"NEILL'S GATE.

"DEAR MR. MCCONAGHEY,—With reference to my note of the 6th instant, and our subsequent conversation of the same date on the subject, I beg leave to thank you for the kind action you so promptly took upon the representations then made to you; and I now desire to place on record, with reference to the second para. of my letter referred to above, certain historical facts connected with the Gateway in question.

"2. This structure, which formed one of the main entrances into that extensive walled-in area, which we may conveniently call the 'Court Suburb,' was known for many years before the Mutiny as the 'Shere Darwaza,' having acquired that name 'which, by the way, is that by which it is still popularly designated in the vernacular) from the two marble figures of lions which formerly stood on the Gateway.

"3. I have made enquiries regarding these lions, and find that after the Mutiny, during the time of the demolitions, they were taken down from their original position, and, some years afterwards, placed on the parapet wall of the portico to Government House here, where I have seen them this morning. They are not clearly visible unless one looks at the top of the portico, standing at a distance therefrom, and I would venture to suggest that Sir Alfred Lyall be asked to kindly consent to their being taken down from the top of the portico in question, and, should the Gateway be restored, as I sincerely hope and trust it may be, replaced in their original position. So much for the history of the Gateway before 1856-57.

"4. It was through this very Gateway that, on the 25th September, 1857, General Have-lock's force (the two columns,* or brigades, having met a few hundred yards from the archway) advanced to the relief of the Residency; and, as you are aware, General Dillon has very kindly placed on record the fact that Lieutenant-Colonel Roddy, V.C., then in Captain (now General Sir William, and V.C.,) Olpherts' Battery, Bengal Horse Artillery, saw the shot fired from the archway which killed General N. Hill, and afterwards slew one of the two men, one loading the other firing, who were on the gate.

"5. In addition to this evidence, we have that afforded by various published narratives of the Relief. Among others, in that written by Mr. Gubbins, and for facility of reference I append a copy of the plan, inserted between pages 322 and 323, of the second edition of his well-known 'Account of the Mutinies in Oudh, of the Siege of the Lucknow Residency, * * * Second edition, London: Richard Bentley, 1858' 1 Volume 8vo., which shows distinctly the place, with the printed reference, 'Gateway where General Neill fell.'

"6. This plan was intended by Mr. Gubbins more specially to show, in great detail, which it does, the locale of the memorable defence of Dooly Square on the 26th September, 1857; and I now beg to propose that the still remaining outlines of the walls of the 'Dooly Square enclosure,' close to 'Neill's Gateway' be restored, and thus preserved from further destruction; and this can still easily be done by carefully removing the existing top soil and débris, through which the walls crop out.

"7. I may add that I have been promised a note on General Neill's death by one of defenders of the Residency, who can bear useful testimony to the facts, and I will, in due course, furnish you with a copy of this document. I would also state that this letter has been delayed to admit of my finding out exactly what became of the two lions formerly on 'Neill's Gate,' and again thanking you for the action you have already taken in the matter,

"Believe me,

"Yours sincerely,

"ARCHD. CONSTABLE,

"Member, Managing Committee,

"Provincial Museum,

"To—M. A. McCONAGHEY, Esq., B.C.S., President,

"Provincial Museum Committee."

9. On the 31st ultimo, I was informed by Mr. McConaghey that it had been decided to restore the Gateway, and to replace the lions thereon, and the necessary preliminary steps are now receiving the attention of the Executive Engineer, P. W. D., Lucknow Executive Division.

10. I now desire to place on record some remarks on the following letter, from the Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow, which appeared in the Pioneer of the 21st ultimo :—

TO THE EDITOR.

"SIR,—The agitation that has arisen about the demolition of the so-called 'Neill's Gate' at Lucknow is an instance of the growth of popular fallacies.

"The archway was a gateway of the enclosure attached to the Chatter Manzil Palace, and it is only connected with the death of General Neill so far that it is asserted that the shot which wounded him and from which he died shortly afterwards was fired from the top of the gate. But the public, simply, it seems, from the reiteration of the name 'Neill's Gate,' have come to believe that some special sanctity attaches to this structure; that it was in some significant manner connected with the heroism of the soldier whose name it bears; and that it should be guarded as a monument of English prowess. This view can scarcely stand the light. If all the buildings from which brave men doing their duty have met their death were to be preserved as historical monuments, such relics would be more plentiful than churches.

In my conversation of the 6th ultimo with, and in my letter of the 17th idem, to, Mr. McConaghey, printed above, I dwelt upon the importance always attached to the Gateway ("Shere Darwaza") by the inhabitants of Lucknow and the surrounding districts. The Oudh peasantry, all over the Province, well know, some of them by repute only, most of the public buildings, &c, erected in Lucknow previous to 1856; as many of them, for instance the Iron Bridge, were built by funds levied, rateably to some extent, from each village, and entries to this effect can be found in many old village accounts. In their visits to this city our "Country cousins" take a great pleasure in wandering about and looking at the buildings their ancestors, and in some cases they themselves, helped to build*.

It also marks the foot of the 'narrow lane' (which extended from the spot known as "The Sergeant's House" which stood near the present southern embankment approach to Bruce's Bridge) through which Havelock's force had to pass on their way to the Residency, and in traversing which, they suffered such heavy losses.

* A similar method is followed at the present day when erecting new, or repairing in part the existing Palaces and Temples in the "Court Suburb" of Peking. In China, however, contributions for such purposes are levied in kind, as well as in cash, and the "Peking Gazette" frequently contains notifications calling, for instance, upon the Local Governor of a Maritime Province to send to Peking so many crates of plate glass, foreign, to repair, &c., the Palace windows. Or it may be that a silk-producing province is called upon to furnish by a certain date so many thousand yards of silk for embroidering, as Peking hangings for the Imperial houses. This system is said to work well, and admirably suits the fiscal policy of the Chinese. It is also held that by this procedure the paramount power at Peking is kept in touch with districts remote from the "Northern Capital."

Neill's death has been thus described by his aide-de-camp, Gordon :—

"The General was sitting on his horse quite coolly, giving his orders and trying to prevent too hasty a rush through the archway, as one of the guns had not yet been got out of the lane where we had been halting. He sent me back to see what was the delay in getting the gun on ; and these were the last words I heard him utter, as I rode off immediately to the lane, and in about three minutes returned with the gun, when to my great grief and horror, I was told that he was no more. He, sitting there quietly on his horse, had formed too prominent an object, for the sure aim of the mutineer sepoys who fired at him through a loophole above the archway, and the fatal bullet performed its mission but too truly, and in one instant closed the earthly career of our greatest and most noble soldier and beloved General, our only consolation being that he was at peace, and had died a soldier's death, and had passed from a short-lived earthly career of glory into one of glorious immortality. * * * * He must have had his head turned towards the lane, watching probably for the gun to make its appearance round the corner, for the bullet entered the side of his head, behind, and a little above the left ear."

"Till within a short time ago, a marble statuette stood on the top of the archway. This statuette was the work of some Italian artist in the King of Oudh's time, and probably represents Lord Mornington, or William Pitt, or may be General Washington. But for twenty years it

The statue in question, which is now before the meeting, an exceedingly fine, signed, work by "T. Denman, Sculptor," is an excellent likeness, judging from various published engravings and other portraits, of Francis, Viscount Loudon, Earl of Rawdon, and Marquess of Hastwas gravely asserted by the public that this mannikin represented General Neill, and only at the beginning of this year the local authorities were violently attacked in the public prints for permitting 'General Neill' to lie in the museum with his nose broken. Of so much worth is general report in such cases.

ings, K. G., G. C. B., F. R. S., &c., &c., (born 1754, died 1826) who was Governor-General of India, and for some time Commander-in-Chief as well, from 1813 until 1823. As will be seen on looking at the statue, he is represented, three-fourths life size, in his robes as a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, the left hand resting on the handle of his sword, and it is probable that in his right, which has unfortunately been broken, he carried the plumed hat of a Knight of the Order. On the mantle is embroidered the Star, and the Garter is on the left leg, below the knee.

The Marquess of Hastings was in Lucknow twice. His first visit lasting from the 25th October until the 11th November, 1814; the second, from the 5th to the 10th March, 1818, and on both occasions he was the guest of the Nawáb Vizier, Gházi-ud-dín Haidar (Khuld-i-Makan) who afterwards, at the instigation of the Governor-General, assumed the title of King, in October, 1819.

In the "Private Journal of the Marquess of Hastings," the second edition of which was published in 1858, in 2 volumes, 8vo, by Saunders and Otley, London, we have very vivid pictures of his stay in this City, and of the delicate negotiations he came here to carry through; and it is quite possible that this very statue was afterwards presented as a graceful mark of appreciation of the welcome given to him in Lucknow.* His

* On the 7th March, 1818, the Marquess of Hastings breakfasted with the Nawab Vizier, and the Faiz-ud-dowlah, afterwards Nawab-ud-din Haidar, and subsequently the party went to visit the Khooshid Manzil, then just completed, although commenced some years before, by the Nawab Vizier's father, Saadut Ali Khan. An entry in the Diary tells us that "In the principal room, my portrait occupied one end, and a full length of Madame de Pompadour, copied from the print, decorated the other." The portrait referred to, may have been the one by Serenhat, painted in Calcutta, which has been engraved, or a replica.

Majesty himself commemorated the occasion, by issuing from his Press in 1823, a choice printed volume, entitled "The Nosegay of Affection" (Gulda-sta-i-Mulabbat), which contains an account, in Persian prose and verse, of the various entertainments, &c., many of which took place in the very room we now occupy, attendant upon these meetings. There can then, I think, be little doubt as to who the marble figure represents, and the identification now offered, was made by me several years ago, when the statue was first removed, very properly, from the archway, with which, of course, it had no possible connection.

The letters* to which reference is made by the Deputy Commissioner ("The Express" of the 11th December, 1885, "Oldenbuck Minor;" 15th December "Thomas Atkins, Lance Corporal;" and "Madrassi;" and 20th and 27th January, 1886, both signed "T. Atkins") were evidently written by persons who had no correct knowledge of the statue, and possibly had never even seen it. Although their other complaints (to which, by the way, neither the Deputy Commissioner in his present letter, nor the City Magistrate in his signed letter, published in "The Express" of 23rd January, 1886, make any allusion) regarding the ignominies to which the corners of Neill's Archway had been devoted by the Municipality and the people living close by, were perfectly correct, and, possibly, led to the removal, shortly afterwards, of the disfigurements complained of.

The facts connected with the placing of the statue on the top of the archway are substantially as follows:—About 1860, when "Neill's Gateway" was considerably altered in appearance (compare

* Printed at pp. 238-241.

Beato's photo. with the subsequent ones) by various structural changes, carried out by the local authorities, the statue was placed on the top of the arch; perhaps to give a "finish" to it, as it is difficult to believe that those who were responsible for placing it there, were unaware of the fact that General Neill was not a Knight of the Garter. The arch with the statue on the top, is shown by the photograph, taken in 1862 or '63 by Mushkooroodowlah; also see the photograph, No. 28, by Darogha Abbas Ali, taken in 1873, and published in his "Lucknow Album, Calcutta, 1874."

About 1875, the local authorities appear to have thought the statue out of keeping with the arch and removed it, and erected in place thereof a slab of red sandstone bearing the following inscription.

Brigadier-General Neil (sic) C. B., was killed here on 25th September, 1857.

The archway and this inscription are shown in the photograph taken by the late Mr. J. Saché, in November, 1875.

In 1878 another change was made, when the statue was replaced on the arch, and set upon a block of masonry, built for the purpose, above the inscription tablet; and afterwards it was again finally removed from the arch, and placed in the Museum building. This fine piece of portrait sculpture has been cleaned and placed on a proper pedestal, as was always intended when the Museum was re-arranged, and duly entered in the catalogue, under preparation, of the section to which it belongs.

"Now for a few facts. The demolition of the archway was decided upon by the Municipal Board under a Resolution, a copy of which is attached. It was approved by the Deputy Commissioner and sanctioned by the Commissioner.

The demolition was commenced on the morning of the 6th October, and was stopped in the afternoon of the same day by order of the Commissioner on a representation made to him by two residents of the station. The structure has not been touched since. The informants who have sent you incorrect accounts of this transaction have omitted to state that it was a part of the original Resolution of the Municipal Board to provide for the erection of a handsome and fitting monument, within a few yards of the present ugly obstruction, to serve as a far more suitable and slightly memorial of General Neill's death in action than the so-called 'Neill's Gateway.'

"HENRY S. BOYS.

"Lucknow, 18th October."

"Extract from the proceedings of an Ordinary Meeting of the Municipal Board of the City of Lucknow, held in the Municipal Hall on Thursday, the 16th September, 1886, at 7 a. m.

"Read Resolution No. 18, dated 11th instant, of the General Committee of Public Works, recommending the removal of the archway known as 'Neill's Gate' as being a useless obstruction, and suggesting the erection of a memorial pillar instead.

This date is incorrect; the demolition was commenced early in the morning of Tuesday, the 5th October, was informally stopped at about 9 A. M., on the 6th, and officially at 3-30 P. M., the same day.

I am not, of course, aware of the nature of the evidence upon which the General Committee of Public Works based their recommendation, nor have I seen the Resolution No. 18 referred to. The archway, however, has a clear available width of 10'-6", with a clear height of 10'-2" from the road surface to the springing of the arch, a semi-circular one with 5'-4" rise.

The centre passage, as now existing, is in the same state as it was in 1857 and prior thereto, although the two side footways, each 3 feet wide (vide the photograph taken in 1857), have since been blocked up and converted into niches ; and if the whole of Havelock's force, comprising artillery, were able to pass through this archway, it surely cannot now be held to be too narrow, for any moderately skilful driver to pass through without inconvenience. I have myself seen within the past fortnight a large barouche with a pair of spirited horses, driven backwards and forwards through the archway, apparently without any inconvenience, at varying speeds, and when the carriage was made to enter it, by wheeling round, a severe test, from different sides of the main road, running past the structure.

As will be seen from the annexed "Plan of the Roads and Buildings in the vicinity of 'Neill's Gateway,' Lucknow, October 6th, 1886," which is corrected up to date, the gateway is not on a main, or even a secondary, thoroughfare at all, but over a short unimportant cross road, practically leading to nowhere. The amount of traffic which passed through, or at the side of it, from north to south, and south to north, from the 5th instant to the 21st instant, daily, during 6 to 18 hours, is shown in the statement annexed, based upon careful registers kept by clerks posted for the purpose, and the detailed sheets, from which the abstract was compiled, are of course available for scrutiny at any time. The figures speak for themselves, and I feel that I need say no more on this part of the subject.

"Resolved that the Resolution of the General Committee be accepted; and that the sum of Rs. 150, in addition to the sale proceeds of the materials of the gate, be sanctioned for the erection of a monument; and that Mr. Martin be requested to submit designs for approval."

General Neill already possesses several monuments to his memory. The first one erected is embodied in the Notification

No. 1238 of Friday, the 2nd October, 1857, published in "The Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary" of that day, on which the first news reached Lord Canning, by telegraph, of the RELIEF OF LUCKNOW, (and of the FALL OF DELHI also, see Notification No. 1237,) in which we read that :—

* * * * *

"The Governor-General in Council forbears to observe further upon information which is necessarily imperfect; but he cannot refrain from expressing the deep regret with which he hears of the death of Brigadier-General Neill, of the 1st Madras European Fusiliers, of which it is to be feared that no doubt exists.

"Brigadier-General Neill, during his short but active career in Bengal, had won the respect and confidence of the Government of India; he had made himself conspicuous as an intelligent, prompt, self-reliant soldier, ready of resource and stout of heart; and the Governor-General in Council offers to the Government and to the Army of Madras his sincere condolence upon the loss of one who was an honor to the service of their Presidency."

A monument has been erected to his memory in Ayr, his native town, and his statue on the Mount Road, Madras, (see the photograph), is doubtless well known to many.

Neill was buried, early in the morning of the 26th September, in the Residency cemetery, and there is a handsome monument* over his grave, which is probably well known to all the residents of, and visitors to, Lucknow; and views of it, catalogued as "Neill's Monument," and published by various photographers (Frith, No. 10049 of his Indian series; Bourne and Shepherd, and others), always meet with a ready sale.

It would therefore seem superfluous on the part of the Municipality of Lucknow to pull down one building, which is at any rate intimately connected with his end, and has been for nearly thirty years identified with his name, and erect a memorial pillar on another spot, however close to the site of the structure they propose to destroy.

11. I must now beg you, Gentlemen, to bear with me a little longer, as I consider it advisable to take some notice of a leading article on the "Neill's Gate" incident, which appeared in The Englishman of the 25th ultimo; taking up those passages in it which concern us, and omitting such context as is quite irrelevant—

"About a year ago the public of Lucknow were surprised and disgusted to find that the monumental arch bearing the statue of General Neill, and the inscription regarding his death, was being made use of by the Lucknow Municipal Board as a fitting structure against which to shoot out the refuse of their conservancy carts. There was a loud protest against this disgraceful proceeding and it was put a stop to. The matter, however, evidently rankled in the Municipal breast, and at a recent meeting of the Board a resolution was passed to demolish the arch. Though for some years it has been customary for the Municipality to publish their proceedings in the local papers, the resolutions of the meeting in which the demolition of General Neill's Arch was decided upon, were, for obvious reasons, not brought to the notice of the public in the usual way, and the first intimation that the general public received of this unwarrantable act was the pulling down of the top stones of the arch. The statue had been bundled away some time previously, and had found

See supra for an account of the "statue" and its present whereabouts.

The delay in publishing the proceedings of the meeting of the Municipal Board in question was purely accidental, and was the result of the interruption to work in a printing office, caused by upwards of a week of Deschra and Moharram holidays.

The structure is entirely of brick and plaster.

a place among the dusty relics in the neighbouring Museum. When the work of demolition had reached the marble slab and inscription it was fortunately observed

* * * *

"On his own authority * * * at once stopped the work, and drove the jemadár off to the Commissioner of the Division and afterwards to the General Commanding the troops; the result of which prompt action was an order from the authorities to suspend operations for the present. * * * *

"The Lucknow monuments commemorate some of the most glorious feats of arms that the world has ever known, although in these piping times there is a tendency to decry them and to do away with the relics by which they are commemorated. It ought not to be necessary to remind the Local Government that they are the custodians of these monuments, which are not alone "reminders" of the Mutiny, as the authorities seem inclined to consider them, but memorials of the patient and heroic struggle in which our country fought not merely for their own lives but for the Empire.

The inscription slab, of ordinary Agra red sandstone, had been removed before the morning of the 6th October.

The appeal was made to these gentlemen as President and Member of the Managing Committee of the Provincial Museum, respectively, and not in their official capacities at all.

The "jemadár" (properly mistri in charge) was not taken to General Dillon's house, and the work was stopped, pending further orders, by the President of the Municipal Board.

The Local Authorities and the Provincial Government, so far as my own experience goes, and I can mention very many instances if necessary, have at all times listened most patiently to various suggestions regarding certain historical remains in this City and elsewhere, and I know that we owe, in a great measure, the happy termination of the present "Neill's Gate" incident to the kind offices of the head of our local Administration, Mr. M. A. McConaghey, B.C.S.

Nay, more, the Provincial Government have at all times done all that they reasonably could to interest every one, non-officials as well as officials, in the initial steps necessary to secure the preservation of such relics. See inter alia, Oudh General Circular No. 5-464 of 1876 (from the Junior Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Oudh, to all Civil Officers in Oudh, dated Lucknow, 1st February, 1876), regarding the preparation of lists of such remains, which, in para. 4 called upon

Deputy Commissioners to communicate with any non-officials in their districts who might take an interest in such things, and generally invited all officers of Government, who had the opportunity, to assist in the matter. This circular has been followed up by many others of similar purport, which it is needless to cite; and it would be easy to give many instances of their good results.

"Under the present régime, Lucknow has been embellished with some astonishing buildings of more than questionable taste and utility. Prominent among these is a huge Clock Tower, reminding one irresistibly of a factory chimney; and near it are several ugly and badly built edifices, the object of which forms the subject of constant debate. It is enough to say that these structures owe their existence to the Public Works Department."

* * * *

In defence of my absent friend, the designer of the Clock Tower, Mr. R. R. Bayne, M.R.I.B.A., whose many works in Bengal are much admired, permit me to remark that the commission he undertook, for a private Endowment, was a somewhat difficult task, inasmuch as he was asked to design a definite structure, which was to be erected on a site, closely surrounded by as incongruous a group of buildings, some of them very fine ones 'tis true, (e.g., the Rumi Darwázá and the Great Imámbará) but all differing as much in style, period and purpose, as it is possible to imagine.

Any one who possesses a knowledge of the art of architectural design, well-knows how difficult it is to work out an idea, when fettered by conditions such as the above, and, so far as we can judge from remarks made by competent judges, the designer has accomplished this task, most successfully, by his clever adaptation of the Moresque, Giralda of Seville, a very suitable type to follow.

The actual work of building, involving the elaboration of all the working drawings, and arranging many other details, (possibly held by some as petty, but which, if conscientiously worked out, as it is believed that they have been in this instance, ensure more than anything else the success of all work) was carried out most creditably, if I may be permitted to say so, by Mr. Perks, lent for that duty by the Public Works Department, whose handiwork is well-known to many of us here.

The other buildings referred to, by whom designed or adapted I know not, assuming those new ones near the Clock Tower to be meant, appear to be very successful when due allowance is made, as in all fairness we must do, for the many hampering local conditions as to site and cost, by which their execution was surrounded.

12. "Not a Civilian" in his letter published in the Pioneer of the 25th October, alludes to the gateway on the Sháh Najaf Road as being a "real obstruction," and "commemorating nothing," both of which statements can hardly be supported by facts. It has many and very varied associations connected with it, and when it was proposed, about 1868-69, it is believed, to pull it down, this course was strongly opposed by some of the leading officials here at the time. The archway was then strengthened by iron tie rods, and I hope that it may yet remain as it is, for many a day to come, a landmark of great interest.

13. Having now dealt with the particular case of "Neill's Gateway" somewhat in detail, in order to show that I did not hastily or without due grounds take the action I did, I desire to avail myself of this opportunity to offer a few remarks on the general question of the preservation of historical monuments, and by this term I hold to be included, not only rude barrows or mounds of a remote antiquity, or remains of the Gupta, Buddhist, Hindú, or Moslem periods, but all buildings, of any Period or Dynasty, up to those of this very day, which possess either historic or artistic value, concerning which the Government of India has emphatically declared that :—

"The preservation of ancient monuments of historical or archæological interest is an essential duty of every civilized Government.

The Government of India has received from its predecessors an inheritance of such monuments which, for variety, extent, completeness, and beauty is perhaps unequalled, but certainly unsurpassed, throughout the world. So vast, indeed, has been this inheritance that the full magnitude of it can only be gradually ascertained ; but a few years ago the first authorities on the subject were of opinion that only one-half of the remains known to exist had been explored ; while the result of the recent excavation at Gandhara and Bharhut indicates the value and variety of the sculpture, the art, treasures, and the pictures, of social life in ancient days, which further research is likely to recover from the numberless buried cities of this empire."

I need hardly dwell upon the history of the adoption of the means taken by various nations to ensure the preservation of their ancient historical monuments, but as an argument in favor of the mere utilitarian desirability of doing so, we may certainly hold that, if an eminently practical nation, the Americans, spend such large sums from their State Treasury in compiling and publishing such admirable accounts as they do of the historical remains in their country, ranging from the giant cities of Mexico to the Indian mounds, and other remains of the North, we may be sure that they find it to be a material and political advantage in every way to do so. Not only does the United States Government spend large sums annually on such surveys and memoirs, &c., but I believe there is no other country where, in proportion to the number of its inhabitants, there are so many local historical societies, all busily engaged in reverently preserving, and making available for general study and example, the interesting records and relics, not only of what may be called the Prehistoric Period, but those of the Pilgrim Fathers and other early settlers in that country.

14. I believe, most sincerely, that the wanton destruction of historical buildings or other similar remains, unless in very exceptional cases, in this or any other country, is a political blunder of the first magnitude ; and that, especially in India, such action must ever be fraught with evil consequences, which, although they may not be immediately apparent, nevertheless exist.

One of the noblest traits in the character of Sir Henry Lawrence was his regard for such things, finely brought out in a time of imminent peril, and when the necessities of preparing for the worst would fully have justified another course. It is needless for me to remind you under what circumstances he came to Lucknow, but shortly after his arrival here he wrote to Lord Canning as follows:—" The improvements in the City have gone on very fast—too fast and too roughly. Much discontent has been caused by demolition of buildings, &c., and still more by threats of further similar measures. * * * I have visited many of these places and pacified parties and prohibited any * * * or demolitions without competent authority." (Letter of April, 1857, quoted in Kaye, Vol. III, page 429, Edition of 1876.)

15. Later on, the same principle was embodied in the Secretary of State's despatch of 13th October, No. 4 of 1858, to the Governor-General of India in Council, in para. 6 of which it is stated that, although there was doubtless exaggeration in certain complaints that had been preferred, "it is possible that in the arrangements made for the appropriation of the public buildings of Lucknow to administrative purposes, there may not have been, in all cases, that consideration shown for * * * suddenly deprived of their legitimate protector, that would have become a great and generous nation, after such an assertion of its power over a weaker State" (H. C. Paper, East India (Oudh), 426 of 12th July, 1861.)

16. We cannot, surely, accept as a principle for our guidance that a memorial of other days or men is to be doomed to obliteration simply because it is "ugly" or even an "obstruction." I have now in my mind's eye the antique bronze figure of a lion, set up, on a high broad pedestal, in the Burg-Platz of an historical town in North Germany. The lion is perhaps wanting in dignity and grace, and its modeller had evidently received little or no instruction whatever in animal anatomy, while the bustle and toil of our over busy-modern life is certainly impeded by its pedestal, around which, specially on a market or festival day, the surging crowd, of eager, hard-headed, practical men and women, is deflected and probably inconvenienced; but the figure was placed there in A.D. 1166 by Henry the Lion, and I feel sure that it will be many a long day before the Burghers of that City propose to remove it, either because it obstructs their roadway, or offends against some arbitrary canon of taste.

17. Of course, when, in a case like that of Nüremberg at the present moment, it has become absolutely necessary, for various reasons, to remove part of the old City walls and some of the houses, then by all means do so, but let the measure have due consideration, and, as is done in the case cited, preserve as much as possible of the carved wood or stone work, &c., by removing all such to some Local Museum, having first recorded, by means of accurate plans and permanently printed photographs, an abiding memento of the structures themselves.

18. I have heard it argued, of course never authoritatively or perhaps even deliberately, that the preservation of relics of by-gone days and dynasties in this country serves no useful purpose, is a mere sentiment and ought to be discouraged. This view, however, is very far from being a general one, and I am sure that an overwhelming majority of the dwellers in India, no matter of what nationality or creed, would, by every proper means in their power, indignantly and formally repudiate any such doctrine, were it necessary to do so. How widely such a view differs from that which breathes forth from every line of Lord Dalhousie's celebrated Minute (dated 2nd November, 1855), on the preservation and maintenance of the Tomb, and other Memorials, of Tippu Sultan at Seringapatam.

19. It is astonishing what a power in the world "sentiment" ever has been and still is. To illustrate my meaning, permit me, Gentlemen, to overstep the strict boundary line of "Indian History since 1500 A.D.," and cite a few cases in which, when great dynastic changes were made, those statesmen who had to arrange the details of such measures, by mutual concessions, on points of "sentiment," were able to arrange satisfactorily the other vital clauses of treaties, &c., or reconcile a nation to the inevitable.

Would the union of Scotland and England have been accomplished so satisfactorily as it was, had the Scottish Commissioners been refused their proposal that, when the coat armorial of the United Kingdom, quartered according to heraldic rules, was employed for Scots' national purposes, the arms of Scotland were to have the dexter or pre-eminent side? Or if the clause had been summarily set aside, which, however, after hot debate, was allowed to remain, which provides that certain of the palaces of the old Kings of Scotland, some of them little else than mere ruins, are to be for ever kept up and maintained, by funds provided from the revenues of the United Kingdom?

Would the Citizens of Hanover, or the dwellers in that Kingdom, have settled down into such loyal subjects of the German Empire, if in 1866 the Royal Demesne of Herrenhausen, with its fine parks, forests, and grass lands, had been turned into a stud farm? Or if the lime trees of its historical avenue had been cut down, to make more room for the villas of rich immigrants from other parts, who were anxious to secure building sites, offering high rates for such a "desirable locality?"

Distinctive facings and buttons, shoulder straps and plumes, and other badges of various sorts, are probably held by many "unsentimental" minds to be utterly useless and absurd deviations, entailing a certain extra expense, from a stereotyped "standard pattern," yet, strange to say, some of the greatest administrators the world has ever seen have retained such distinction as expedient, having doubtlessly perceived some very decided advantage by doing so.

Many of you are doubtless aware that it was seriously proposed, a very few years ago, to abolish the well-known plumed caps still worn by some of our Highland regiments. However, the intention was defeated by a happy combination of fact and fancy—or sentiment. The necessary returns having been moved for by a Scottish M. P., a scion of one of our oldest families, and formerly an officer in Her Majesty's Army, it was shown that, with the exception of the helmets of the Household Cavalry, and, I think, the R. H. A. busbys, the initial cost of these plumed caps was the highest of any of the various types of head coverings used in our Army. It was, however, proved from the same return, that although (to borrow some phrases from railway working) the "capital cost" was high, the "maintenance charges" were very low, while their "life" was extraordinary. Precise official records showed that about 500 or 600 of the plumes that were worn by some of the men of Sir Colin Campbell's beloved "Highland Brigade" at the Alma, had first waved, upwards of 40 years before, at a place called Waterloo, and intermediately had done good service all over the world. Given good plumes to start with, an occasional subjection to the inexpensive process (well-known to all good housewives, who possessing nice feathers, are compelled by the stern decrees of fashion to periodically re-trim their hats and bonnets) of "dipping" and "curling," combined with a renewal of the framework of wire, and the actual cap, renders these historical and picturesque head dresses "as good as new."

It was then decided to retain them.

As I write, I rejoice to see from a para. in the Times, of a recent date, that the good sense and public spirit of some members of the vestry of the Parish of Richmond has been the means of saving for ever the classical Hill, from the fangs of the "jerry builder," who had been coveting the "desirable site" for some time past.

20. For my own part I hold, and that very strongly, that the object and aim of the conservation of old relics, whether in the shape of buildings, or books, or other records, should be to derive some benefit or lesson from them, and by their aid endeavour, as Professor J. R. Seeley so tersely puts it, "not only to gratify our curiosity about the past, but modify our views of the present and our forecasts of the future." Let every one who preserves or studies such things draw his own lessons and conclusions therefrom, to suit his particular calling in life, taking care to avoid in so doing all pedantry and cant, or drifting into the habit of a mere "Dryasdust Philosopher;" steering clear of the faults—nay vices—so mercilessly scourged by Hogarth in his delineation of "Taste in High Life," nor giving way to an indiscriminate, aimless admiration, real or assumed, for anything, simply because it is old, or perhaps unique. Let us also beware, each of us, of the tendency, so tempting, of too rashly enunciating an opinion on imperfect or too hastily considered data, or of jumping to the conclusion one desires. This latter tendency, however, may perhaps be viewed as a pardonable weakness, so lovingly and amusingly rebuked in the character of "The Antiquary," who, withal, was an eminently practical character; witness his promptitude and success in taking steps to save some of his friends from drowning; and who also had a great deal of fine sympathy for the men and women of his own period around him, as evinced in the scene at the lowly funeral of Steenie Mucklebackit, the humble Forfarshire fisherman.

Mr. Constable, as member in charge of the "Department of Indian History since 1500 A. D.," then proposed:—

That the Provincial Government be addressed with a view to their constituting, should they approve of the suggestion, the Managing Committee of the Provincial Museum, the local representatives of the Archæological Department to which all such references, as are contemplated in paras. 2 and 3 of Circular No. 4, Public Works, Government of India, P. W. D., General, dated Simla, the 18th September, 1886, shall be made, in all cases arising within the limits of Lucknow City and Cantonments. As the Provincial Museum Committee believe that, aided by the records they already possess, and those they hope still to acquire, they will have at their command unrivalled facilities for dealing with all such cases, promptly and authoritatively, and also for securing a continuity of purpose and method, thereby assisting the Provincial Government and the Local Authorities to carry out the objects enumerated in, and aimed at by, the circular above cited.

NOTE.—For facility of reference, the Circular No. 4, Public Works Department, of 18th September, 1886, together with the paragraphs of the Public Works Department Code, referred to therein, are here reprinted.

Simla, September 8th, 1886.

SIR,—It has come to the knowledge of the Government of India that, owing to permission unfortunately granted by the local authorities to certain contractors to remove stone for construction purposes on the Rajputana-Malwa Railway, the extensive ruins of a city of high antiquity and historic interest, comprising several temples covered by earth or forest, have been opened up, and very large quantities of stone removed, thereby causing an irreparable loss.

2. The rules of the Public Works Department Code (Chapter III, 74 and 75, and XI, 6) provide for the care and preservation of buildings of architectural and historical interest, but it should be in future distinctly understood that this term comprises ancient ruins of all kinds, and mounds known or likely to contain ruins, and that in all cases of doubt no steps whatever should be taken otherwise than for their preservation, without the previous inspection and consent of the Archaeological Department.

3. His Excellency the Governor-General in Council trusts that, in the future, effective measures will be taken to prevent the destruction of any ruin of interest, and to ensure that officers of the Government in all Departments will act in the spirit of the preceding instructions, referring freely for information and advice to the Archaeological Department. His Excellency confidently reckons on the co-operation of the Local Governments and Administrations in this matter, and desires that the attention of officers charged with the construction of railways and other large works may be especially directed to the necessity for exercising the utmost care in enforcing observance of these instructions by their contractors and subordinates.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

CHAPTER III.—DUTIES OF DEPARTMENTAL OFFICERS.

EXECUTIVE ENGINEER.

* * * *

74. It is the duty of an Executive Engineer to suggest public improvements, and to prepare detailed designs for them, as far as he may be able to do so without permitting any interference with the prosecution of those designs or works especially ordered by superior departmental authority. He is also required to report on, and suggest measures for, the protection of any public monument, or building of architectural or historical interest, which appears likely to fall into decay, and he will be responsible for any neglect or destruction which he has failed to report.—See also Chapter XI, paragraph 6.

75. The term “public monument, or building of architectural or historical interest,” above, is intended to include all works of this class, whether public or private property. In the latter case, it will be for the Local Government to decide whether the Government shall take any further steps than those of endeavouring to influence the owners.

CHAPTER XI.—PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

GENERAL RULES.

* * * *

6. All buildings and monuments of historical or architectural interest should be carefully attended to as a matter of duty, and Executive and Superintending Engineers should keep Government fully informed as to their condition. See also Chapter III, paragraphs 74 and 75.

"THE EXPRESS."

LUCKNOW, 11TH DECEMBER, 1885.

General Neill.

To—The Editor of the Express.

DEAR SIR,—In the Lucknow Exhibition, few articles attracted more attention than the memorials of Sir Henry Lawrence which were on view in the Loan collection.

There was also a bust of Havelock which created much interest.

Of another gallant Mutiny soldier there was no memorial or relic in the Exhibition. There was mention of him indeed, for in Lewis's engraving of Barker's picture was shown "The Red Gate where General Neill was killed." The photograph stand in the picture gallery had some interesting views; among them, No. 6, showing the same gate with the old enclosures adjoining, which have been since removed, but which were once well known as "Dooley Square."

It is nearly thirty years since Neill met a soldier's death in the Relief of Lucknow, long enough in all conscience for his services to be forgotten.

Neill's Gate still exists. It is little better than an eyesore. Till lately a refuge for filth and garbage, it and its neighbourhood are even now the reverse of inviting looking. The statue which once surmounted the gate now reposes in a dusty corner of the local Museum, where its very existence is probably wellnigh forgotten.

Surely, Sir, the services of so gallant a soldier as Neill deserve that his memory should be more fittingly perpetuated. Though the elements of his character were not those which seized on the public imagination, as in the case of Lawrence and of Havelock, his services were not inferior to theirs. He was one of the "men of the hour." His daring spirit brooked no obstacle; and from the disarming at Benares to the moment when he met a soldier's death in Lucknow, at the very moment of victory, his record was a brilliant one.

Is it too much to ask that the country in whose service he spent himself should see that his memory is decently honoured. His Excellency the Viceroy may perchance see these lines. Let us hope that he will use his influence with the local authorities: the expression of the faintest wish on his part would surely be enough, and we may see Neill's statue recalled from dusty banishment, the gate and its approaches put in fairly decent order, and a gallant soldier's memory duly honoured.

Yours faithfully,

OLDENBUCK MINOR.

"THE EXPRESS."

LUCKNOW, 20TH JANUARY, 1886.

To—The Editor of the Express.

SIR,—Some time ago attention was called in the columns of your paper to the fact that the statue of General Neill was left neglected in a dusty corner of the Museum.

You then stated, on what you evidently thought was very good authority, that steps were being taken to remedy the matter.

Well, Sir, the statue of one of England's heroes is still in the same corner of the Museum, broken nosed and without an arm as before. Neill's Gateway, left to mark the spot where this gallant soldier was killed, has the same dirty, mottled appearance as ever, the plaster having fallen off in large patches, and the sides of the archway serving as latrines for the native servants of the neighbourhood and the casual passer-by. Now, Sir, I would put it as strongly as possible to those in authority, whether this is not rather a disgraceful state of things. In Heaven's name, if it is thought worth while to keep up a memorial here to General Neill, let the thing be decently done. If not, it would be infinitely better to do away with the archway altogether, and leave no excuse for the spot to be turned into something little better than a cesspool.

The memory of Neill deserves something better at our hands than the treatment it has met with in Lucknow, at least so far as public evidence goes, evinced in the dilapidated statue in the Museum, and the filthy state in which the neighbourhood of "Neill's Gate" may occasionally be seen.

Yours faithfully,

T. ATKINS.

"THE EXPRESS."

LUCKNOW, 23RD JANUARY, 1886.

An Exploded Grievance.

To—The Editor of the Express.

SIR,—Permit me to inform you that the statue which is causing some of your correspondents so many searchings of heart is not "the statue of one of England's heroes," but a figure which came from the Kaiser Bagh.

It was placed for some time on the top of what is known as Neill's Gateway and hence perhaps the legend that it is a statue of General Neill.

Yours faithfully,

W. F. WELLS,

21st January, 1886.

City Magistrate.

"THE EXPRESS."

LUCKNOW, 27TH JANUARY, 1886.

An Exploded Grievance.

To—The Editor of the Express.

SIR,—Under the above heading in your last issue appears an official disclaimer from the City Magistrate, saying that the statue in the Museum, popularly supposed to be General Neill's, has no connection with that great man, but is a figure which came from the Kaiser Bagh.

Mr. Wells is probably correct in his statement, almost certain to be right I should think. The popular fallacy on the subject was in a measure supported by an official looking statement in your local columns some weeks ago, when public attention was first invited to the matter, to the effect that you "learned on the best authority that the miniature statue of General Neill was to receive renovation at the hands of a local sculptor." It is evident that the fallacy is at any rate a deeply-rooted one.

Your correspondent in his brief communication altogether ignores the remaining part of the indictment, namely, the unworthy condition in which Neill's Gate and its surroundings are permitted to remain. This is a matter on which the public cannot help satisfying themselves, as the evidence as to its state appeals too strongly to the eye, and unfortunately to the nose occasionally also.

We shall perhaps be told in a season or two that this structure is not Neill's Gate at all, but an archway removed from the Badshah Bagh. I see that Mr. Wells is Gladstonian in his forms of expression, and is careful to particularise by speaking of the archway as what is known as Neill's Gateway.

If the gateway is the only memorial of General Neill that is left to us, surely the memory of the brilliant services of so gallant a soldier demands that it should be kept in a fairly decent condition.

No carping criticism underlies such a request. If you keep up a memorial of "one of England's heroes," let its existence reflect some credit on us, or else let it be demolished, so that its state may not constitute a reproach.

Yours faithfully,

A. ATKINS.

"THE EXPRESS."

LUCKNOW, 15TH DECEMBER, 1886.

General Neill.

To—The Editor of the Express.

DEAR SIR,—As a soldier, I was much interested in reading a letter signed "Olden-buck Minor" in the last issue of your paper.

It is hardly credible, and it certainly is not creditable, that the memorial of so good a soldier as General Neill should be treated as your correspondent describes.

We soldiers have always been taught that the Mutiny campaign was one which reflected credit on both our officers and men. Since then, of course, there have been greater campaigns: Tel-el-Kabir, Abyssinia, and more recently Burmah.

There were no "war correspondents" with Havelock and Neill's columns, but their exploits are still dearly cherished in the service.

If Government is too poor to do honour to the memory of a man who served it so gallantly and well, there are many private persons, I have no doubt, who would willingly contribute their mite to rescue General Neill's statue from the dusty obscurity of the Museum corner where your correspondent says it lingers.

If such an appeal could be legitimately made to the troops in this garrison, I am certain that it would be willingly responded to.

Yours faithfully,

THOMAS ATKINS,
Lance-Corporal.

General Neill.

To—The Editor of the Express.

SIR,—The attention that has been directed, in your columns, to the state of Neill's Gateway in Lucknow, and to the shoving away of the statue of this hero in a corner of the local Museum, may, it is to be hoped, bear fruit.

The cost of keeping the immediate neighbourhood of the Gateway clean and nice would not be much, nor would it require a large sum to replace the statue over the archway.

Last year when the question of the demolition of the Dilkusha Palace cropped up, it was pleaded on the part of local authorities that the place possessed no historic interest and was not one of the "landmarks" of the Mutiny struggle. Surely this argument, such as it is, will not hold good in the case of Neill's Gate. It will probably be conceded that the building has historic associations and is worth preserving in a decent state.

Government yearly allots money for the repair and preservation of ancient monuments. Neill's Gate and statue are hardly "ancient monuments" as yet, but the local authorities of Lucknow are apparently determined that neither shall ever survive to become an ancient monument, or to benefit by the existence of this grant.

Let us hope that for once a liberal view will be taken by those in power, and that what ought to be an honoured memorial of a good and gallant soldier, will no longer be a byword and reproach.

Yours faithfully,
MADRASSI.

* "Ganga Ashnan" festival.

The following is the Minute, dated 2nd November, 1855, referred to in para. 18 (page 232).

SERINGAPATAM.

- 1.—My journey through the Mysore territories has afforded me an opportunity of visiting this memorable fortress, the scene of events most glorious to the British name, and of happy augury for the people of Mysore.
- 2.—There are two objects within the island which are well worthy of the protection of the Supreme Government, and which call for its respectful care.
- 3.—The first of these objects is the Tomb in which rest the remains of Hyder Ally Khan and of Tippoo Sultan. The structure is well-preserved, as far as the means of its guardians will permit ; its interior and the gardens by which it is surrounded are well kept, and it is under the immediate charge of one of Tippoo Sultan's family. But it already feels the pressure of the hand of Time. The endowments are insufficient for maintaining it in complete repair, and some portion of it, more especially the inlaid doors, have already become dilapidated.
- 4.—The Tomb is itself an imposing structure, and an interesting specimen of the style of art which marked the days and the dynasties that are past. The Court of Directors have most cheerfully and liberally given their sanction to the general expenditure which I proposed to make for the purpose of preserving such works of art, for the instruction and gratification of the generations that shall come after. In this particular instance I feel certain that I correctly interpret the sentiments of the Honorable Court when recording my belief that it would be their especial desire to manifest an enduring respect for the last resting-place of brave and fallen enemies.
- 5.—I shall therefore request the Commissioner to take measures for replacing the worn-out inlaid doors of the Tomb, and for expending such sums upon it from time to time as may be required for its proper repair, whenever the funds of the endowments may be inadequate to meet such expense.

6.—The second object on the island to which I have alluded is the House in the Dowlat Bagh which was long occupied by the Duke of Wellington, then Colonel Wellesley, after the fall of Seringapatam, and when he held charge of the Mysore territories.

7.—This mansion, formerly a Garden-house of Tippoo Sultan, is traditionally known on the spot as the residence of “Wesly Sahib,” and I have just now seen and talked with an aged man, who remembers and describes his residing in it. This building, which has been unoccupied for some time past, and in which I now write these words, is visibly falling into decay. It is a purely Eastern residence ; and some of the walls are covered with paintings, executed by the orders of Tippoo and still traceable, though greatly faded, which represent the defeat of the British Force, under the command of Colonel Baillie. The paintings were partially obliterated by Tippoo during the last siege of Seringapatam, and were in the first instance restored by Colonel Wellesley himself.

8.—In all respects this structure is one full of interest, but it is

Letter from Colonel Wellesley to Colonel Rose, Trincomallee, December 30th, 1800, preserved in original in the records of the Commissioner's office at Bangalore: “I have received a letter from Lord Wellesley in which he talks of going through Mysore in the next season. * * He proposes to inhabit the Dowlat Bagh at Seringapatam, and although I think it very probable that the plan will never be put in execution, I shall be obliged to you if you will now and then take a look at my house, and urge forward the painting of it.”

most especially
reverential care
as the material

maining in India, most immediately and most vividly brings before us of this day the memory of that great man, with the early period of whose glorious career the East India Company must ever be proud to connect the history of its rule.

9.—I request therefore that the Commissioner will cause this house to be put into proper repair and to be maintained in that condition for the future. It should be upheld as nearly as possible in the condition in which it was left by Colonel Wellesley, and in which it still is. The paintings on the walls to which I have alluded above should be restored, if, as I am assured, their correct restoration can be effected by the aid of persons still living who remember them in their completeness. In further aid of the main object now held in view, the enclosure of the Dowlat Bagh shall not be suffered to fall into decay.

- 10.—The Commissioner will be so good as to place this Minute upon his records, and upon those of the office of the Superintendent, Ashtagram Division, who will consider this building as at all times an object of his special attention.
- 11.—When the separate Department of Public Works shall have been organized in Mysore, Colonel Wellesley's House in the Dowlat Bagh at Seringapatam will form a separate head of account, and a separate head in each Annual Report of the Chief Engineer.
- 12.—By this means I trust that the building, with all his memories and associations, may long be preserved for the contemplation and reverence of generations to come.

ASSISTANT CURATOR'S REPORT FOR NOVEMBER, 1886.

DURING the month of November, 111 birds were added to the Ornithological Section; of these 9 were received from donors and the rest were collected by the Museum Collector. The accessions in the other departments of the Museum during the month were:—1 gold coin of Kumara Gupta Mahendra, 1 silver coin of Sháhjahán, 1 gold punched coin adopted by Yusuf Adil Sháh of Bijapur, 2 silver coins of Aurangzeb's time, and 5 copper coins of different periods; a specimen of ancient brick found in the Rae Bareli district, 2 specimens of stone shell and a fragment of a gun found during the excavation of the buildings adjacent to the Residency in 1857, and a collection of art objects produced by the Jeypore School of Art. (Appendix A.)

2. One hundred and fourteen birds and 2 mammals were prepared and placed in the Museum during the month. Of these, 112 specimens were only skinned. (Appendix B.)

3. The total number of visitors to the Museum during the month was 56,228, of whom 27,482 were native males and 27,953 native females, and 468 European males and 325 European females. The considerable increase in the number of native visitors during this month is due to the fact that the Museum was largely attended on the Kartiki Purnima bathing day, which fell on the 11th of November, on which day alone nearly $\frac{3}{5}$ ths of the total number visited the institution. Taking the normal attendance for that day the daily average for the month was 745. (Appendix C.)

4. Twenty-two additions were made to the Library during the month, of which 6 were departmental reports and 10 fortnightly or monthly journals and periodicals. (Appendix D.)

5. The work done by the taxidermists and carpenters is shown in Appendix E.

Proposed by Mr. Constable that the desired aid to the Museum at Florence be given in the shape of a collection of such objects of Native Art as could be procured without incurring any great expense. The proposal was carried and it was RESOLVED that a collection of the objects indicated by Mr. Constable be made for the above Museum.

5. RESOLVED,—That the distribution of the Budget expenditure under the several departments of the Museum for the ensuing year, which was to be considered at this Meeting, be deferred till the next Ordinary Meeting of the Committee.

T

No. 75G.M., dated Camp Naini Tal, the 28th June, 1887.

To—Secretary to Government, N.-W. Provinces and Oudh.

Sir,—I have the honor to submit, for the information of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner, the report of the Committee of the Provincial Museum, Lucknow, for the year ending 31st March, 1887.

2. Management.—Committee meetings were held regularly throughout the year at which the attendance was good. The Managing Committee was augmented by the addition of Mr. Ridley, Superintendent of the Horticultural Gardens, who has taken charge of the Economic Section. Several changes occurred owing to the transfer of members to other stations; and the Committee have placed on record their sense of the great loss sustained by the death of Thákur Bishwanath Bakhsh, Talúqdár of Hasnapur, a native gentleman whose keen intelligence and interest in scientific pursuits were well known. Owing to various changes detailed in the report, considerable improvements were effected in the working of the subordinate establishments.

3. Collections.—The total number of specimens added shows some increase, viz., 6,234 against 6,065 in the previous year. Of these the greater number were contributions and additions by purchase to the Natural History Section, but all sections are well represented, and the Committee are much indebted to external aid from many contributors. The catalogue of the birds prepared by Mr. George Reid was published during the year, and has deservedly met with much appreciation. Catalogues have been prepared, and are ready for publication, for the most part, of the library and of the archaeological, numismatic, and art-ware collections. The display of all collections to the best advantage by the adoption of suitable cases, an expensive item of expenditure, is receiving great attention, and considerable progress has already been effected. A detailed account is given of the successful efforts of the Committee in the direction of facilitating local sale of provincial art-wares, and in assisting foreign museums and exhibitions towards procuring representative collections.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

4. Attendance.—According to the number of visitors returned by the door-keepers, attendance fell off very considerably: still an attendance of upwards of 295,000 must be considered very satisfactory. As pointed out by the Committee, the present system of enumeration is far from reliable, and it is to be hoped that the Committee may in course of time be able to afford self-registering turnstiles. In the absence of an overbridge to connect the main building or Lál Bārādari with the Farhat Bakhsh, the library and economic collections in the latter building are to a certain extent overlooked by the public. The Committee allude to this defect and contemplate its removal so soon as funds are available.

5. Finance.—The Government grant for the year amounted to Rs. 18,000, all of which was expended save Rs. 96. By contributions and petty sales, the receipts amounted to Rs. 1,684, and the net cost, therefore, to Government amounted to Rs. 16,220.

6. Appendices B, C and E contain the names of those to whom the Committee are indebted for donations. I venture to suggest that these lists be published in the Government Gazette.

No. 170, dated Lucknow, the 16th June, 1887.

From—H. S. BOYS, Esq., President, Provincial Museum

Committee, Lucknow,

To—Director, Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture,

N.-W. P. and Oudh.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the following report on the administration of the Provincial Museum, Lucknow, during the 12 months ending on the 31st March, 1887, for the information of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the North Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh.

1. Committee of Management.—During the year the following changes took place in the Committee of Management:—

Major-General Dillon, C.B., left Lucknow to assume command of the Rawal Pindi Division; Mr. A. H. Harington, on transfer, was succeeded by the Honourable M. A. McConaghey, C.S., as Commissioner and ex-officio President; during the absence of the President on leave, Lieutenant-Colonel F. Currie officiated as President of the Managing Committee. To fill up the vacancies caused during this and the previous year, the following gentlemen were appointed members of the Managing Committee :—

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

Colonel J. Haughton, R.A. ;

Lieutenant-Colonel M. Tweedie, Bo.S.C. ;

Dr. J. Cleghorn, Civil Surgeon, Lucknow.

With a special view to the charge of the Economic Section, Mr. M. Ridley was appointed a member of the Committee of Management. During the absence of Mr. Pirie on sick leave, Dr. Führer acted as Secretary in the months of May, June and July. Ordinary meetings have been held regularly every month, except in December, when there was no important business. A special meeting was held on the 8th April to consider Dr. Hoey's proposal to establish a journal in connection with the Museum. The average attendance at each meeting was six members besides the Curator.

2. Ordinary members and corresponding secretaries.—No additions have been made during the year to the list of ordinary members and corresponding secretaries. Sir Rana Shankar Bakhsh, K.C.I.E., Maharája Partab Narayan Singh, Nawáb Suleiman Qadr, Kunwar Harnam Singh, C.I.E., Thákur Bishwanath Bakhsh, J. H. Rivett-Carnac, Esq., C.I.E., and Dr. Hoey attended some of the meetings. The Committee desire to record their regret for the loss they have sustained by the death of Thákur Bishwanath Bakhsh, Talúqdár of Hasnapur, Rae Bareli district, a gentleman of great intelligence and deeply interested in scientific pursuits.

3. Establishment.—Dr. A. Führer held charge of the Curatorship, except while on tour as Assistant Archæological Surveyor, when Babu Gangadhar Ganguli, the Assistant Curator, officiated in charge. A daftri has been added to the establishment for service in the office and library. Instead of two almost useless shikaris on low rates of pay, one man of considerable experience in collecting Natural History specimens was appointed in September on double pay, and this change has hitherto been found productive of good results. Two farrashes have been added to the establishment, whose work of cleaning and dusting cases and specimens has made considerable improvement in the appearance of the Museum. The Curator has several times endeavoured to secure as chaprasis soldiers who have received their discharge from the Native Army, but without success. They object principally to the long hours, sunrise to sunset, during which they have to be present. The fact that the Museum chaprasis have no longer the smallest hope of obtaining fees from visitors may have something to do with their objections. The appearance of the Museum servants has much improved, and they are now a smart, intelligent, and vigilant set of men. One of them was recommended for a reward by the City Magistrate of Lucknow for apprehending a young Muhammadan in the act of opening with a screw-driver a case containing valuable exhibits. A nominal-roll of the officers and servants in the employ of the Committee is given in Appendix A.

4. Museum.—The total number of specimens received into the Museum during the past year amounts to 6,234. Arranged under their various heads, these are divided as follows :—

Natural History	5,134
Artistic	138
Ethnological	60
Archæological	58
Numismatic	171
Geological	500
Conchological	78
Economic	46
Miscellaneous	49
Total				6,234

Of this total, 4,395 specimens were obtained by purchase, 610 Natural History specimens were collected by the Museum shikáris, and 1,229 exhibits were presented to the Museum. Appendix B is a nominal list of the donors, with the classification of their donations.

Natural History Section.—The specimens received into the Natural History Section are thus classed :—

Mammalia	45
Aves	926
Aves' eggs	348
Reptilia	7
Reptilia eggs	8
Insecta (butterflies)	3,800

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

A valuable collection of butterflies, comprising 1,000 species or 3,800 specimens, collected in Sikhim, was purchased. Of the remaining 1,334 specimens, 277 were donations, 447 were purchased, and 610 collected by the Museum shikaris. The catalogue of birds, prepared by Mr. G. Reid, has been published, and received very favourable notices in the public press. Systematic efforts are being made to secure for the Museum a representative collection of the larger mammalia. The difficulties to be overcome are owing to the following causes :—

- (1) the larger mammalia are, as a rule, obtained only by large and expensively-organized shooting parties :
- (2) most sportsmen prefer to retain as trophies the skins, horns, &c., of the finest specimens of their prowess :
- (3) the field preparation of specimens intended for the Museum requires more time and patience than hunting-parties can usually afford :
- (4) even when received, the limited skill of the Museum taxidermists is not always equal to the task of setting up these large specimens in a style fit for public exhibition.

Art Section.—This section now contains a very fair collection of the artistic products of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. Of very expensive specimens, such as gold and silver articles and rich brocades, the number is necessarily limited ; but all the moderate-priced varieties of art-ware, many of which are manufactured in remote and obscure villages, are well represented. During the year 138 specimens were added, of which 53 articles were donations. The most notable addition is a carved doorway from Mainpuri, the panels being of tarkashi or inlaid brass wire work. The other additions comprised specimens of turned stone work and silver-ware from Hamírpur ; a large printed cotton ceiling cloth from Fatehpur ; cloths of various descriptions from Sandíla, Partágarh, and Budaun ; peasant jewellery from several districts ; koftgari and brass-ware from Jeypore ; and old Lucknow brass and bidri-ware. A descriptive catalogue of the art-ware in the Museum is in course of preparation. In connection with this section, a department was opened in January of last year for the sale of art-ware. The capital consisted of a donation of Rs. 1,400 made to the Museum by Rája Ajit Singh of Partábgarh. The objects aimed at were twofold :

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

- (1) the development of the artistic industries of the Provinces by acting as a means of communication between the purchasing public and the almost inaccessible producer ;
- (2) the maintaining of a better collection of art-ware in the Museum, the circulation caused by sales and new purchases preventing the deterioration of specimens through long exposure to light and dust.

In addition to the purchases made from the comparatively small capital, many of the dealers in art-ware send consignments of articles on their own responsibility, receiving payment as sales are effected. The results of a year's experience prove the success of the undertaking. The Museum has been enabled to display a large and attractive collection of fresh and bright-looking art-ware, the artizans have been encouraged to produce a higher class of work and especially to suit their productions to the public demands, and the purchasing public have availed themselves of the opportunity to secure with a minimum of trouble and expense the much-prized artistic wares of Upper India. This department has also been useful in supplying representative collections of Indian art-ware to museums and exhibitions in Europe and the Colonies. During the official year ending on the 31st March, 1887, the total sales amounted to Rs. 4,366, of which Rs. 3,625 was for the last six months, October to March inclusive. This department is self-supporting but no more, the profits for the year being less than two rupees.

Archæological Section.—There have been 58 additions to this section during the year, of which 21 were presented by Dr. Hoey, three were sent through Lieutenant-Colonel Pitcher, and 34 were collected by Dr. Führer on tour. Dr. Hoey's contribution comprised a number of ancient seals, a bronze dragon, and several inscriptions from Sahét Mahét, together with an inscription from Etáwah. The lambardár of Manwa, Sitapur district, through Lieutenant-Colonel Pitcher, presented the Museum with two statues of Vishnu in his Vámana and Varáha incarnations, and an ancient stone mill. Dr. Führer collected from the Jaunpur masjids and bridge several fine specimens of Buddhistic and Vishnuitic carved stone work and one inscription. He also obtained from Bitha, Saripur, Garhwa, and Kosam, in the Allahabad district, some fine Buddhistic relics and sculptures of the Gupta period, two with inscriptions; and from the Rikhian caves and Pura in the Bônda district he sent in an image of the Chausat Joginis and a portion of a frieze of a Brahmanical temple. During the year the archæological exhibits have been arranged and set up; the catalogue of inscriptions is now being published; and the detailed and classified catalogue of the Jain, Buddhist and Brahmanical sections is ready for the press.

Numismatics.—The coins received have been as follows:—

				Gold.	Silver.	Copper.
Presented	3	65	89
Purchased	1	...	2
Total				4	65	91

Two gold coins of Râja Govinda Chandra Deva were presented by Lieutenant-Colonel Harrison, B.S.C.; one gold punched coin of Yusuf Adil Shâh of Bijapur was presented by the Bombay Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society; and one gold coin of Kumâra Gupta Mahendra was purchased. Besides the above, 11 impressions of old Gupta coins in the Ermitage Imperial of St. Petersburg were presented by Mr. Vincent Smith. Of the silver coins, 57 are Muhammadan, two are of the Varâha Dynasty of Vijayanagara, one is Indo-Sassanian, and five Thibetan. The copper coins comprised one Buddhist, two Hindu, 86 Muhammadan, and two Kashmir. A complete catalogue raisonné of the Museum collection of coins is ready for publication.

Economic Section.—The additions to the Economic Section comprise a collection of fishing and fowling contrivances used by the Thârus, presented by the Mahârâni of Balrâmpur, and a series of beautifully-constructed models, with photographs illustrating the transit of timber down the mountains, presented by the Conservator of Forests, School Circle, Dehra Dûn. A supply of exhibition glass bottles has been ordered from England for the preservation and suitable display of the large collection of seeds, oils, &c., in this section.

Miscellaneous sections.—The Geological Section received a well-assorted collection, containing 500 specimens illustrating the mineralogy of Europe, which was presented by Mr. Hederstedt. Colonel Haughton presented a beautiful assortment of 78 specimens of the shells of the Andaman Islands. From Mr. Hercules Ross, C.S., Commissioner of Kumaun, the Museum received a valuable and very interesting collection illustrative of the habits and customs of the people of Thibet. This comprised garments of cloth and fur, boots, knives, pipes, a saddle, a tinderbox and steel, a table, ink, drugs, borax, and even coins and two packets of gold-dust. The section of Modern Indian History received a fine carved marble fountain found in the Zahúr Bakhsh Palace, and presented to the Museum by the Reverend W. Latham, Church Mission Society. Mr. Hilton presented a specimen of the stone shells used as missiles during the siege of the Residency. The Ethnological Section was enriched by the purchase from the Jeypore Museum of a neat and well-got-up collection of 60 papier-maché heads illustrating the facial types and methods of tying the pagri among the tribes of Rájputána.

5. Library.—The additions to the Library have been as follows:—

Books	...	92, in 147 volumes.
Reports	...	70.
Periodicals	..	113.
Catalogues	...	19.
Photographs	...	19.

Of the above only five books, two reports, and 48 periodicals were purchased, the rest having been acquired by donations, chiefly from various Government Departments. In addition to the above, 38 oriental books and manuscripts were received from the Library of Queen's College, Benares. The Library catalogue is nearly ready for the press.

6. Cases and furniture.—The work of replacing the old cases of obsolete designs by new ones is progressing. The Natural History Section has received 19 new pillar cases for the exhibition of set-up specimens of birds, five new cases with drawers for study specimens and duplicates of birds, and four cases for exhibiting mammals. Of the cases presented by Mr. Hume, 23 have been reconstructed to suit the Museum requirements. The Art Section has received seven new glass-cases, one case with drawers for delicate fabrics, and four stands for pictures and photographs. The Economic Section received four glass-almirahs; and for the Geological Section, 18 glass-cases sent from Roorkee were refitted in the Museum. The additions to the Library fittings were one table and 14 stands for pictures and photographs. Besides the above, the glass-case containing the Residency model has been reconstructed on an improved plan, shelves and stands have been added in various sections, and the office furniture has been improved. Experience having shown that it is next to impossible to obtain in India a supply of good glass for cases at reasonable rates, an order has been sent to Messrs. Chance Brothers of Smethwick for a trial consignment of suitable glass. Should this turn out satisfactory, the great difficulty in the work of refitting the Museum will have been removed. The larger proportion of the new cases have hitherto been constructed in the railway workshops, with admirable results, as regards style and finish, but at a very high cost. The cases still to be supplied, being principally for the Art Section and Library, are of simple design, and will be constructed by native workmen.

7. Visitors.—Judged by the number of visitors reported, the Museum would seem to have declined very considerably in public appreciation. The following table shows the comparative attendance for 1885-86 and 1886-87:—

Year.	Natives.			Europeans.			Grand. Total.
	Men.	Women	Total.	Men.	Women.	Total.
1885-86 ...	255,337	176,200	431,537	6,536	5,049	11,585	443,122

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

How much of this decrease is really due either to a more strict method of enumeration, or to the negligence of the door-keeper, is a matter for conjecture. The method of counting at present is to put one tamarind seed for each visitor into one of four boxes representing the above classes. The enumerator is a chaprási, and there is little or no check on his arithmetic. Until a self-registering tell-tale, similar to those used in public institutions at home, be fixed at the door, very little reliance can be placed in the figures professing to give the number of visitors. The one fact patent is that the Museum is daily visited by eight or nine hundred people of all sorts and conditions.

8. Finance—The receipts of the Museum amounted to Rs. 1,684-6-9, derived from the following sources :—

By Municipal contributions :—

			Rs.	a.	p.
Lucknow Municipality	1,200	0	0
Gorakhpur ditto	148	8	0
Hardoi ditto	131	8	0
By sale of old exhibits	78	1	0
Total	1,684	6	9

The whole of the above sum was paid into the treasury to the credit of the Museum. The expenditure amounted Rs. 17,904-3-9 against the sanctioned allotment of Rs. 18,000. Pending the negotiations for a suitable piece of land for a macerating-house and servants' quarters, no portion of the amount sanctioned for this purpose was spent. The money available from this source and the savings effected under other heads of expenditure was, with the sanction of Government, devoted as follows :—

			Rs.	a.	p.
Purchase of specimens	46	2	0
Construction of cases	662	13	0
Purchase of glass bottles for economic products	896	10	3

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

The above transfer of funds accounts for the excess expenditure under various heads as detailed in Appendix F. Deducting receipts from the gross expenditure, the net cost to Government for maintaining the Museum for the year under report has been Rs. 16,219-13-0.

Conclusion.—In addition to the usual work of collecting and arranging specimens, the management of the Museum during the year under report has been directed towards supplying new cases and compiling catalogues. All this will have to go on for another year at least, and as soon as the catalogues are in the press, the much-needed work of labelling will have to be commenced. The Economic Section wants arrangement and organization; the Library is not yet accessible to the public; and, indeed, the Farhat Bakhsh building, in which these two important sections of the Museum are located, is hardly ever visited by the public. Until the over-bridge designed to connect the two buildings is constructed, the Museum, so far as the public are concerned, will, as at present, be limited to the Lál Báradari. The Committee hope, however, before the end of the next official year, to see all these wants supplied, and so to have for the entertainment and instruction of the people of the united Provinces a Museum one in itself and complete in all its parts.

N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM.

No. $\frac{1043}{1-299}$, dated Naini Tal, the 8th August, 1887.

From—W. C. BENNETT, Esq., C.S., Chief Secretary to Government,
N.-W. P. and Oudh,

To—The Dir. of Land Records and Agri., N.-W. P. and Oudh.

SIR,—I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. $\frac{T}{75}$ G.M., dated 28th June, 1887, forwarding the report of the President, Provincial Museum Committee, on the administration of the Lucknow Museum during the year 1886-87.

2. The number of visitors is said to have decreased from 900,000 in 1884, and 443,000 in 1885, to 295,000. This may be partly due to the novelty of the Museum having worn off; but the system of computing the visitors by the number of seeds dropped into boxes by a chaprasi is no doubt, as the Committee believe, unreliable; and the attendance for previous years may have been overstated. The connection of the library and economic section of the Museum with the main building by an overbridge, which the Committee hope to effect during the present year, may be expected to add to its attractiveness.

3. Several changes took place among the Members of the Committee during the year; and the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner shares your regret at the loss the Museum has sustained by the death of Thakur Bishwanath Bakhsh, Taluqdār of Hasnapur, a gentleman who was much interested in scientific pursuits. The establishment has been partially remodelled under the Curatorship of Dr. Führer, and the total expenditure was Rs. 17,904, of which Rs. 16,220 were spent from the Government grant of Rs. 15,000, and Rs. 1,684 from municipal contributions and receipts from petty sales. About Rs. 1,600 went to defray the construction of show-cases and purchase of glass bottles for the exhibition of economic products.

4. A large number of specimens was received during the year, principally in the Natural History Section. Most of the additions were private contributions, and the names of the gentlemen to whom the Committee are indebted for donations will, in accordance with your suggestion, be published in the Gazette. Catalogues have been prepared of the collections in several sections; that of the birds, by Mr. George Reid, has met with deserved commendation. A very useful section for the sale of art-ware was opened during the year, with funds provided by Rájá Ajit Singh of Partábgarh; it has been self-supporting, and has been of great advantage both to the purchasing public and to the producers.

5. The Provinces are much indebted to the Committee who have administered the affairs of the Museum during the year, and to whose care and superintendence the success of this valuable institution is entirely attributable. I am to ask you to convey to them the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner's appreciation of their labours, and of the liberality of the gentlemen who have enriched the Museum collections with numerous and valuable exhibits.

1. THE minutes of last meeting were read and approved.
2. The Secretary reported that His Honor Sir Alfred Lyall, K.C.B., had presented to the Museum—
 - (1) 58 volumes for the Library as per list in Appendix D to the Curator's Report for April, 1887 :
 - (2) Two Jain images, being (a) a statue of Adinath, inscribed 1219 Samvat, and (b) a statue of Mahaviranath (white marble) from the Panjáb :
 - (3) A Brahmanical statue, being a representation of the Seven Mothers.

RESOLVED.—That the thanks of the Committee be sent to Sir Alfred Lyall for these valuable donations.

3. The Curator reported the receipt of 17 cases containing a collection of economic specimens prepared by the Economic Museum, Calcutta, for the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

RESOLVED.—That Mr. Ridley be requested to report upon the state in which the collection was received, for the information of Government.

4. The Secretary reported that when in Calcutta, at the end of March, he enquired about the collection of Ethnological specimens which the Bengal Government had undertaken to have made in the Calcutta School of Arts for the Museum, and was informed that the School of Arts were then engaged on a collection for another Museum, and that no definite period could be stated for the completion of the Lucknow collection. The Secretary further reported that a sum of Rs. 5,000, presented by the Mahārani of Balrampur to pay for the abovementioned collection, was lying uninvested in the Bank of Bengal.

RESOLVED.—That the Secretary write demi-officially to Dr. Geo. Watt, C.I.E., for information regarding the collection; and that, should no definite period for its completion be assigned, the money be invested in Government Securities.

5. The Secretary reported that, on the 21st of March, a Muhamadan youth was apprehended by Dhani, chaprasi, in the act of attempting to open, with a screw-driver, one of the Museum cases containing valuable articles, and read docket No. 1954, dated April 5th, 1887, from the City Magistrate of Lucknow, recommending that a reward be paid to the chaprasi as a recognition of his honesty and zeal.

RESOLVED.—That Dhani, chaprasi, receive a reward of Rs. 5 in accordance with the City Magistrate's recommendation.

6. With reference to Resolution 3 of Meeting 3, dated 28th May, 1886, regarding skylights in the Ornithological Section of the Museum, the Secretary was directed to write to the Nazul Department asking what action had been taken.

7. It was proposed by the Secretary, seconded by Mr. Hederstelt, and carried unanimously, that His Honor the Lieutenant Governor be asked to allow the Museum to be henceforth styled "The Lyall Museum." That it is owing to Sir Alfred Lyall personally that the Provincial Museum has been raised from its former condition of an obscure curiosity shop to its present status of an institution representative of the Arts, Industries and Products, as well as of the Natural and Archæological History of the united provinces; that it is Sir Alfred Lyall personally who has given the Museum an organic constitution under which its future progress is certain; that, in short, it is Sir Alfred Lyall who has created and provided for the maintenance of an institution with which we as Members of the Committee of Management are proud to be connected; and that, feeling this, we are convinced that no greater honor can be conferred on the Museum as an institution, and on us as its working committee, than that it should be allowed to bear henceforth the name of Sir Alfred Lyall, its more than founder.

RESOLVED.—That the Secretary ascertain demi-officially from His Honor whether such a step would be acceptable before forwarding an official letter on the subject.

8. The Curator brought forward a correspondence between himself and Mr. Rivett-Carnac, C.I.E., regarding exchange of coins.

RESOLVED.—That Dr. Führer, as Member in charge of the Archæological section, has full authority to arrange such matters to the best of his judgment.

9. The Curator brought to the notice of the Committee that the lower floor of the Lal Baradari required whitewashing.

The Secretary was directed to request the Nazúl Board to undertake the work.

10. The Curator read the Monthly Report for the month of March, 1887.

A. H. PIRIE,
Secretary.

H. S. BOYS,
Offg. President.

31. THE Minutes of last Meeting were read and approved.

Indian History since 1500
A.D., statue of the Marquis of Hastings: by T.
Denman.

ber, 1886.

32. Read again Resolution 2 of Meeting 9 of 1886-87, held on the 24th Novem-

Mr. Constable desired to place on record some additional evidence, confirming conclusively the identification which he had made several years ago of a statue of the Marquis of Hastings, at one time placed on the top of the archway known as "Neill's Gate," which identification was entered at length in para. 10 of the statement recorded in the resolution cited above.

On the 10th November last, Mr. Constable wrote to Messrs.
Henry Graves and Co., the well known print-sellers of Pall Mall, London, describing the statue, and asking them if they could afford any information regarding T. Denman, the sculptor thereof.

Messrs. Graves replied under date of the 14th December, 1886, as follows :—

“Thomas Denman, Sculptor, exhibited at the Royal Academy from 1815 to 1817, and in 1828 he had two works, described in the catalogue as follows :—

No. 1158, Allegorical figure in marble, representing Peace and Justice, forming part of a pedestal for a statue in marble, larger than life size, to be raised at Calcutta in honour of the Marquis of Hastings.”

“We have no doubt that he executed the statue mentioned in your favor. We bought at Christie’s to-day a drawing of the very statue mentioned in the Academy, and we enclose a tracing from the drawing, as it may help you in the matter.”

Mr. Constable here exhibited to the meeting the tracing referred to (and placed on record a copy thereof) and pointed out that it and the statue now in the museum were practically exact counterparts the one of the other, and remarked that it would now be seen that the right hand, mutilated in the statue, held a roll of paper, and not as he had conjectured (vide para. 10 of the statement before alluded to) the plumed hat of a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

The original statue of the Marquis of Hastings, designed by Flaxman, but executed by Denman, signed on the base, “Flaxman invenit : Denman sculpsit,” commissioned by the British inhabitants of Calcutta, was now in the vestibule of the Dalhousie Institute there, and the allegorical figures by Denman adorn the base thereof, as will be seen from the three photographs now placed before the meeting, which to render the case complete had been specially taken for the purpose, as there were no published ones to be had, and would now be placed among the records of the case.

The statue now in the keeping of the Museum, three-quarter life size, is evidently a replica by Denman of the original work in Calcutta, and was probably a present from the Marquis himself to the King of Oudh, or it may be a commission from the Oudh Court direct, and Mr. Constable stated that he was in correspondence with the aged Nawab Ikbal-ud-Dowlah on the subject, and hoped hereafter to be able to place on record the result of his reference.

ORDERED.—To be recorded.

33. Mr. Constable stated that in accordance with the sanction duly granted by competent authority, a memorial tablet, to mark the place where General Neill fell mortally wounded, in the afternoon of the 25th of September, 1857, was nearly ready for erection, and he considered it advisable to place on record a brief summary of the evidence on which he had based his identification of the site for the tablet.

Indian History since 1500
A D., identification of the spot where General Neill was killed.

He would begin by stating that on several occasions he had been privileged to walk over and minutely examine, in company with the late Mr. Kavanagh, V. C., many localities rendered famous for ever by the events of the defence and subsequent relief of Lucknow, and it was on one of such occasions that he had first had his identification of the spot in question founded upon maps, plans, and other records, confirmed by Mr. Kavanagh.

Recently, however, for his own further satisfaction, and to have a written record of the case, he had addressed Colonel Roddy, V C., (who was present when Neill was killed, in the act of giving him, then a Staff Sergeant in Olphert's Battery of Bengal Horse Artillery, an order) recapitulating the evidence on which he based his identification, and enclosing a plan constructed by himself showing the spot. Colonel Roddy in his reply, dated 15th November, 1886, confirmed the identification.

Two months ago, when Colonel Roddy was in Lucknow on duty, Mr. Constable had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of that officer who, on the 5th June, was good enough to accompany him over the route followed by General Neill's section of the relieving force, and he then had had the great satisfaction of having the accuracy of the identification of many of the notable points of the Relief, fully confirmed on the ground by Colonel Roddy, whose memory appears to be most distinct with regard to operations in which he bore no inconsiderable part.

It was a further gratification to Mr. Constable to know that he had been able, by means of contemporary photographs, maps, and other records, to recall to the Colonel's recollection some important places which, owing to demolition of buildings, the growth of trees, the re-alignment of roads, and the alteration of other land-marks, had become faint in his memory ; and by no means the least satisfactory result of the meeting was that the identification of the spot where Neill was killed, and the neighbouring localé of Dooly Square, was confirmed on the spot by the soldier who was at the side of the General when he fell from his horse mortally wounded, and who immediately afterwards mounted on the top of the archway close by and despatched the man who had fired the fatal shot therefrom.

ORDERED.—To be recorded.

34. Mr. Constable stated that in September, 1885, he had written to the Director of the National Portrait Gallery, London, with reference to a miniature Portrait of Sir Henry Lawrence, which that Gallery had acquired in 1884-85 from the Viscount Hardinge, and which was mentioned in a leading article in "The Times" of the 22nd July, 1885, "as the only likeness," and also in the 28th Annual Report of the National Portrait Gallery, where it is stated that "this appears to be the only portrait known of this distinguished "Commander." The attention of the Director of the Gallery was drawn to the engraved portrait in Rees' Narrative of the Siege of Lucknow, Longman's, London, 1858, taken from a photograph done in Lucknow, and mention was made of the photographer by whom the original plate was taken.

In November, 1885, Mr. Constable in his memorandum of suggestions for contributors to the Loan Collection of the Lucknow

Exhibition, of the 2nd December of that year (page 8, section 3), drew attention to portraits of Sir Henry Lawrence, and one of the most pleasing results to him of the issue of the memorandum in question was the discovery of three original photographs of Sir Henry Lawrence, two being contributed by Mr. A. J. Lawrence, B.C.S., a nephew of Sir Henry, and the other by Mr. Luffman of the Oudh Police, which were all duly placed in the Loan Collection. (See Catalogue, pages 35, 36.)

At the close of the Exhibition, permission was accorded to him by Mr. A. J. Lawrence to have the two photographs belonging to that gentleman, and believed to be the only copies now in existence, copied, and he had had this done in December, 1885 (at his own charges), by Mr. Lawrie, Photographer of Lucknow, to a slightly reduced scale, with a very satisfactory result.

The third photograph, a head in the vignette style, considered by many who knew Sir Henry intimately to be the most pleasing and characteristic likeness of all, and hitherto unknown to Mr. A. J. Lawrence and other members of that family, is unfortunately too faded to be reproduced by means of photography, but it is about being copied in monochrome by a first rate European artist, so that a satisfactory record may be preserved of such a valuable historical relic.

In the meantime Mr. Constable had much pleasure in presenting to the Provincial Museum a set of Lawrie's reproductions of the photographs (1 and 2), together with a copy of the engraving by Adlard in Rees (taken from No. 1), with the title page of the "Narrative," all duly mounted and titled.

He further stated that, a short time ago, Mr. A. J. Lawrence also had his photographs copied (somewhat enlarged in size) by Rust, of Allahabad, and had very kindly sent, under date of the 3rd instant, an example of each to the Museum, which Mr. Constable had now much pleasure in handing over, having mounted and titled them. The correspondence regarding the National Portrait Gallery portrait of Sir Henry, and the photographs brought to notice in 1885, was still going on with Lady Edwardes, the Director of the Gallery, and others, and when it was completed a copy would be communicated to the Museum.

ORDERED.—To be recorded.

35. Mr. Constable, with reference to some remarks that were made at the last meeting, to the effect that Reference Library it was apparently unnecessary to order books for the Museum Reference Library that were already in the Station Library, begged leave to supplement and illustrate his contented mode at the last meeting, viz., that many of the books in question in the Station Library, especially those relating to Lucknow, were most imperfect, and in every way unsuited to the purposes of a Reference Library such as the Provincial Museum ought to command. It was needless for him to record in detail all he could say on the subject, and he contented himself by stating that it would always be his aim to advocate the acquisition of none but perfect copies of books, that would be of real use to those who were likely to consult them. In a lending library like the neighbouring station one, many books were, in the course of time, worn out of existence, but it would be different in the Reference Library of the Museum.

He begged to conclude by simply exhibiting to the Meeting the Station Library copies of—

Rees' Narrative,
The defence of Lucknow by a Staff Officer,
Gubbin's Mutinies, Mecham's Sketches,
Dodgson's Views,
Curry and Rice,
Atkinson's Campaign in India, and draw attention to their state as the most practical and direct way of strengthening his position; and he would add that he had merely called for these books at random and had no doubt that there were others in even a worse condition.

ORDERED.—To be recorded.

36. The Secretary read letter No. 256, dated 2nd August, 1878, and No. 253, dated 12th August, 1857, from the Principal, School of Arts, Calcutta, stating that 21 ethnological figures were ready, and forwarding a list for the selection of the 13 remaining to [make up the original order for 34 figures, also requesting an advance of Rs. 2,500.

RESOLVED.—That the advance required be paid and that the following additional list be sent :—

Description.

Baird, Sir David., Lieut.-General, K. C. B., &c. &c. (1757—1829).

An oval mezzotint engraving 4¾" x 3¾" by G. A. Cardon, after the painting by A. J. Olliver, London, 1806.

Also an autograph letter, two pages quarto, dated "West-Cowes, Isle of Wight, 23rd July, 1811," and addressed to A. McDonald, Esq. Writes about money due, and mentions Colonel's allowances for "clothing"—an interesting letter in holograph.

A fine lithograph, 13½" x 10¼" by S. W. Ford, published privately about 1852.

MAPS.

Title.	Description.
Lucknow (a) plan of, and the surrounding country, with an unset plan (b) of the Residency at Lucknow and its defences.	This is the map in Rees' Personal Narrative of the Siege of Lucknow , Longman's, London, 1858, size 19" x 18½" scale of (a) 1,600 feet=1 inch, and of (b) 400 feet=1 inch copper plate engraving, by Edward Weller.

Note.—There are several inaccuracies in the map, probably due to the engraver in London. For instance, the house that used to stand near the present site of Bruce's bridge, on the right bank of the Gumti, is titled "Kaboute Kotia," whereas the "Kabutar-wali-koti" was, and still is, near the Badshah Bagh.

ORDERED.—That the thanks of the Committee be conveyed to Mr. Constable.

39. RESOLVED.—That inquiries be made in Bareilly and Cawnpore for the best carpenters to undertake the work of construction of Art cases.

40. Read letter from Mr. Constable applying to Government for a grant of Rs. 5,000 for the Library.

RESOLVED.—That the Committee thoroughly approve of the application, which the President has kindly consented to forward to the Local Government.

41. Read letter from Mr. Gannon, Secretary to the Station Library, offering the 4 vols. of the Transcript of the Registers of the Company of Stationers of London.

RESOLVED.—That with the sanction of Government the 4 vols. be purchased for the equivalent of 10 guineas in rupees, and that Mr. Gannon be requested to procure the Index volume for the Museum, which will defray the cost.

42. Mr. Constable reported that he had been granted three months' privilege leave to Europe, and this would in all probability be the last Committee Meeting he would have the pleasure of attending for some time.

He would add that, as already recorded elsewhere, he hoped to be able during his stay at home to bring to a successful termination negotiations regarding various Museum matters connected with his own department which had been under correspondence from some time.

He had arranged to keep his present Library Assistant fully employed during his absence, and before leaving would leave a note on some points with the Honorary Secretary.

ORDERED.—To be recorded.

43. The Curator read the report of July, 1887.

A. H. PIRIE,

Secretary.

H. B. HEDERSTEDT,

For President.

After full discussion the annexed draft budget was agreed to.

47. With reference to Resolution 25 of Meeting 3, dated 28th July, 1887, it was resolved that the terms of North-Western Provinces Government letter No. $\frac{3667}{X-623}$ of 15th July, 1887, relating to the construction of an overbridge be brought to the notice of President, Nazúl Committee.

Deputy Commissioner, Simla.—Returns the catalogue sent with the circular, and states that he is unable to help in the matter of collecting birds for the Museum.

ORDERED.—To be recorded.

69. Read again Resolution 55, Meeting 6, dated 3rd November, 1887, recording sanction to a special grant of Rs. 2,500 for the purchase of books for the Reference Library.

OF
THE N.-W. P. AND OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM, LUCKNOW,
FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

No. 10.

THE 31ST MARCH, 1888.

PRESENT :

COLONEL G. E. ERSKINE, BO. CAV.	President.
COLONEL M. TWEEDIE, BO. S. C.	} Members.
MR. A. CONSTABLE
„ GEO. BEID
„ A. H. PIRIE,	Secretary.
DR. A. FÜHRER, PH. D.	Curator.

85. THE minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

86. Read letter No. 94, dated 18th March, 1888, from Dr. A. Führer, Ph. D., Curator of the Provincial Museum, and Assistant Archæological Surveyor, North-Western Provinces and Oudh Circle, asking that his salary in connection with the Museum be raised to Rs. 250, which amount he is in receipt of from the Archæological Department, and that he be granted powers as full Curator.

RESOLVED :—That Government be asked to sanction the increase of Dr. Führer's salary to Rs. 250 per mensem, with effect from April 1st, 1888, and that the Committee confirm Dr. Führer's full powers as Curator [vide Resolution 2 of Meeting 2 of 29th May, 1885.]

87. The Secretary reported the receipt of Rs. 1,200, annual contribution to the Provincial Museum, from the Lucknow Municipal Board, and of Rs. 77 from the Municipal and District Boards of Hardoi.

88. Read again Resolution 42, Meeting 4, of 1st September, 1887.

Mr. Constable reported that, on the 24th November last, when at the British Museum, he had been very kindly granted an interview with the Principal Librarian and Secretary, Dr. E. A. Bond, C. B., who, in the course of conversation, stated that he believed that the Trustees of the British Museum would be willing to grant to the Provincial Museum copies of all their publications, were they to receive an official application for the same.

Dr. Bond had further stated that such application might be made to him direct, or, better still, through the Local Government, the Government of India, and the Secretary of State for India; and Mr. Constable begged to propose that such an application be made.

Colonel H. Yule, of the Secretary of State's Council, had also intimated to Mr. Constable that the India Office would be prepared to consider favorably any application that the Provincial Museum might make for the grant to them of copies of the various publications, either subscribed for or issued by the Secretary of State for India.

It was further proposed that the Provincial Museum apply to the Comptroller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office for a copy of every Parliamentary Blue-book as issued, as it was believed that such publication would form a very useful section of the Museum Reference Library.

RESOLVED.—That Mr. Constable be thanked for his exertions in the cause of the Museum Library, and that an application be sent to the Local Government asking their assistance in procuring—

- (1) Catalogues and publications of the British Museum.
- (2) Copies of works published by, or subscribed for, by the India Office.
- (3) Copies of Parliamentary Blue-books.

89. Read again Resolution 34, Meeting 4, of 1st September, 1887.

Mr. Constable reported that, when in Germany last year, he had been able to arrange for an enlarged copy in crayon of the vignette photograph of Sir Henry Lawrence, and he hoped that the result, taking into consideration the great difficulty of copying the photograph, owing to its very faded condition, would be considered satisfactory.

This copy had cost £5, and would be placed among the other portraits of Sir Henry already in the possession of the Museum.

By the courtesy of Mr. Scharf, the Director of the National Portrait Gallery in London, Mr. Constable had been permitted to examine closely the portrait of Sir H. Lawrence in that collection, which he found to be, as he had anticipated, the work of a Delhi artist. After leaving the National Portrait Collection (temporarily deposited in the Bethnal Green Museum) he made a search in some old print shops in Long Acre, and in one of them discovered three copies of an engraving, published in 1851, of the portrait now in the National Collection, one copy of which he had given to Mr. Scharf, to whom it was previously unknown, and he had now pleasure in presenting a duplicate to the Provincial Museum.

RESOLVED.—That Mr. Constable's action be confirmed, and that he be thanked for his present of the print by Bentley of Sir H. Lawrence's Delhi portrait.

90. The Assistant Curator's reports for January and February, which had been circulated with the notice, were taken as read.

A. FÜHRER, PH. D,
Curator and Offg. Secretary.

OF
THE N.-W. P. & OUDH PROVINCIAL MUSEUM, LUCKNOW,
FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

No. $\frac{T}{139}$ G.M., dated the 1st July, 1888.

From—LIEUT.-COLONEL D. G. PITCHER, Offg. Director of Land Records and Agriculture, N.-W. P. and Oudh,
To—Chief Secretary to Government, N.-W. P. and Oudh.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit, for the information of the Local Government, the Annual Report of the Provincial Museum Committee, Lucknow, for the year ending 31st March, 1888.

2. Establishment and financial.—Deducting receipts, which consist for the most part of contributions from municipalities, the net cost to Government amounted to Rs. 20,551. There were no changes of importance in the establishment; but the staff for watch and ward appears scarcely strong enough for the duty of protecting such valuable collections as the Museum now possesses.

3. Collections and contributions.—Very large additions, amounting in all, including books, to 6,698 items, were made to the various Departments during the year, partly by purchase or through the Museum staff, and partly through the generosity of private contributors. The rapidity with which the collections are thus augmenting tends to delay the issue of catalogues. The one for the Bird collection has already to be revised, and those for other sections are still under preparation. The long promised Ethnological collection of life-size typical figures illustrating the various races of India was received from Calcutta during the year and has greatly added to the attractions of the Museum. A very large collection illustrating the Economic Products of these Provinces, and prepared in Calcutta, may also be noted amongst new acquisitions, as well as a very fine collection of photographs of the Ajunta Cave Paintings, kindly presented by the Bombay Government. The important work of replacing the old and unsuitable show-cases with new ones of improved pattern made satisfactory progress; when completed, the exhibits will show to far greater advantage than at present.

4. Artwork sales.—This section of the Museum has maintained its popularity, as evidenced by the amount of sales, Rs. 5,496. As pointed out in the report, great difficulties are experienced in meeting all orders received, owing to the want of punctuality on the part of the workmen, and to the constant watch that has to be exercised to prevent inferior ware being palmed off at high prices.

5. Exhibitions.—The Committee commenced this year to relieve this Department of the task of collecting representative Provincial collections for exhibitions, commencing with one for Glasgow, which comprised 2,520 specimens, of the value of upwards of Rs. 19,000. In making these collections the Committee received considerable aid from municipal and from private sources.

6. Attendance.—The number of visitors, as estimated by the door-keepers, amounted to 255,528—an apparent falling off against the number for the previous year. The self-registering turnstile which has now been fixed will, in future, give accurate returns.

7. In conclusion, I beg to submit that the report affords satisfactory evidence of energetic and successful management by the Committee, deserving of the acknowledgments of Government.

No. 210, dated Lucknow, the 21st June, 1888.

From—COLONEL G. E. ERSKINE, President, Provincial Museum Committee, Lucknow,

To—Director of Land Records and Agriculture, North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

SIR,—I have the honor to submit the following report on the administration of the Provincial Museum, Lucknow, during the twelve months ending on the 31st March, 1888, for the information of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and Chief Commissioner of Oudh :—

1. Committee of Management.—Incidental to the transfer of officers, the Committee has undergone the following changes during the year. In the beginning of March last, the Hon'ble M. A. McConaghey, C.S., on taking charge as Inspector-General of Police, was succeeded by Colonel G. E. Erskine as Commissioner and ex-officio President. The vacancies created by departure to Europe, in September last, of Colonel J. Haughton, R.A., and by transfer, in March last, of Mr. H. S. Boys, C.S., as Officiating Commissioner to Sitapur, have remained unfilled at the close of the year. Meetings have been held regularly on the last Thursday of every month, except in May and October, when there was no important business. The average attendance at each Meeting was seven members, besides the Curator, respectively Assistant Curator.

2. Ordinary Members and Corresponding Secretaries.—Thákur Raghlir Singh, Taluqdar of Hasnapur, Rae Bareilly district, was elected ordinary Member in room of his deceased father, Thákur Visvanath Singh. No additions have been made to the list of corresponding Secretaries.

3. Establishment.—Dr. A. Führer held charge of the Curatorship, except while on tour as Assistant Archaeological Surveyor, viz., from 20th November, 1887 till the 15th March, 1888, when Bábu Gangadhar Ganguli, the Assistant Curator, officiated in charge. In December, 1887, Pandit Balgovind Dikshit was selected for the post of Assistant Librarian. One farrash and the head taxidermist died of cholera in July and November last, respectively. That the present staff of chaprásis at the disposal of the Curator is quite insufficient for the protection of the many valuable exhibits in the Lál Báradari and Farhat Bakhsh buildings is illustrated by the fact that during the year two thefts were committed in broad daylight, resulting in the loss of Government property valued at Rs 48-8-0. Though the police authorities were informed in time, they were unable to trace the culprits. Of the five chaprásis sanctioned, one is employed as orderly of the Secretary, another has to attend to office and sale-room, leaving thus only three men for the watch of the various collections displayed in the two buildings, which are separated from one another by a road. Notorious pickpockets disguised as chaperons seem to select the Museum as the field of their operations, as on one occasion the chaprâsi in charge of the upper floor of the Lal Baradari apprehended a Muhammadan in the act of removing some money from the hizyani of a visitor whose attention the guide had previously directed to the display of some pretty birds in a glass-case. This shows that the chaprâsis are not wanting either in vigilance or intelligence.

A nominal-roll of the officers and servants in the employ of the Committee is given in Appendix A.

4. Museum.—Large additions have been made to the different collections during the past year, namely, 5,540. The following is a classified summary of the specimens received :—

Zoological	1,598
Artistic	315
Ethnological	34
Archaeological	126
Numismatic	1,651
Geological	16
Economic	2,400
Total				5,540

Of this total, 124 specimens were obtained by purchase, 1,127 zoological specimens were procured by the Museum collectors, and 3,979 were presented to the Museum. Appendices B and C are nominal lists of the donors, with the classification of their respective donations, to the Museum.

Natural History Section.—The specimens received into the Natural History Section are thus classed :—

Mammalia	21
Aves	945
Aves' eggs	91
Reptilia	15
Pisces	1
Insecta	525
Total				1,598

Of this total, 111 specimens were purchased, 350 were obtained by donation, and 1,137 were collected by the Museum shikáris. Two hundred and thirty-seven specimens have been mounted and prepared by the taxidermists for exhibition in the Museum. A revised catalogue of the birds, including all the many new additions made since the 1st January, 1886, is being prepared by Mr. G. Reid.

Art Section.—During the year 315 specimens were added, of which 82 were donations. The additions comprised inlaid marbleware, pottery, and lacquered wares from Agra; ivory paintings, silk fabrics, gold embroidery, and kamkhwáb from Benares; silk handkerchiefs, a carved and gilt box, carved soapstone figures, brass and marble images of Buddha from Burma; cloths of various designs and inlaid ivory work from Chanderi, Gwalior State; carved soapstone figures from Garhwál; brassware and Sambhar embroidery from Gorakhpur; peasant jewellery and carved soapstone images from Jhánsi; muslin, chikan work, gold embroidery, enamels, silverware, bidri, old brass and metalware, besides a carved doorway from Lucknow; ebony from Nagína; pottery from Madras, Bombay, Multán, Dehli, Rámpur, Khurja and Azamgarh; and cotton prints from Fatehpur, Bulandshahr and Páriáwan (Partálgarh district).

During the year the Department for the sale of artware has maintained its popularity with the purchasing public. The total sales amounted to Rs. 5,496-3-3, leaving a profit of Rs. 19-13-6 to the Museum. There can be no doubt that the great apathy and want of punctuality on the part of the native artizans is a serious drawback to the fair development of this useful branch of the Museum. Besides, great difficulties are experienced in checking the endeavours made by some manufacturers, especially by those who place their goods on commission sale, to palm off articles of inferior quality at higher prices than those current in the bazárs. This Department has also been useful in supplying a representative collection of Provincial artware to the Glasgow Exhibition. At the instance of Mr. T. N. Mukharji, of the Bengal Economic Museum, acting on behalf of Messrs. Finlay, Muir & Co., the Secretary, Assistant Curator and Munshi Chhote Lal undertook the collection of artwares of the United Provinces for the Glasgow International Exhibition.

Based on the limited funds available for the purpose, the cost of a representative collection of the important art manufactures of these Provinces was estimated at Rs. 6,445, which sum was placed at the disposal of the Secretary by Messrs. Finlay, Muir & Co. This amount being found insufficient to secure an adequate representation of the Provincial handicrafts at Glasgow, the leading Municipal Boards in the Provinces were invited to co-operate in the undertaking, and endeavours were made to induce private dealers to exhibit on their account, for whom the terms appeared more favourable than those conceded on previous occasions. Although the action of the Local Committee in this respect did not meet with uniform success, the collections which came forth from municipal and private sources amply supplied what could not be procured with the limited funds placed at their disposal by the Executive Committee. Altogether 2,930 exhibits have been sent to the Exhibition from these Provinces, of the value of Rs. 19,071-13-7. Appendix G gives the number and value of the contributions under each class.

Archæological Section.—There have been 126 additions to this section during the year, of which 91 were presented and 35 purchased. The most valuable additions are two Chandella inscriptions of Paramardin (Parmal), dated Samvat 1200 and 1240, and a statue of Adinatha, dated Samvat 1219, from Mahoba; three Chandella inscriptions, viz., of Kirtivarman Deva, Salla-kshanavarman Deva (both undated), and of Viravarman Deva I, dated Samvat 1328, from Jhānsi; an inscribed slab of Lakhanapāla discovered in the old walls of the Budaun fort; an inscribed slab of Mubarak Shah I of Delhi, dated A.H. 716, and two exquisitely carved pilasters of the Gupta period, rescued from the main gate of the fort at Dalmau; an inscribed millstone, dated Samvat 1666, from Partābgarh; a copperplate inscription of Harshavardhana of Sthanesvara, the modern Thanesar, dated Harshasamvat 25, or A.D. 632, from Madhuban in the Azamgarh district; a copperplate inscription of Govindachandra Deva of Kanauj, dated Samvat 1208 from Bangama in the Bara Banki district; a marble statue of Mahaviranatha, and a representation of the seven divine mothers (Sapta mātri mandalam) from Dūbkund in the Gwalior State; six statues of Adinatha, dated Samvat 1018, 1114, 1205, 1221, 1223, and 1230 ; and the upper part of an octagonal pillar, with representations of eight women engaged in a lively dance (râsa mandalam) from Asè Khera in the Etâwah district ; 26 baked Buddhist votive tablets, six baked clay seals, and a unique Buddhist clay medal, inscribed with the Buddhist creed formula in characters of the VIIIth century, excavated from the ruined mound inside the fort of Mordhaj (Mayuradhvaja) in the Bijnor district ; two inscribed Buddhist clay seals of the VIIIth century from Pakhna Bihar in the Farukhabad district ; a flask-shaped finial of a Buddhist stupa from Bulandshahr ; several large inscribed bricks of the VIIIth century from Mati in the Shâhjahânpur district ; fragments of glazed pottery from Gola Raipur in the Shâhjahânpur district ; a large collection of enamelled beads, and a few images of soapstone excavated at the ancient site of Kausambi ; a beautifully carved ceiling-stone of a Buddhist Vihara with an inscription of the Indo-Scythian period, and a square pilaster, adorned with decorated panels, excavated at the ancient site of Ahichhatra ; a relic casket of crystal, excavated from the Chaubara mound at Mathura ; a collection of sculptured door-jambs, pillars, and pilasters of an old temple of Vishnu, called Harimandira, rescued from the east gate of the Jami Masjid at Budaun, and a typical collection of ornamented bricks of the early Musalmân period from the Jami Masjid at Budaun. Several of the inscriptions have been published in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal for 1837, and the remaining will appear in the forthcoming numbers of the Archæological Record. The detailed and classified catalogue of the Buddhist, Jain, and Brahminical sections has been revised up to date, and each archæological exhibit has been provided with a descriptive ticket in English, Urdu and Hindi protected by a glass-frame.

Numismatic section.—The coins received have been as follows :—

				Gold.	Silver.	Copper.

Total			...	24	148	879

Of the gold coins 10 are of Kumaragupta Mahendra of six different types, six of Chandragupta II of three different types, four of Gangeya Déva of Chhedi, one of Chandella Viravarman Déva I, one of Narapala Déva of Rewa, and two of Govindachandra Déva of Kanauj. Of the silver coins, 15 are of the earliest Hindu period, 10 of the Indo-Bakhtrian period, 12 of the Indo-Sassanian period, six of the Varaha dynasty, 10 of Vighrahapala of Magadha, six of Muhammad-bin-Same, six of Ghias-ud-din Balban, seven of Muiz-ud-din Kaikobad, one of Ala-ud-din Muhammad Shah I, eight of Sher Shah, 11 of Islam Shah, five of Akbar, one of Jehangir, two of Shah Jahan, four of Aurangzeb, one of Alam Shah, two of Alamgir II, seven of Shah Alam Jalal-ud-din, and 26 British and Indian war medals. The copper coins comprise 257 Buddhist (inscribed), 41 of the Mittra dynasty, 306 Indo-Bakhtrian, 72 Indo-Scythian, one of Gangeya Déva of Chhedi, 199 Musalmán, two Burmese, and one Nipálese. A list of donors is given in Appendix C. The coin catalogue has not yet been issued from the press, owing to the slow process of autotyping the typical specimens, and to the necessity of including all new additions.

Ethnological Section.—A most attractive and interesting addition to the Ethnological Section are 34 life-size models of different race types of India, prepared by the Calcutta School of Art, and presented by Her Highness the Maháráni of Balrámpur. They represent a Sikh of Amritsar (male), a Rájput of Panjáb (male), a Santal of Bengal (male), two Minas of Jaipur (male and female), two Bhils of Marwar (male and female), a Garhwali (male), a Bundela of the North-Western Provinces (male), a Kachbanda of Saháranpur (male), a Tháru of Oudh (male), two Garos (male and female), two Mikirs (male and female), a Miri-Hill (male), a Chuli-kata Mishmi (male), two Daphlas (male and female), an Angami Nága, a Banfera Nága, a Lota Nága (males), a Khasia, a Jaintia (females), a Lushai (male) of Assam, two Andamanese (male and female), a Nicobarese (male), a Bghai Karen, a Gecko Karen (males), a Paku Karen (female) of Burma, two Burmese (male and female), and a Khas of Nipál (male).

Economic Section.—The additions to the Economic Section comprise a collection of 2,330 specimens of Economic Products of these Provinces in 194 tin cases, prepared by the Revenue and Agricultural Department of the Government of India, and presented by the Local Government ; 40 specimens of hill grasses and ferns, presented by Colonel J. Haughton ; 25 herbarium specimens collected in the Alps of Switzerland, presented by Colonel C. A. Dodd ; and two samples of grains presented by Colonel D. G. Pitcher.

Miscellaneous Sections.—The palæontological, mineralogical and geological sections received two spherical concretions of iron pyrites and three fossil thigh-bones of an elephant found in the Niti pass of Garhwál, a fossil shell and a piece of quartz from Tibet, presented by Mr. J. S. Campbell, C. S.; four specimens of petrified leaves from the glaciers of Kumaun, presented by Mr. DeMarsac ; three specimens of petrified wood from Naini Tal, presented by Colonel J. Haughton ; a specimen of red and green porphyry from the Bánda district, presented by Mr. J. Cockburn, and a specimen of petrified wood from Burma, which was purchased.

5. Library.—The additions to the Library have been as follows :—

Books	214, in 29½ volumes.
Reports	49
Journals and periodicals	176
Catalogues and lists	33
Sanskrit and Pali manuscripts	165
Maps, engravings, portraits, and photographs	521
Total				1,158

Of this total, 76 books, three palm-leaf manuscripts, and 52 periodicals were purchased : the rest having been presented chiefly by the Hon'ble Sir A. C. Lyall, Mr. A. Constable, the Council of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, and various Government Departments. The Bombay Government presented a complete set of 317 photographs of the Ajanta Cave Paintings. The 162 Sanskrit manuscripts treating mostly on Vedic and Jain literature, and written in Devanagari and Sarada characters, were collected by the Assistant Archæological Surveyor, in 1886, in the districts of Jaunpur, Fyzabad, and Gonda, and presented to the Museum by the Local Government in the Public Works Department. Though the Library is open to students since November last, it does not seem to enjoy great public appreciation, as only 20 persons made use of its books. A list of donors is given in Appendix E.

6. Cases and furniture.—The work of replacing the old cases of obsolete designs by new ones has been vigorously carried on during the year. The Natural History Section has received 25 new cases with drawers for study specimens and duplicates of birds, and 16 new pillar cases for the exhibition of set-up specimens of birds and mammals. The Art Section has received 15 new glass-cases with drawers, of the Kensington Museum pattern, for exhibiting delicate fabrics and storing duplicate specimens for sale. The additions to the Library fittings were three tables and two large book almirahs. The new glass-cases with drawers for the Natural History and Art Sections have been constructed in the Museum workshops.

7. Visitors.—The number of visitors as reported by the door-keeper in each month of the year is given in Appendix D. According to his returns, the total number during the year was 285,828, showing thus a decrease of 9,429 against the number of visitors as recorded in the previous year. It is, however, an established fact that no reliance can be placed on the numbers recorded by the door-keeper, as the self-registering turnstile which has been fixed on the 3rd June, 1888, at the entrance door of the Lal Baradari shows that the mathematical calculations arrived at by the chaprasi are wrong in every instance. A reliable return of the visitors to the Museum, commencing with the 3rd June, 1888, can only be submitted with next year's report.

8. Finance.—The receipts of the Museum amounted to Rs. 1,782-8-0, derived from the following sources :—

for 1887-88.]

The whole of the above sum was paid into the treasury to the credit of the Museum. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 22,333-15-6, against the sanctioned allotment of Rs. 22,500. Deducting receipts from the gross expenditure, the net cost to Government for maintaining the Museum for the year under report has been Rs. 20,551-7-6. Appendix F. gives the details of the budget grant and expenditure of 1887-88.

P.S.—I am much indebted to Dr. Führer, the Officiating Secretary, who has drawn up this careful report.

No. $\frac{1078}{1-299}$, (Rev. Dept.), dated Naini Tal, the 31st July, 1888.

From—The Chief Secretary to Government, N.-W. P. and Oudh,
To—The Dir. of Land Records and Agri., N. W. P. and Oudh.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of the report on the Provincial Museum at Lucknow for 1887-88, submitted with your letter No. $\frac{T}{139}$ G.M., dated the 1st July, 1888.

2. I am to express the satisfaction of the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner at the progress which is being made by the Museum, and to convey to the members of the Managing Committee the acknowledgments of the Government for their services.

3. With reference to paragraph 3 of the report, I am to say that proposals for increasing the staff of chaprâsis may be submitted for the consideration of Government; but in submitting them the reasons which led to the reduction of the staff in 1886 should not be overlooked.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner observes that only five municipalities throughout the united provinces contributed during the year towards the support of the Museum, and His Honor looks to the Committee to keep its claims for support before these bodies.

I have the honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

J. R. REID,

Chief Secy. to Govt., N.-W. P. and Oudh.
